CHILDREN'S GROUP

Dear Readers,

Welcome to the Hachette Children's Group 2020 frontlist catalogue.

I'm delighted to introduce you to our cover star, There's a Lion in the Library!, a sparkingly funny re-imagining of The Boy Who Cried Wolf, from debut picture book author, Dave Skinner. The stylish, vintage-inspired artwork is by acclaimed illustrator, Aurélie Guillerey.

Other 2020 picture book highlights include The Goody – a funny and touching new work from former Children's Laureate, Lauren Child. Avocado Asks is a quirky and lovable book about identity and self-confidence from debut author and illustrator, Momoko Abe and the laughter never ends with Oi Frog and Friends in their latest hilarious adventure, from Kes Gray and Jim Field, Oi Aardvark!.

Adult fans of Enid Blyton will be able to introduce younger children to Silky, Moonface and Saucepan Man in the first-ever Magic Faraway Tree picture book, coming this spring, and lovers of Malory Towers will relish books based on the fabulous new TV series, airing on CBBC later this year.

Our fiction list is full of humour, heart and adventure: the fourth and final instalment in the bestselling Wizards of Once series from current Waterstones Children's Laureate, Cressida Cowell; the third heart-warming book from the sensational Onjali Q. Raúf, The Night Bus Hero; and the much-anticipated tenth book in Alex T. Smith's Claude series, Claude at the Palace.

You will be transported to other worlds by Lucy Lapinski's debut The Strangeworlds Travel Agency, and will fall in love with the most magical friendship of the year in Penny Chrimes' debut, the roaring adventure, Tiger Heart. It's with great excitement that we launch Simon Farnaby, well-known family comedy actor and scriptwriter, into the all-important middle-grade humour market. The Wizard in my Shed is a funny adventure with an unexpected historical twist. The accessible writing, page-turning action and plain silliness throughout will appeal to children across the board and we can't wait to introduce readers to Simon's story later this year.

YA readers will be treated to Juno Dawson's compulsive new book, Wonderland, a searing exploration of mental health, gender and privilege, and award-winning Tanya Byrne joins our list with Afterlove, a breathtakingly gothic LGBTQ+ love story. We also have the YA series you've been waiting for since Angus, Thongs and Full-frontal Snogging with

Diary of a Confused Feminist by Kate Weston. Utterly hilarious and boldly honest, Kate's debut novel fearlessly navigates feminism, mental health and #TimesUp.

Our non-fiction list is more inspiring than ever. From Matthew Syed, the bestselling, award-winning author of You Are Awesome, comes the equally inspiring follow-up, Dare to Be You, which features You Are Awesome's trademark mix of hilarious text, stylish illustration, personal insights, and inspiring real-life stories. I'm also delighted to welcome Rashmi Sirdeshpande with her first non-fiction book, Dosh. Rashmi lends young readers her razor-sharp insight into the world of money, empowering them to earn, save, spend, grow and give it effectively. We have the perfect introduction to consent for children and families everywhere with Respect: Consent, Boundaries and Being in Charge of YOU from the co-creator of the viral 'Tea Consent' video, Rachel Brian. The latest title looking at climate change and our environment is the brilliant picture book, A Climate in Chaos, written and illustrated by Neal Layton and featuring his trademark collage style.

We have an excellent track record in creating bestselling and award-winning books for children of all ages and interests, and are extremely proud of our talented authors and illustrators and the dynamic list they have worked with us to create. I know we have something to offer every reader and bookseller.

With our very best wishes for a successful 2020.

Hilary Murray Hill
