DAUGHTERS OF SPARTA

A Vivid and Illuminating Reimagining of the Siege of Troy, Perfect For Readers of Circe and Ariadne

Claire Heywood

Two sisters parted. Two women blamed.
Two stories reclaimed.

As princesses of Sparta, Helen and Klytemnestra have known nothing but luxury. However, their destinies are not theirs to command. While still young girls they are separated and married off to legendary foreign kings Agamemnon and Menelaus. Their duty is now to give birth to the heirs society demands and be the meek queens their men expect. But when the weight of their husbands' neglect, cruelty and ambition becomes too heavy to bear, they must push against the constraints of their sex to carve new lives for themselves – and in doing so make waves that will ripple throughout the next three thousand years.

Claire Heywood is a scholar of the ancient world, having gained a 1st Class BA in Classical Civilisation and an MA with Distinction in Ancient Visual and Material Culture, from the University of Warwick. She is a former professional tour guide at the Roman Baths museum in Bath. Her deep understanding of the ancient world, coupled with her fascination with women's forgotten voices, inspired her to write this, her debut novel.

MAKE UP BREAK UP

Lily Menon

The sparkling and heartfelt romantic comedy debut from Lily Menon.

Annika Dev believes in love and fairy-tale endings. Her app, Make Up, helps couples believe in these things too. Hudson Craft believes in fast cars and high efficiency break-ups. His app, Break Up, helps people expedite their failing relationships – everything that Annika hates. Which wouldn't be a problem if they'd gone their separate ways after their summer fling. Unfortunately, they are both competing at the prestigious EPIC investment pitch contest. As the two rivals clash, Annika finds that she enjoys sparring with Hudson way too much. And that underneath his shallow exterior, he might not be all that despicable . . .

Lily Menon has always loved romantic comedies. Her first love story, written at age nine, was about a handsome young boy who wooed the heroine with books, chocolates and a fat puppy. Now Lily lives with her own handsome boy in the mountains of Colorado. When she's bored, Lily also masquerades as New York Times bestselling YA author Sandhya Menon. Make Up Break Up is her first adult romance.

But fate has other plans for Thomas Peach.

Jas Treadwell is – a phantom – a cipher – a mere NAME, assumed like a mask! and signifying, nothing at all –

THE GREAT TROLL WAR

The Last Dragonslayer Chronicles

Jasper Fforde

The final instalment of the Last Dragonslayer Chronicles, demonstrating that with a small band of committed followers, a large tin of resolve and steely determination, almost anything can be achieved...

Sixteen-year-old Jennifer Strange and her rebels have been driven to the tip of Cornwall by the Troll invasion. Their one defence is a six-foot-wide trench full of buttons, something that the Trolls find unaccountably terrifying (it's their clickiness). Worse than being eaten by Trolls is the prospect of the Mighty Shandar requisitioning the Quarkbeast and using him to achieve supreme power and domination – which will ultimately leave the Earth a cold cinder, devoid of all life. Nothing has ever looked so bleak, but Jennifer must find a way to vanquish the most powerful wizard the world has ever seen.

Jasper Fforde spent 20 years in the film business before debuting on the New York Times bestseller list with The Eyre Affair in 2001. Since then he has written another 12 novels, including the Number One Sunday Times bestseller One of our Thursdays is Missing, and the Last Dragonslayer series, adapted for television by Sky. Fforde lives and works in his adopted nation of Wales.

SAYING GOODBYE TO TUESDAY

Chrissie Manby

A funny and heart-warming new novel from bestselling author Chrissie Manby.

Stupendo knows he is a very lucky dog. His life with Tuesday and baby William is the best he could dream of. But what Stupendo doesn't know is that last week he was killed by a car outside his home. And no one knows why Stupendo has remained behind on earth, invisible to humans, yet unable to move on. Slowly coming to terms with his recent death, Stupendo realises it's never too late to learn some new truths. Like why so many of the humans in his neighbourhood aren't as happy as they could be. Or what really happened to cause the accident on the night he died . . .

Chrissie Manby is the author of 25 romantic comedies including A Proper Family Holiday and The Matchbreaker. She was raised in Gloucester, in the west of England, and now lives in London. Contrary to the popular conception of chick-lit writers, she is such a bad home-baker that her own father threatened to put her last creation on www.cakewrecks.com. She is, however, partial to white wine and shoes she can't walk in.

THE COURIER

Holly Down

She sees much more than you think...

Five years ago, Laurel Lovejoy had a high-powered city job, a loving husband, a perfect daughter. Now, she is 40 and alone, and working for a courier service. But she has discovered that being a delivery driver makes her invisible; people accept her presence without question. She becomes increasingly fascinated by the residents of Paradise Found, an exclusive gated cul-de-sac. She sometimes even finds her way there when she's not working – everyone needs a hobby. Then one day Laurel sees something in one of the houses. Something that blows her whole world apart, and will have devastating consequences for everyone involved...

Holly Down studied PPE at New College, Oxford, and later became a solicitor. She began writing as a hobby at law school, along with hot yoga and marathon running; only the writing has continued. In 2016, Holly undertook a writing course at City University. She and her family live in North London. The Courier is her debut novel.

THE SABOTEUR

Simon Conway

A stunning, apocalyptic standalone sequel to The Stranger.

Terrorist Guy Fowle has escaped from prison. Jude Lyon of MI6 has been saved from a Syrian ambush by his lover – and enemy? – Julia Ermolaeva. A mysterious Russian has been murdered in London and his thumb cut off. The Chancellor of the Exchequer has made an unfortunate social connection at a party. These are the jigsaw pieces Jude needs to put together, and quickly, because someone is activating a terrifying Russian plan to disable and destroy the UK. Bad enough if that someone is the Russian government. Worse if it is the psychopathic genius Fowle, aka The Stranger.

Simon Conway is a former British Army officer and international aid worker. He has cleared landmines and the other debris of war across the world. As Co-Chair of the Cluster Munition Coalition he successfully campaigned to achieve an international ban on cluster bombs. He is a director at The HALO Trust, coordinating the charity's response to the urbanisation of warfare and growing use of improvised explosive devices. His novel A Loyal Spy won the CWA Steel Dagger.

THE GOOD DEATH

The violent, poignant story of how Oswald de Lacy came to be lord of Somershill.

Oswald de Lacy, Lord of Somershill, sits at his mother's deathbed. Before she dies, he must make a confession. He needs to tell of the days when he was 18 years old, the third, disregarded son of the family, sent off to become a monk, working in the infirmary while plague raged outside the monastery. Of how he was sent to a nearby village and witnessed the death of a local girl, and how he swore to investigate . . . and how he was drawn into a crime so dark and terrifying, it haunts him – and his family – still.

S D Sykes lives in Kent with her husband. She is a graduate of Manchester University and has an MA in Writing from Sheffield Hallam. She attended the novel writing course at literary agents Curtis Brown, where she was inspired to finish her first novel. 'Sykes can be described as the "medieval C J Sansom."' Off-the-charts imaginative and breathtaking.' (Sunday Times bestselling author Jeffery Deaver)

YOU NEVER SAID GOODBYE

Luca Veste

An electrifying, edge-of-your-seat thriller for fans of Harlan Coben and Linwood Barclay.

Sam was 11 when his mother left home and never came back. He waited for her and then he grieved for her, as his family fell apart around him. Sam tried to get on with his life in the intervening years. But it's only as his father lies dying that Sam begins to realise the cracks and inconsistencies in their family history. Who was his mother and why did she need to disappear? Why cover it up? As Sam searches for answers, and the trail leads him from the UK to the US, danger builds around him . . .

Luca Veste is a writer of Italian and Liverpoolian heritage. He is one out of nine children and is married with two daughters. He studied psychology and criminology at university in Liverpool. His books have been described as 'darkly impressive . . . disturbing and intelligent' (The Times), and Mark Billingham has called Luca 'a writer to watch'.

The Inside Story of the Oxford Vaccine and the Race Against the Virus

Professor Sarah Gilbert &
Dr Catherine Green

The inside story of the Oxford vaccine, from the leading scientists who created it.

Our future hangs on the success of the Oxford vaccine. This is the story of its creation, its makers and how science will beat the virus, told by the scientists behind the vaccine. This is one of the most epic and pioneering moments in history, comparable to the race to put a man on the moon. Sarah and Cath share the heart-stopping moments in the eye of the storm; they separate fact from fiction; they explain how they made a safe vaccine in record time with the eyes of the world watching; and they give us hope for the future.

Sarah Gilbert is Professor of Vaccinology at the Jenner Institute within the University of Oxford. She is the Oxford Project Leader for the Oxford Vaccine.

Dr Cath Green is Associate Professor in Chromosome Dynamics at the Wellcome Centre for Human Genetics, Head of Oxford University's Clinical BioManufacturing Facility, and an integral part of the Oxford Vaccine project.

THE FIRST GHOSTS

Irving Finkel

Why the belief in ghosts is what makes us human.

Ghosts – the spirits of the dead – have walked by our side since time immemorial. In The First Ghosts, author Irving Finkel looks at ghosts from a standpoint quite different to that of most spectral literature. Drawing on evidence from the very earliest pre-human archaeology and the very earliest writing and literature, Finkel suggests that belief in and experience of ghosts emerges as a central component of humanity since its inception.

Dr Irving Finkel is Assistant Keeper of Ancient Mesopotamian (i.e. Sumerian, Babylonian and Assyrian) script, languages and cultures Department: Middle East at the British Museum. He is the curator in charge of cuneiform inscriptions on tablets of clay from ancient Mesopotamia, of which the Middle East Department has the largest collection – some 130,000 pieces – of any modern museum.

THE DRESSMAKERS OF AUSCHWITZ

Lucy Adlington

The women and girls in Auschwitz who sewed to survive.

At the height of the extermination process in Auschwitz-Birkenau, a fashion workshop was established within the infamous camp complex by Hedwig Höss, the Commandant's wife. The SS guards and officers' wives patronised this workshop, where high-quality garments were taken from the suitcases of murdered deportees and fitted for their new owners. This work was carried out by 23 prisoners – all women or teenage girls, many Jewish – who wielded needles to survive the gas chambers. The Dressmakers of Auschwitz tells their extraordinary life stories, drawing on unpublished testimonies and photographs and an exclusive interview with the only living survivor.

Lucy Adlington is a British novelist and historian with more than 20 years' experience researching social history. She runs History Wardrobe, a company that makes costume-in-context talks across the UK. Her novels include the Carnegie-nominated, critically acclaimed The Red Ribbon, while her non-fiction publications include Women's Lives and Clothes in WWII and Stitches in Time – the Story of the Clothes We Wear.

to the present day.

As the Queen's Platinum Jubilee in 2022 approaches, there has never been a more apposite moment to consider the history of the British monarchy. ONE: MY AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Peter Schmeichel

The autobiography of one of the greatest goalkeepers of all time.

The son of a Danish nurse and Polish musician, Peter Schmeichel is an undisputed giant of the global game. He was a serial winner with Manchester United and Denmark, and he rivals Gordon Banks and Lev Yashin for the title of the greatest goalkeeper of all time. Alex Ferguson labelled him 'bargain of the century' when he reflected on the £505,000 Manchester United paid to sign him in 1991. Schmeichel became a key figure in the club's successes during the decade ahead, culminating when he captained United in the incredible, last-gasp Treble-clinching win over Bayern Munich in the 1999 Champions League final.

Peter Schmeichel is a complex character and his story is no mere litany of triumphs. This book explores his wide-ranging experiences, from nearly dying at the age of 15 to watching his son Kaspar follow him to the sports summit, winning the Premier League with Leicester and taking over in Denmark's goal.

CENTRE STAGE

Jamie Roberts & Ross Harries

In a nation of rugby heroes,
Jamie Roberts has become a legend.

A Lions Man of the Series, a double Grand Slam winner, a Six Nations Champion, a World Cup semi-finalist, and for a time, the best in the world in his position. He's just three caps short of a century of international appearances. All of this was achieved while studying for four degrees (including a medical degree); something his coaches told him was impossible to pull off. There are dreamers in life, and there are doers. Jamie Roberts had big dreams, and he's realised them all. This is his fascinating, honest and uncompromising story.

The book will be co-written by Ross Harries, award-nominated author of Behind The Dragon (a complete oral history of Welsh rugby), and Bomb, the autobiography of Wales centurion, Adam Jones.

THE FLYING PRINCE: ALEXANDER OBOLENSKY

Hugh Godwin

As a 19-year-old Prince Obolensky captured the nation's heart's. Now, finally, his story will be told.

On a still March day in 1940, a sporting hero perished. He had lived fast and died young, as a flyer on the rugby field and as a pilot in the Royal Air Force, killed in the service of his adopted country. He was a refugee from a noble family in Russia who fought to be accepted as, and live the life of, a quintessential Englishman. His story is unmatched in sporting history for its agony and ecstasy, dislocation and vindication, love and loss. This is the first biography, and the complete story, of Prince Alexander Sergeevich Obolensky.

Hugh Godwin, 54, is a sports journalist who is the rugby union correspondent of the i, a national daily newspaper in the UK. He has held that role since April 2016 and before that he had the same position with the Independent on Sunday for eight years. In 2004 he wrote the words for England: Rugby World Champions, a book celebrating England's 2003 World Cup success, published by Mitchell Beazley. This is his first biography.

TO BOLDLY GO

Lessons from a Life of Adventure

Ranulph Fiennes

A celebration of a life lived at the extreme edge of endurance.

Sir Ranulph Fiennes, the world's greatest explorer, not only explains how more than 50 years of adventure have taught him all the physical skills needed to climb mountains, trek through deserts and cross both poles, but also reveals what he's learned about himself and how to inspire and organise other people. It's both a thrilling real-life global adventure story and Ran's chance to share the insights he's gained through triumph and adversity in some of the world's most perilous places. To Boldly Go is an inspirational treasury of wisdom to return to again and again.

Sir Ranulph Fiennes was the first man to reach both poles by surface travel and the first to cross the Antarctic continent unsupported. He is the only person yet to have been awarded two clasps to the Polar Medal for both the Antarctic and the Arctic regions. Fiennes has led over 30 expeditions including the first polar circumnavigation of the Earth, and in 2003 he ran seven marathons in seven days on seven continents.

LOVE OF MY LIFE

The Life and Loves of Freddie Mercury

Lesley-Ann Jones

The truth behind Freddie Mercury's romantic relationships.

If you watched Bohemian Rhapsody, you may suppose that Mary Austin was the love of Freddie Mercury's life – the truth is more complicated. Love of My Life charts Freddie's many obsessions: from Mary Austin to Jim Hutton; to a string of male lovers and his chaste passion for Spanish soprano Montserrat Caballé; to his fascination for felines and his extravagant shopping; to his music and voracious appetite for sex. Through personal interviews and encounters the author tells of Freddie Mercury's lesser-known loves and paints a comprehensive picture of the legendary musician. Published on the 30th anniversary of his death.

Lesley-Ann Jones is a journalist, newspaper columnist and broadcaster. The author of eight published books, she has enjoyed more than 25 years in music and the media. She lives in South-East London with her young children, the eldest having grown up and gone into the music business.

THE LOST STORYTELLER

Amanda Block

One forgotten book. Seven stories.
A lifetime of secrets.

Rebecca hasn't thought about her father since he disappeared when she was six years old. But when a journalist comes asking questions, she begins to wonder if there is more to the story of his disappearance than her family have led her to believe. Then Rebecca is given a book of seven fairy tales, written by him, and through each of these stories, Rebecca has the chance to get one step closer to the lost storyteller, her father, to discover who he was and what he went through – and even where he might be now...

Originally from Devon, Amanda Block moved to Edinburgh in 2007, where she attained a master's degree in creative writing. Since then, she's divided her time between ghostwriting, editing and tutoring. Amanda's writing is often inspired by myths and fairy tales, which she uses as starting points to tell new stories. Raw, candid and hilarious, this is the truth about motherhood and all its grisly delights.

ESCAPE FROM THE GHETTO

The Breathtaking Story of the Jewish Boy Who Ran Away from the Nazis

John Carr

A Jewish boy kills a Nazi by the Polish ghetto. He must escape the Third Reich, at all costs.

The captivating true story of one boy's flight across Europe to escape the Nazis. A tale of extraordinary courage, incredible adventure, and the relentless pursuit of life in the face of impossible challenges. Escape from the Ghetto is about a normal boy who faced extermination by the Nazis in the ghetto or a deathcamp, and the extraordinary life he led in avoiding that fate. It's a bittersweet story about epic hope, beauty amidst horror, and the triumph of the human spirit. John Carr is Henry Carr's eldest son, and in Escape From the Ghetto he has recreated his father's incredible adventure, through recordings and transcribed conversations in later life.

John Carr is Henry Carr's eldest son. Now living in London, he grew up in Yorkshire and is currently a Visiting Senior Fellow at the London School of Economics. In a touching afterword to the first-person narrative he has recreated, he tells of how his father put his war years behind him, never telling his children of their Jewish origins; of their extraordinary reconciliation in later life; of Henry's reunions with his surviving brother; and painstaking work to corroborate this authentic story.

THE ORIGINS OF IRIS

Beth Lewis

When you're lost, you can always trust yourself. Can't you?

Iris, a once-vibrant 'pitchers and shots all night' woman, flees New York City, her controlling, abusive wife Claude and their Upper West Side apartment, to find herself in the Catskill Mountains – somewhere she's not been since her father's suicide when she was a teenager. After falling into a ravine, she wakes up in her cabin, bandaged, with her face staring back at her. Literally. Another Iris who's made different decisions in her life. Under the threat of dwindling supplies and a terrific storm incoming, Iris must figure out why her, why this, why now, if she can trust Other Iris, and if she's real.

Beth Lewis was raised in the wilds of Cornwall and split her childhood between books and the beach. She has travelled extensively throughout the world and has had close encounters with black bears, killer whales and Great White sharks. She has been, at turns, a bank cashier, fire performer, juggler, and is currently the Publishing Manager at Rebellion. She lives in Oxford with her wife and daughter.

An hilarious debut that asks ‘when did working from home get so hard?’

Gerald, an employee of a New York-based PR firm, is working on a spreadsheet when he finds his consciousness uploaded into the company's Slack channel. Despite his posts for help, interrupting his colleagues' meaningless banter, they think it's an elaborate work from home strategy. He enlists co-worker Pradeep to care for his body while they figure out how to reintegrate his consciousness. Meanwhile his frantic colleagues are trying to mitigate an oncoming public relations dog food disaster. Gerald relies on Slackbot, the messaging service's AI assistant, to help him navigate his new digital reality. But when Slackbot discovers a world (and Gerald's empty body) outside the app, will it hijack a ride into the real world?

Calvin Kasulke is a writer based in Brooklyn, New York. A Lambda Literary Fellow, his writing and reporting have been featured in VICE, Buzzfeed and Electric Literature. This is his first book.

SIDESPLITTER

How to be from Two Worlds at Once

Phil Wang

One of the UK's brightest and best comedians takes an incisive and hilarious look at race and belonging.

'But where are you REALLY from?' Phil Wang has been asked this question so many times he's finally written a book about it. In this mix of comic memoir and observational essay, Phil reflects on his experiences as a Eurasian man in the West and in the East. Phil was born in Stoke-on-Trent, raised in Malaysia, and then came of age in Bath – 'a spa town for people who find Cheltenham too ethnic'. Phil delves into Britain and Malaysia's shared histories, bringing his trademark cynicism and wit to topics ranging from family, food, and comedy to race, empire, and colonialism. Sidesplitter is a hilarious and incisive look at being mixed race and belonging to two home countries at once.

Phil Wang is one of the UK's most exciting stand-up comedians. He is about to film his first Netflix special and has hosted countless shows including Live at the Apollo, Have I Got News For You and QI. In 2018, he was one of only two non-US acts in Netflix's The Comedy Lineup. Phil has performed at international comedy festivals in Montreal, Australia and New Zealand. His latest critically acclaimed show, Philly Philly Wang Wang, broke records at the 2019 Edinburgh Fringe.

As private investigator Elizabeth Chalice interviews each suspect in turn, she must work out who killed Jonty and why. And is anyone else in danger? But with 12 suspects each with their own motive, anything is possible . . .

Growing Up on the Frontline of Teaching

Mehreen Baig

All the life secrets every teacher knows, in a hilarious and heart-warming package.

You're in from 7am to 7pm and marking late at night. You've got one student who's a full-time carer, another who's joined a gang, a third facing expulsion. There aren't enough textbooks, one parent just called you an 'extremist', and despite a devastating breakup, you've got to teach Romeo and Juliet to 30 hormonal 14-year-olds. Welcome to life as a teacher – full of chaos and long hours and abandoned lesson plans. It's a world where you never stop learning. Mehreen started teaching at 21, and by the time she left 10 years later she'd learnt a bit about teenagers, and a lot about life.

Mehreen Baig is a former teacher and trailblazing broadcaster and writer. In 2016, she took part in the BAFTA-winning BBC2 documentary 'Muslims Like Us'. She has appeared as a regular reporter and guest for the BBC, and in 2017 was named one of the most inspirational and powerful women of the year by the Telegraph. She continues to work with young people to help them achieve their life goals.

STRONG FEMALE LEAD

Lessons from Women in Power

Arwa Mahdawi

The secrets of leadership, from the women showing us the way.

The first two decades of this century have seen financial collapse, a global pandemic, the devastation of our environment and the disintegration of democracies. But while the old guard are telling us 'it is what it is', there's a new generation of leaders showing the world how to be better by building trust, investing wisely and acting decisively. Women have been taught to 'lean in' and act like men to get ahead. But as the financial, environmental and social systems crumble, isn't it time we started looking elsewhere for inspiration?

Arwa Mahdawi is a London-born, New York-based writer, speaker and business consultant. Arwa writes a weekly column for the Guardian covering everything from politics to pop culture. She is also the creator of the viral website Rent-A-Minority, which is an 'Uber for diversity.' (Yes, before you ask, it's satire.)

HARRY HILL'S FIGHT!

Thirty Years Not Quite at the Top

Harry Hill

An honest and hilarious memoir about what didn't go right.

From a starring role in the cub panto to his short-lived career as a doctor, to slogging it out on the comedy circuit and becoming a TV teatime favourite, Harry takes us through his fight to not quite the top of showbiz. From anecdotes of his X-Factor musical and a very strange car journey with Simon Cowell, to finding himself alone with the Queen at the Albert Hall, Harry reflects back on his life and career to find joy in failure, creativity in struggle and revels in the lessons to be learnt from a flop.

Harry Hill was born in Woking in 1964, grew up in Kent and lived as a teenager in Hong Kong. He trained as a neurosurgeon and holds a medical degree from University of London. He's created and starred in multiple TV shows including Harry Hill's TV Burp, World of TV, and You've Been Framed. He has won eight Comedy Awards, three BAFTAs, and was nominated for a People's Choice Award.

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE ON SOCIAL MEDIA

Claire McGowan & Sarah Day

Elizabeth Bennet has politely declined your friend request and asks that you do not slide into her DMs again.

It is a truth universally acknowledged, that a single man in possession of a good fortune, will probably be verified on Twitter. The characters of Pride and Prejudice are navigating the same struggles on unfamiliar channels – social media channels, to be precise. When authors Claire McGowan and Sarah Day imagined how ‘Pride and Prejudice on Social Media’ might look, retelling the story through mocked-up Facebook, Twitter, WhatsApp and Reddit posts, their post instantly went viral and here is the story in full.

Sarah Day lives in London, where she works for the Geological Society. She has written columns for a variety of publications, including the Guardian and The Vagenda. Claire McGowan was born in 1981 in a small Irish village where the most exciting thing that ever happened was some cows getting loose on the road. She is the author of The Fall, What You Did, The Other Wife and more.

TRUST NO ONE

Inside the World of Deepfakes

Michael Grothaus

Who's making deepfakes, why they're doing it, and what it means for all of us.

Deepfake technology can create video evidence of just about anything: Natalie Portman in an orgy; Putin declaring nuclear war; the US winning the World Cup. The only limit is the imagination. In a time where fake news and disinformation is becoming harder and harder to identify, it's more essential than ever to understand the dark origins of deepfakes. Journalist Michael Grothaus goes down the rabbit hole, opening a window into the communities transforming reality; from incels to hackers in the underbelly of the internet. Seeing is believing, but soon you won't be able to trust anything you see online.

Michael Grothaus is a novelist and journalist. Having got his start over 20 years ago writing for Screen, his work has since appeared in Fast Company, VICE, the Guardian, Litro Magazine, Quartz and others. His debut novel Epiphany Jones was longlisted for the John Creasy New Blood Dagger Award in 2017. Trust No One is his first non-fiction book.

Aliza Kelly

From rising star NYC-based astrologer comes a contemporary self-help guide that fuses the wisdom of the stars, real-life stories and Aliza's knowledge to help you create the life you've always wanted.

You can't apply a one-size fits all formula to spirituality, so Aliza's book uses the most important principles of astrology to arm you with the knowledge you need to make better informed decisions.

As well as being an astrologer, Aliza Kelly is a columnist, the co-founder of an astrology-based dating app Align, the host of hit podcast Stars Like Us, a resident astrologer at Soho House, host of YouTube series Star Chart, as well as a content creator. She's the resident astrologer of Cosmopolitan and her monthly horoscopes and cosmic advice column reach an audience of 75M. Aldo Kane Lessons From The Edge will show readers that with the right mindset, you can get through anything life throws at you.

In his debut book, Aldo will inspire readers with his jaw-dropping stories and show them how to survive and thrive through sheer strength of mind and sharp decision-making. It will reveal how this tough military man was able to cope with suddenly feeling worthless, how he overcame doors literally slamming in his face, how he came to realise that you can't wait for things to happen and instead how he rediscovered his identity and harnessed his emotions to his advantage to find determination, purpose, and a renewed sense of belonging. And how, to use his own words, he became the captain of his own ship.

Aldo Kane is a world record setting adventurer, extreme, remote and hostile locations expert and former Royal Marines Commando Sniper. He has completed 13 world-first expeditions from the high seas of the Atlantic to the jungles of South America. Over the last 20 years, he has operated in some of the world's toughest, most extreme environments, where his body, mind and physical fitness have been forged in the real world with minimal kit, yielding maximum returns.
