Syria's Secret Library

Mike Thomson

London, UK

 @ThomsonRadio

The true story of how a besieged Syrian town found hope.

Down in the basement of a bombed building in Daraya there is a secret library. No signs mark its presence, because in a war zone, books are dangerous.

More than 14,000 books are neatly stacked, arranged according to author and subject. They are checked in and out meticulously. Those within read quietly, drinking tea on comfortable sofas and chairs. For them, the library is a symbol of hope, a symbol of the determination of ordinary people to have a meaningful existence and to rebuild their fractured society.

The Reunion

Guillaume Musso

Paris, France

The No. 1 international bestseller from France's most popular author. A novel of dark secrets and teenage obsessions.

French Riviera, winter 1992.

On a freezing night, nineteen-year-old Vinca Rockwell runs away with Alexis, her philosophy teacher.

No one will ever see them again.

French Riviera, spring 2017.

Thomas, Maxime and Fanny – Vinca's best friends – have not spoken in twenty-five years. But when they receive an invitation to their old school reunion detailing plans for a new gymnasium, they know they must go back one final time.

Because there is a body buried in that building...

...and they're the ones who put it there.

'A glowing, beating heart of a book' Megan Hunter
'Short, lyrical, intense, and with adventurous ambition' Nell Zink

On a hot day in June, a young girl kneels outside a convent, then falls on her face. When the nuns take her in, they name her Dolores.

Dolores adjusts to the rhythm of her new life – to the nuns with wild hairs curling from their chins, the bells that ring throughout the day.

But in the dark, private theatre of her mind are memories – of love motels lit by neon red hearts and a boy called Angelo.

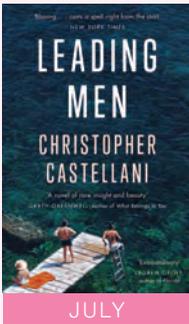

And inside her, a baby is growing.

Leading Men

Christopher Castellani

Boston, USA

A novel of desire and ambition illuminating one of the great love stories of the twentieth century – Tennessee Williams and his longtime partner Frank Merlo.

In July 1953, at a glittering party thrown by Truman Capote in Italy, Tennessee Williams and his longtime lover Frank Merlo meet Anja Blomgren, a mysteriously taciturn young Swedish beauty and aspiring actress.

Their encounter will go on to alter all of their lives.

Like The Master and The Hours, Leading Men seamlessly weaves fact and fiction to navigate the tensions between public figures and their private lives, in a heartbreaking story about the complex negotiations of life in the shadows of greatness.

Scoundrel The Astonishing True Story of Harry Larkyns

Rebecca Gowers

Cambridge, UK

The story of a nineteenth-century scoundrel and his murder at the hands of photographer Eadweard Muybridge, a founding father of cinema.

Major Harry Larkyns is known to history as a swindler and seducer in 1870s California, more famous for his cold-blooded murder at the hands of Eadweard Muybridge, one of the inventors of moving pictures, than his life. Muybridge walked free. How was this possible?

Although he has largely been dismissed as an imposter and a rogue until now, Rebecca Gowers discovers that Larkyn's tall tales were (mostly) true, and that he was hiding more...

Soho

Dan Cruickshank

London, UK

A deeply imaginative, street-by-street and meticulously researched biography of one of London's most vibrant and seductive districts.

Soho – illicit, glamorous, sordid, louche, poverty-stricken, squalid, exhilarating.

The history of Soho is written in its surviving architecture. Dan Cruickshank grants us an intimacy with centuries of rich and varied history as he guides us around the Soho of the last 500 years. We learn of its original aspirations towards respectability, how it became London's bohemian quarter and why it was once home to its criminal underworld. The bars, clubs, theatres and their frequenters are described with detail that evokes the heart of the district.

Inland

Téa Obreht

New York, USA

The literary event of 2019: the new novel by the Orange Prize-winning author of The Tiger's Wife.

After an eight year wait, Inland is the new novel by one of the most 'brilliant' (Sunday Times), 'prodigious' (Guardian) and 'extraordinary' (Vogue) writers of her generation.

This is a book grounded in true but little-known history, focusing on two extraordinary characters: Nora, an unflinching frontierswoman awaiting the return of her husband; and Lurie, a former outlaw haunted by ghosts.

Inland showcases all of Téa Obreht's talents as a writer, as she subverts and reimagines the myths of the American West, making them entirely – and unforgettably – her own.

TÉA OBREHT is the author of the international bestseller The Tiger's Wife, winner of the Orange Prize. Born in Belgrade, in the former Yugoslavia, she currently lives in New York.

We Were Killers Once

Becky Masterman

Arizona, USA

@mastermanbecky

Everyone knows who killed the Clutters. But who murdered the Walker family?

In 1959, the Walker family murders shook Florida. 587 people were considered suspects – but sixty years later the investigation remains unsolved.

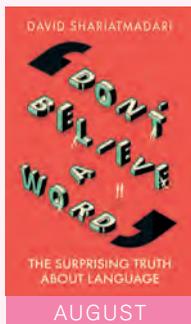

Former FBI agent Brigid Quinn is trying to enjoy life after work. But when the Walker case comes up, she's only too happy to postpone retirement.

Quinn is reluctant to draw comparisons with another case of the time: the Clutter family murders, made infamous by Capote's In Cold Blood. But the similarities are impossible to ignore, and perhaps Perry Smith and Dick Hickock, executed at the time, weren't acting alone – in both cases.

BECKY MASTERMAN was as an editor for a forensic science and law enforcement press. Her debut, Rage Against the Dying, was a finalist for the Edgars and CWA Gold Dagger.

Silver, Sword and Stone The Story of Latin America in Three Extraordinary Lives

Marie Arana

Washington DC, USA

mariearana.net

 @aranama

A thousand years of Latin American history, told through the three obsessions that have held the region tightly in its grip.

Silver, Sword and Stone is a vivid, impeccably researched narrative history of a continent with a tumultuous but little-understood past, told through three modern lenses. The first, precious metal, consumed Spain in its relentless conquest and has become Latin America's future hope. The second is the culture of violence: from the Aztec and Inca empires through the nineteenth-century wars of independence to state terrorism and drug wars. The third, embodied in temples, cathedrals, or piles of rock, is the region's fervent adherence to religious institutions.

We Need New Stories

Nesrine Malik

London, UK

 @NesrineMalik

A radical and thought-provoking polemic which examines the foundational myths at the centre of current culture wars.

Do women mistake access for arrival? Has political correctness been weaponised to avoid ceding space to those excluded from power? Is whiteness an identity with barriers to entry? Nesrine Malik applies her uniquely sharp intellect to a range of myths around gender equality, free speech, identity politics, virtuous origin and the white male intellectual used to maintain the status quo. As the centre ground is being eroded, she challenges us to find new narrators whose stories can fill the void and unite us behind a shared progressive vision.

The Ambassadors

Robert Cooper

London, UK

Who were the great diplomats of history – and what can their achievements tell us about the most important issues of our time?

History does not run in straight lines. It is made by men and women and by accident. Instead of inevitable progress, what we get is more often false starts, random events and good intentions that go wrong. This book is a vivid history of diplomacy: it focuses on the concrete, looking where problems, personalities and ideas meet. And, through examinations of key diplomatic events, including discussions on the slave trade and the Cuban Missile Crisis, looks at how diplomacy has shaped our modern world.

A biography of the ancient goddess Venus/Aphrodite by bestselling historian and broadcaster, Bettany Hughes.

Through ancient art, evocative myth, exciting archaeological revelations and philosophical explorations, Bettany Hughes shows why this immortal goddess endures through to the twenty-first century, and what her journey through time reveals about what matters to us as humans.

This mythological figure is so much more than nudity, romance and sex. Hers is both the remarkable story of one of antiquity's most potent forces, and the story of human desire – how it transforms who we are and how we behave.

Translated and Introduced by
Paul Auster

New York, USA

@PetitWTC

PhilippePetitArtist

The star of Man on Wire offers a meditation on the ecstasy of conquering our fears and reaching for the stars.

In this poetic handbook, world-famous high-wire artist Philippe Petit offers a window into the world of tightrope walking. Petit masterfully explains how preparation and self-control contributed to such feats as walking between the towers of Notre Dame and the World Trade Center. Addressing such topics as the rigging of the wire, the walker's first steps, his salute and exercises, and the work of other renowned high-wire artists, Petit offers us a book about the ecstasy of conquering our fears and reaching for the stars.

PHILIPPE PETIT is a French high-wire artist whose celebrated walk between the Twin Towers was the subject of the Academy Award-winning documentary Man on Wire and the feature film The Walk.

Who Loses, Who Wins

The Journals of Kenneth Rose: Volume Two 1979–2014

Kenneth Rose

Author deceased

The journals of one of the most astute observers of the Establishment in mid-twentieth-century Britain.

Rose's impeccable social placement located him within the beating heart of the national elite for decades. Relentless observation and a self-confessed difficulty 'to let a good story pass me by' made Rose a legendary social commentator, with an impressive breadth of interests.

The second volume of his journals vividly portrays some of the most important events and people of the end of the last century, and the early years of the twenty-first, starting with Margaret Thatcher's first General Election win in 1979.

KENNETH ROSE was born in 1924. He entered journalism in 1951 and started his 'Albany at Large' column in 1961 for the Sunday Telegraph. He died in 2014, writing his journal to the end.

Motherwell

Deborah Orr

London, UK

 @DeborahJaneOrr

A sharp, unflinching memoir about the long shadow cast when the core relationship in your life compromises every effort you make to become an individual.

When Deborah Orr left Motherwell – the town she both loved and hated – for university, her mother, Win, railed against the decision. Win had little agency in the world, every choice determined by the men in her life. And strangely, she wanted the same for her daughter. But while she managed to escape, Deborah's severing from her family was superficial. She continued to travel back to Motherwell, fantasizing about the day that Win might come to accept her as good enough. Though, of course, it was never meant to be.

An explosive popular science book that challenges the idea that we are all discrete individuals, physically, psychologically and culturally.

The Self Delusion makes the bold claim that our idea of the indivisible individual is in fact false:

- ◊ Most of our 37.2 trillion cells are made anew every few weeks
- ◊ Our molecules have been component parts of countless other organisms
- ◊ Our bodies are more than half non-human
- ◊ And our thoughts and actions mainly originate from other people

Tom Oliver explains that we have a better chance of facing the challenges ahead if we can instead understand the complex connections between us.

The hilarious spoof tie-in to two-time BAFTA award-winning BBC comedy, This Country.

This Country documents the day-to-day lives of young cousins Kerry and Lee 'Kurtan' Mucklowe, who live in a small village in the Cotswolds. Filmed in the same mockumentary style as The Office, the show follows them as they interact with the other residents of the village, including the local vicar (and one time eighties popstar), Reverend Francis Seaton and self-confessed peeper and bookies 'favourite' for Worst Father in Britain, Martin Mucklowe.

Now, this autumn, to coincide with the show moving to a primetime slot on BBC One, comes the first official tie-in. In keeping with the mockumentary style of the show, and in the style of the very best TV comedy books such as An Idiot Abroad, the book is wholly original and an 'in world' tie-in as a parody of local parish newsletter.

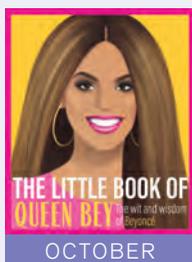

DAISY MAY COOPER and CHARLIE COOPER are the writers and stars of the BBC BAFTA Award-winning show This Country.

A beautiful hardback edition of the classic The Tombs of Atuan, the second book of Earthsea. The perfect addition to any library. With illustrations by Charles Vess.

Tenar is chosen as high priestess to the ancient and nameless Powers of the Earth, and everything is taken from her – home, family, possessions, even her name. She is now known only as Arha, the Eaten One, and guards the shadowy, labyrinthine Tombs of Atuan.

Then a wizard, Ged Sparrowhawk, comes to steal the Tombs' greatest hidden treasure, the Ring of Erreth-Akbe. Tenar's duty is to protect the Ring, but Ged possesses the light of magic and tales of a world that Tenar has never known. Will Tenar risk everything to escape from the darkness that has become her domain?

The Ankh-Morpork Archives

Terry Pratchett

Deceased

A comprehensive guide to the enigmatic capital city of Terry Pratchett's Discworld, getting to the heart of Ankh-Morpork's secrets, societies and guilds.

Think you know Ankh-Morpork? Think again.

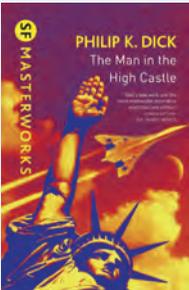

In this top-secret guide, travellers will receive a first-hand experience of the real city. If you've ever wondered where Unseen University students whet their whistles (while managing to avoid their teachers doing the same), or exactly what the Assassins' Guild constitutes a true and proper means of inhumation – there are standards to be upheld, after all – then this is the book for you.

Just don't let a member of the Thieves' Guild catch you with this. They won't appreciate their ways and means being flogged behind their backs. Flogging's their job, after all.

SIR TERRY PRATCHETT is a publishing phenomenon. Among his many prizes and citations are the World Fantasy Life Achievement Award, the Carnegie Medal, the BSFA Award, eight honorary doctorates and, of course, a knighthood.

The Man in the High Castle

Philip K. Dick

Deceased

From the visionary creator of Blade Runner, and now made into the hit Amazon series The Man in the High Castle, executive produced by Ridley Scott.

It is 1962 and the Second World War has been over for seventeen years: people have now had a chance to adjust to the new order. The Mediterranean has been drained to make farmland, the population of Africa has virtually been wiped out and America has been divided between the Nazis and the Japanese. Somewhere lives the man in the high castle, the author of an underground bestseller, a vision offering an alternative theory of world history in which the Axis powers didn't win the war.

PHILIP K. DICK published his first short story in 1952. His many novels include Ubik, A Scanner Darkly, Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep? and Flow My Tears, the Policeman Said.

A unique protagonist, killer twist and chilling atmosphere – for fans of The Woman in Black and The Silent Companions.

1904. Forensic photographer Thomas Bexley is called to the remote Welsh village of Dinas Powys. A young girl called Betsan Tilny has been found murdered. But the crime scene appears staged, and the locals are reluctant to help.

As the strange case unfolds, Thomas senses a growing presence watching him. Then one night he develops the photographs from the crime scene and finds a face dimly visible; a face hovering around the body of the dead girl – the face of Betsan Tilny.

Born in Dinas Powys, SAM HURCOM studied Philosophy, has had several short stories published and has written and illustrated several children's books. A Shadow on the Lens is Sam's debut novel.

A ten-week programme that will rewire your body's baseline response to stress by working specifically with the heart.

In this ground-breaking book Dr Leah Lagos explains that it's not your thoughts that are causing stress hormones to flood your system, or a lack of mindfulness that's creating your erratic heart rate and breathing pattern. It's the way your body is hard-wired to react to stress.

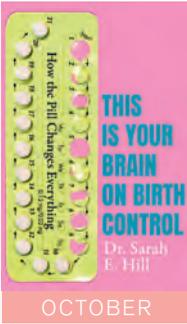

Based on the latest science on heart rate variability, Dr Lagos has developed a life-changing programme, which has helped thousands of her patients to control their heart rhythms and rewire their bodies' baseline response to stress.

This is Your Brain on Birth Control

Dr Sarah E. Hill

Texas, USA
sarahehill.com

A groundbreaking book that reveals, for the first time, the crucial information every woman taking hormonal birth control needs to know.

Hormonal contraception is something most women will use in their lifetime, yet whilst the physical and mental effects go far beyond its purpose, there has been very little research conducted around this. But expert psychologist Dr Hill is changing that. In this trailblazing book she explains how the Pill and other forms of contraception can cause changes to our personalities, our brains, possibly even our mate selection, and much more besides. With this book, women will finally have all the facts they should have been given in the doctor's surgery – because we all deserve to make informed choices about our bodies.

Remembered Forever

Luke & Ryan Hart

Surrey, UK
cocoawareness.co.uk
@CoCoAwareness

A devastating story of coercive control, domestic abuse and brutal murder. Why would an 'ordinary' father murder his family?

On 19 July 2016, Claire and Charlotte Hart were murdered in broad daylight, by the family's father using a sawn-off shotgun. He then committed suicide.

Luke and Ryan Hart, the two surviving sons, open up about their experiences growing up in a coercive household. They hope to highlight the patterns of behaviour of domestic abuse, and its deadly consequences, improving public awareness and leading to informed discussion on this mostly deadly of abuses.

LUKE and RYAN HART founded Coercion and Control Awareness (CoCo Awareness) in memory of their mother and sister, and to raise awareness and speak out against male violence towards females.

Roxanne van Iperen

The Netherlands
roxanevaniperen.nl
 @pleitschrijver

The life-affirming, true story of female bravery, Jewish Nazi resistance and surviving the horrors of Auschwitz.

During the Second World War, two Jewish sisters – Janny and Lien Brilleslijper – ran one of the largest hideaways in the Netherlands: The High Nest.

After Roxanne and her family moved into The High Nest in 2012 she spent six years writing and piecing together its story through the eyes of two strong women who were part of the Dutch Jewish resistance and survivors of the Nazi death camp.

The author's novelistic eye combined with her rigorous research result in a hugely compelling portrayal of human resilience.

ROXANNE VAN IPEREN lives in The High Nest and has spent the last decade investigating its history and also the lives – and fates – of the people who lived and hid there.
