LOVE IN COLOUR Bolu Babalola

Love stories that truly represent the world we live in; celebrated and retold in this unique illustrated collection, by debut author Bolu Babalola.

Discover love from times long ago...

Join Bolu Babalola as she retells the most beautiful love stories from history and mythology in this stunning collection. From the homoromantic Greek myths, to magical Nigerian folktales, to the ancient stories of South Asia, Bolu brings new life to tales that truly show the vibrance and colours of love around the world.

The anthology is a step towards decolonising tropes of love, and celebrates in the wildly beautiful and astonishingly diverse tales of romance and desire that already exist in so many cultures and communities.

Get lost in these mystical worlds and you will soon realise that humanity - like love - comes in technicolour.

About the Author:

Bolu Babalola is a London-based writer, and lover of love. In 2016, she was shortlisted in 4thEstate's B4ME competition for her short story 'Netflix & Chill', a hilarious teen romance. Whilst writing scripts for TV and film, she also works as a TV and Culture columnist for Dazed, where she calls herself a 'romcomoiseur'.

HEATSTROKE

Hazel Barkworth

Intoxicating and compulsive, Heatstroke is a darkly gripping, thought-provoking novel of crossed boundaries, power and betrayal, that plays with expectations at every turn.

For fans of Zoe Heller, Emma Cline, Expectation and The Lemon Grove.

It is too hot to sleep. To work. To be questioned time and again by the police.

At the beginning of a stifling, sultry summer, everything shifts irrevocably when Lily doesn't come home one afternoon.

Rachel is Lily's teacher. Her daughter Mia is Lily's best friend. The girls are fifteen – almost women, still children.

As Rachel becomes increasingly fixated on Lily's absence, she finds herself breaking fragile trusts and confronting impossible choices she never thought she'd face.

It wasn't supposed to happen like this.

Praise for Heatstroke:

'Heatstroke announces Hazel Barkworth as a stunning new voice in contemporary fiction.' - Erin Kelly, author of *He Said/ She Said

About the Author:

Hazel Barkworth grew up in Stirlingshire and North Yorkshire before studying English at Oxford. She then moved to London where she spent her days working as a cultural consultant, and her nights dancing in a pop band at glam rock clubs. Hazel is a graduate of both the Oxford University MSt in Creative Writing and the Curtis Brown Creative Novel-Writing course. She now works in Oxford, where she lives with her partner. Heatstroke is her first novel.

THE ACCIDENTAL LOVE LETTER

Olivia Beirne

The funny, uplifting second novel from Olivia Beirne for fans of Sophie Kinsella, Katie Marsh, Zoë Folbigg and Marian Keyes.

What would you do if you received a love letter that wasn't meant for you?

Bea used to feel confident, outgoing and fun, but she's not sure where that person went.

Over the last few months, she's found herself becoming reclusive and withdrawn. And despite living with her two best friends, she's never felt lonelier. To make things worse, she's become so dependent on her daily routine, she's started to slip out of everyone else's.

But when a mysterious battered envelope covered in stars lands on her doormat, Bea wonders if she could find the courage to open it.

It isn't addressed to her, but it could be... if you squinted...

About the Author:

Olivia Beirne is the bestselling author of The List That Changed My Life and lives in Buckinghamshire. She has worked as a waitress, a pottery painter and a casting assistant, but being a writer is definitely her favourite job yet.

THE KINDNESS PROJECT

Sam Binnie

The Trouble With Goats and Sheep meets Amelie in this gorgeous and uplifting novel that celebrates kindness and community.

When Bea Adlington unexpectedly dies, it falls to her daughter Alice to sort out her affairs. And so Alice finds herself in her mother's ramshackle cottage in the heart of a tiny Cornish village with a plan to clear out and sell up as soon as possible - but it turns out that her mother had other ideas.

Unlike Alice, who has always preferred books to people, Bea was the village's unofficial agony aunt - she knew everyone, and helped everyone - and she has left Alice a series of letters she calls 'The Kindness Project', each one an unfinished task to complete around the village on her behalf.

Though it goes against her nature, Alice sees it as her duty to complete the project and so she tackles these tasks, one by one: a widow who has shut herself off from the world, a feud between lifelong friends, a frustrated young mum, it falls to Alice to help them out. It's a bumpy ride, but Alice finds herself drawn ever closer into village life, and it might just be what she needs to face up to the loss of her mother and maybe even open her own clamped-shut heart...

About the Author:

Sam Binnie was the 2005 winner of the Harper's/Orange Prize Short Story Competition, and lives with her husband and three children. She is still embarrassed that she forced people to camp at her wedding and that she never even saw the faces of the paramedics who half-delivered her first child, and is terrified that any future home she buys will be on the site of an old plague pit.

WHILE PARIS SLEPT

Ruth Druart

An unforgettably moving tale of maternal love during one of history's darkest hours, this debut novel takes the reader into the fear, paranoia and clandestine resistance of France during the Second World War.

A woman on a platform whispers goodbye. It is the end. It is also the beginning...

Jean-Luc is a man on the run from his past. The scar on his face a small price to pay for surviving the horrors of Nazi Occupation. Now, he has a new life in California, a family. He never expected the past to come knocking on his door.

Paris 1944. A young Jewish woman's past is torn away in a heartbeat. Herded on to a train bound for Auschwitz, in an act of desperation she entrusts her most precious possession to a stranger. All she has left now is hope.

On a darkened platform two destinies become entangled. Their choice will change the future in ways neither could have imagined.

An extraordinary, moving novel of courage, survival and the endurance of hope.

About the Author:

Ruth Druart has been working in international schools in Paris since 1993. Four years ago, she completed a masters in international education, exploring the topic of third culture children and their sense of belonging - a theme which runs through her novel. She has three sons with her French husband.

GRACE IN WINTER

Deirdre Purcell

A gripping seasonal tale of a mother, a daughter, and affairs of the heart

Love at first sight, on an ice floe, on a dream cruise. The sound of wedding bells soon after. Impossibly romantic, or so it seems...

For mother-of-the-bride Grace, it is anything but. Years of caring for her beautiful, erratic and unpredictable daughter Leonie have left her wise and worn. As she watches what began as a hopeful break away for mum and daughter become a tale of newfound passion between Irish beauty and besotted American male, she braces herself for drama to follow. And follow it does, in ways that she could not have predicted.

As Grace picks up the pieces of her life after unseen events leave her reeling, she soon faces her own tough decisions. Grace in Winter is a compelling story of the bonds of motherhood and of affairs of the heart, which explores a feeling that never ages in a woman who has seen life from all sides. But will Grace manage to let love in?

About the Author:

Deirdre Purcell was born and brought up in Dublin, and educated there and in a County Mayo convent. Before turning to the writing of fiction, she lived through an eclectic set of careers, including acting, as a member of the permanent company of Ireland's National Theatre (The Abbey), and journalism for all media - for which she won Ireland's top awards. She has written numerous fiction and non-fiction bestsellers and for six years, presented 'What It Says in the Papers' slot for RTE's Morning Ireland programme, leaving in 2018 to concentrate on her writing.

I SHOT THE DEVIL
Ruth McIver

'The press only got hold of a few photos...within a year, both boys would be dead.'

A dark, twisty thriller of small town buried secrets for readers of The Dry, The Girls and The Secret History.

Twenty years ago, the devil visited the woods around Newport, Long Island, claiming the lives of two boys. A local youth was charged with murder. Case closed.

Now journalist Erin Sloane has been commissioned to dig deeper into the story and is sent notes from someone long forgotten. But can she trust what she unearths? And how can she unravel what happened when she has her own secrets to hide?

Rich with the sense of a community imploding, buried secrets, corruption and racism, I Shot the Devil is a stunning portrayal of teenage hysteria and sexuality.

It was a game. But then it got real.

About the Author:

Ruth McIver completed her PhD at Curtin University and is an ERC (Early Career Researcher) working in the arena of true crime inspired fiction. Ruth has written reviews, articles and interviews for The Sunday Age, The Big Issue and Cordite, and numerous other online and print forums. PIRATA Simon Scarrow and T.J. Andrews

Pirata - the dramatic and action-packed novel of Roman pirates in AD 25, from the bestselling authors of Invader and Arena.

It is AD 25. Pirate ships strike terror in the hearts of those who brave the seas of the Roman Empire.

When Telemachus joins the crew of the merchant ship Selene, he's glad to escape the rough streets of Piraeus. He knows little of the dangers of life at sea. Even past hardship has not prepared him for the terror on board when a pirate ship appears.

The fight is bloody, but the result is never in doubt. Then the victorious pirate chief, Bulla, offers the beaten men a cruel choice: join us, or die. After surviving a brutal initiation rite, Telemachus impresses his new captain with his resourcefulness and strength, and swiftly rises through the pirate ranks. But dangerous rivals talk of mutiny and murder. While Prefect Canis, notorious commander of the imperial fleet, is relentless in his pursuit of the pirate brotherhood.

Could Telemachus be the man to lead the pirates and challenge Rome?

About the Authors:

Simon Scarrow is a Sunday Times No. 1 bestselling author. His many successful books include his Eagles of the Empire novels, Hearts of Stone and a quartet about Wellington and Napoleon including the No. 1 Sunday Times bestseller The Fields of Death. He is the author with T. J. Andrews of the novels Arena and Invader.

T. J. Andrews was born near Barking Abbey and grew up in Essex, not far from the Ancient Roman garrison at Colchester. After several years in publishing he became a full-time writer. He lives in St Albans.

PLAN FOR THE WORST (St Mary's 11) Jodi Taylor

The eleventh book in the bestselling Chronicles of St Mary's series. If you love Jasper Fforde, Ben Aaronovitch or Doctor Who, you won't be able to resist Jodi Taylor.

I would have trusted this man with my life. Until a couple of days ago, anyway.

You know what they say – hope for the best, but plan for the worst.

Max is quite accustomed to everything going wrong. She's St Mary's, after all – disaster is her default state. Not. A. Problem.

And then, after one fateful night at the Tower of London in 1483, everything she thought she knew for sure comes crashing down around her.

Too late for plans. The worst has happened. And who can Max trust now?

THE CHRONICLES OF ST MARY'S SERIES

The St Mary's Series follows a group of tea-soaked, special forces-trained historian disaster magnets as they hurtle their way around History, experiencing it in real-time.

Headline acquired the series from Accent Press and it has so-far sold over 900,000 copies and garnered thousands of 5* reviews on Amazon and fans around the world.

DOING TIME (Time Police 1) Jodi Taylor

Introducing The Time Police, the brand-new series by international bestselling author, Jodi Taylor - an irresistible spinoff from the much-loved Chronicles of St Mary's series. Perfect reading for fans of Doctor Who, Ben Aaronovitch and Jasper Fforde.

A long time ago in the future, the secret of time travel became known to all. Everyone seized the opportunity - and the world nearly ended. There will always be idiots who want to change history.

And so, the Time Police were formed. An all-powerful, international organisation tasked with keeping the timeline straight. At all costs.

Their success is legendary, and the Time Wars are over. But now the Time Police must fight to save a very different future - their own.

This is the story of Jane, Luke and Matthew - arguably the worst recruits in Time Police history. Or, very possibly, three young people who might just change everything.

About the Author:

Jodi Taylor is the author of the bestselling Chronicles of St Mary's series, the story of a bunch of disaster-prone historians who investigate major historical events in contemporary time. Do NOT call it time travel!

Born in Bristol and educated in Gloucester (facts both cities vigorously deny), she spent many years with her head somewhere else, much to the dismay of family, teachers and employers, before finally deciding to put all that daydreaming to good use and pick up a pen. She still has no idea what she wants to do when she grows up.

YEAR OF MUSIC Clemency Burton-Hill

A carefully curated collection of classical music offering one piece to listen to every day of the year.

In this follow-up to her much-loved Year of Wonder, award-winning violinist, journalist and broadcaster Clemency Burton-Hill seeks to represent the widest possible picture of what the genre known as 'classical music' can be. In this book, she demystifies the music by humanising its creators.

'Classical composers can seem impossibly remote from the lives of regular humans in the 21st century. The term "classical" music, if it conjures any image at all, invariably calls to mind some sort of 18th-century European white male, perhaps in a powdered wig and velvet frock coat. We don't think of these humans as being just like us: relatable, fallible, flawed creatures who are all in their own ways figuring out how to be. We don't think of them as being women, people of colour, minorities. And yet in this book we find hundreds of inspiring humans of all stripes and backgrounds, creating music of dazzling diversity. I write of their stories, their lives and loves, their losses and triumphs, their sorrows and joys and as I did so that old cliché about music being the universal language was revealed for the profound truth it is. Truly all of human life is here.'

The pieces of music you will find in this book will see you through a whole year, offering a soundtrack to your everyday life as well as a reminder that finding a space to sit and listen to a piece of music every day can be a singular gift to yourself.

About the Author:

Clemency Burton-Hill is one of the UK's leading arts broadcasters and writers as well as Creative Director of Music and Arts for New York Public Radio. An award-winning violinist, Clemency has performed all over the world. She is the co-founder of Aurora Orchestra and a patron of the charities The Choir of London Trust and Dramatic Need.

SUBTERRANEA

Chris Fitch

A gorgeously-illustrated record of natural and human history that will tell the story of our planet from the inside out.

What would you see if you pulled back the ground you walk on every day? What would it tell us about our ancestors and the natural world? How would it change how we interact with the planet – and how we live?

Subterranea is a book that tears away the world below our feet and offers us a glimpse of the breathtaking wonders that lie underneath. From an immense network of tunnels built under the city of Ho Chi Minh in Vietnam to the iconic catacombs of Paris, and with dozens of natural wonders in-between, Subterranea is a full-colour, gorgeously-illustrated and endlessly fascinating record of thousands of years of natural and human history that will tell the story of our planet from the inside out.

About the Author:

Chris Fitch is senior staff writer at Geographical, the official magazine of the Royal Geographical Society. His first book, Atlas of Untamed Places: An extraordinary journey through our wild world, was nominated for the 2018 Edward Stanford Travel Writing Award.

The book is lavishly illustrated with stunning shots from both behind and in front of the camera, original costume illustrations and historical photographs, as well as capturing some wonderful off-guard moments during filming.

A perfect companion to the cinema experience, Downton Abbey: The Official Film Companion continues the story of Downton, and will be treasured by Downton fans everywhere.

LONG WAY UP Ewan McGregor & Charley Boorman

“It’s not just about our love of motorcycling and meeting people and embracing cultures. It’s also about who we are as people and how important true friendship is to both of us”.

Following the global success of their mega-selling previous books, Long Way Round and Long Way Down, Ewan McGregor and Charley Boorman are back together again, partnering this time with Apple+ TV, for a three-month, 13,000-mile adventure across the physical landscape of South America, and through the deep emotional territory of a unique friendship. Older and wiser, and riding electric Harley Davidsons for the very first time, they have embarked on a once-in-a-lifetime trip from the southernmost tip of South America, Tierra del Fuego, through the incredible landscapes of Bolivia and Peru and bustling Mexican towns, all the way up to the City of Angels.

TRUTH: A Brief History of Total Bullsh*t

Tom Phillips

A hilarious journey through the most bizarre and brilliant lies told by humans through the ages, from the author of *HUMANS: A Brief History of How We F*cked It All Up*

This is a book about TRUTH - and all the ingenious ways, throughout history, that we've managed to avoid it.

We live in a 'post-truth' age, we're told. The US has a president who openly lies on a daily basis (or who doesn't even know what's true, and doesn't care). The internet has turned our everyday lives into a misinformation battleground. People don't trust experts any more.

But was there ever really a golden age of truth-telling? As the editor of the UK's leading independent fact-checker, Tom Phillips deals with complete bollocks every day. Here, he tells the hilarious story of how we humans have spent history lying to each other - and ourselves - and asks an important question: how can humanity move towards a truthier future?

About the Author:

Tom Phillips is the editor of Full Fact, Britain's leading independent fact-checking organisation. Previously he was the editorial director of BuzzFeed UK, where he divided his time between very serious reporting on important issues... and making jokes.

A TOMB WITH A VIEW

Peter Ross

Award-winning journalist Peter Ross uncovers the stories and glories of Britain's best graveyards.

Enter a grave new world of fascination and delight as award-winning journalist Peter Ross uncovers the stories and glories of Britain's best graveyards. Who are London's outcast dead and why is David Bowie their guardian angel? How did a thousand skulls come to be stacked beneath a church in Kent? Why is the music hall star who sang I Do Like To Be Beside The Seaside buried on a hillside in Glasgow far from the sound of the silvery sea?

All of these sorrowful mysteries - and many more - are answered in A Tomb With A View, a book for anyone who has ever wandered through a field of crooked headstones and wondered about the lives and deaths of those who lie beneath.

So push open the rusting gate, push back the ivy, and take a look inside...

About the author:

Peter Ross is an award-winning journalist based in Glasgow. An eight-times winner at the Scottish Press Awards and shortlisted for the Orwell journalism prize, he is a regular contributor to the Guardian and The Times. His Boston Review story on reading Orwell in the age of Trump was named as a Notable Essay in The Best American Essays 2018, edited by Hilton Als.

He is the author of the non-fiction collections Daundlerlust and The Passion Of Harry Bingo, published by Sandstone Press. The latter was shortlisted as non-fiction book of the year at the Saltire Society literary awards in 2017.

CONFESS

Rob Halford with Ian Gittins

Rob Halford is the legendary frontman of Judas Priest, one of the most successful heavy metal bands of all time, with over 50 million albums sold worldwide.

After a strict Christian upbringing in the West Midlands, at just twenty-two, Rob Halford joined Judas Priest and began to change the musical landscape. His story encompasses the golden age of British heavy rock, and a lifelong love of heavy metal in all its guts and glory. From the fall out of becoming a gay icon in a very macho world, through to the faith he drew upon through the late eighties to the present day, this book is the compelling, heartfelt and honest autobiography of one of metal's favourite sons.

Throughout their 50-year career, Rob Halford and Judas Priest have maintained a ferociously loyal fan base who have idolised the band and their self-effacing "Metal God" singer for keeping it real, and keeping it metal. There have been few vocalists in the history of heavy metal whose singing style has been as influential and instantly recognizable as Halford's. Confess, published to coincide with the 50th anniversary of Judas Priest, is sure to be a bestseller across the globe.

About the Author:

Ian Gittins has co-written a number of bestselling memoirs including the genre-busting The Heroin Diaries with Nikki Sixx.

FINDING MY VOICE

Nadiya Hussain

Funny, heart-wrenching, generous and true, in Finding my Voice Nadiya Hussain shares the unforgettable memories and experiences that have made her the woman she is today.

'I am writing this for everyone who was told no. 'No, you are not rich enough. No, that is not credible. No, you can't. No, you won't. No, you are not allowed. No, that is not appropriate.

I was told, "No, you do not belong."

Finally, I am saying, "Yes, I do."

From the moment Nadiya Hussain was born, she has questioned her role in life. But the irony is, she never wanted to be a trailblazer. She just wanted to be 'normal'; to go to university and get a job.

Only she kept being told 'you can't'. And so she found her own way. Accepting an arranged marriage, she took the path that was expected of her, and diverted it to a whole new place, way beyond anything she dared to dream.

In this wise, witty, open-hearted book, Nadiya lets us into her life and, for the first time, shares the memories and experiences that have shaped her into the woman and role-model that she is today, alongside her own recipes and the stories they tell.

About the Author:

After winning 2015's Great British Bake Off, Nadiya Hussain has gone on to capture the hearts of the nation. A columnist for The Times and a regular reporter for The One Show, Nadiya has also presented four series for the BBC. Her cookery titles include Nadiya's Kitchen, Nadiya's British Food Adventure and Nadiya's Family Favourites. Born in Luton to British Bangladeshi parents, Nadiya now lives in Milton Keynes with her husband, Abdal, and their three children.

RELENTLESS Dean Stott

For readers of Ant Middleton, Jason Fox, Brian Wood, Bear Grylls and Billy Billingham comes the extraordinary, inspirational story of Special Boat Service soldier and adventurer Dean Stott.

Dean Stott lives his life by a powerful mantra - that of the relentless pursuit of excellence. In 16 years of service, Dean rose to the top of Britain's fighting force, taking part of some of the most daring and dangerous operations in the war on terror, and then in the private security force, where missions included him singlehandedly evacuating the Canadian Embassy in Libya.

But then, following a horrific parachuting accident, Dean's dream career was cut short, and his ethos was put to its toughest test. Just like the day when Dean's dad said that he could never make it as a soldier, Dean's doctors told him that he would never again perform at the elite level.

He set himself a mission - the man who didn't own a bike would cycle the Pan American Highway, a 14,000 mile route that stretches from Argentina to Alaska, passing through some of the most dangerous countries in the world. A passionate mental health campaigner, Dean decided to up the stakes further by setting himself the task of raising a million pounds for charity. With two world records also in his sights, the stage was set for Dean to rediscover the tenacity, bravery, and downright doggedness that saw him rise to the top of the Special Forces.

The final curveball arrived in the shape of a wedding invitation from his old friend Prince Harry - would he make it back in time for the royal wedding, or at all?

Dean Stott is Relentless, and this is his story.

THE MIND OF A MURDERER Dr. Richard Taylor

A gripping and eye-opening insight into life as a forensic psychiatrist, from one of the most experienced doctors in the field.

'Whodunnit' doesn't matter so much, not to a forensic psychiatrist. We're more interested in the 'why'.

In his 26 years in the field, Richard Taylor has worked on well over a hundred murder cases, with victims and perpetrators from all walks of life. In this fascinating memoir, Taylor draws on some of the most tragic, horrific and illuminating of these cases - as well as dark secrets from his own family's past - to explore some of the questions he grapples with:

Why do people kill? Does committing a monstrous act make someone a monster? Could any of us, in the wrong circumstances, become a killer?

As Taylor helps us understand what lies inside the minds of his patients, using their own words to tell their stories, he presents us with the most important challenge of all: how can we find common humanity, even in the darkest of human deeds - and why it is so vital that we try?

The Mind of a Murderer is a fascinating exploration into the psyche of killers, as well as a unique insight into the life and mind of the doctor who treats them. For fans of Unnatural Causes, The Examined Life and All That Remains.

About the Author:

Richard Taylor trained as a doctor at University College London. He completed post-graduate training at the Bethlem and Maudsley hospitals and then took up a post as a Consultant Forensic Psychiatrist. Since then he has gained extensive experience working on cases involving all types of crime. He works both as an expert witness and as a treating forensic psychiatrist. on all types of crime.

THE LOST ORCHARD Raymond Blanc

An enchanting book about the orchard that Raymond Blanc planted in the Oxfordshire countryside. Full of ancient varieties of fruit, each one is celebrated through anecdotes and recipes, weaving a rich story about our country's past.

'I began to dream about an orchard filled with thousands of fruit trees... Today we have an orchard with over 150 ancient varieties of apple. Each one has its heritage in a village or a county that used to thrive on that particular variety. They tell the story not only of what we have lost in Britain but also what we could regain.'

Over the past seven years, Raymond Blanc has planted an orchard of 2,500 trees in the grounds of his hotel-restaurant in Oxfordshire. Yielding about 60 tonnes of fruit for his kitchen each year, it is full of ancient and forgotten varieties of British apples and pears, along with walnut trees, quince, medlars, apricots, nectarines, peaches, plums, damsons and cherries. A further 600 heritage fruit trees have been added from Raymond's home in the Franche-Comté region of France.

The Lost Orchard is a love letter to each of these varieties, complete with beautiful black and white drawings, fascinating information and anecdotes about each fruit, along with recipes and stories.

About the Author:

Raymond Blanc is acknowledged as one of the finest chefs in the world. He has been honoured with both an OBE from Britain and the equivalent of a knighthood from France. His beautiful hotel restaurant has two Michelin stars. Raymond has written more than ten books and presented many television shows. Raymond is renowned for his passion for seasonal, sustainable and organic produce.

HOW TO BREAK UP WITH FAST FASHION Lauren Bravo

A fun and practical guide to changing the way you shop

You probably know the statistics: global clothing production has roughly doubled in just 15 years, and every year an estimated 300,000 tonnes of used clothing ends up in UK landfill.

Fast fashion is the ultimate toxic relationship. It's bad news for the planet, our brains and our bank balances. We can't go on like this; our shopping habits need an overhaul.

Journalist Lauren Bravo loves clothes more than anything, but she's called time on her affair with fast fashion in search of a slower, saner way of dressing. In this book, she'll help you do the same.

How To Break Up With Fast Fashion will help you to change your mindset, fall back in love with your wardrobe and embrace more sustainable ways of shopping - from the clothes swap to the charity shop. Full of refreshing honesty and realistic advice, Lauren will inspire you to repair, recycle and give your unloved items a new lease of life without sacrificing your style.

Because fashion belongs to everyone, but no outfit should cost us the earth.

About the Author:

Lauren Bravo is a freelance journalist who writes about fashion, popular culture, food, travel and feminism, for places like Grazia, Cosmopolitan, Stylist, easyJet Traveller, Time Out, the Telegraph and the Guardian. Her first book, What Would The Spice Girls Do? was published by Transworld in 2018. In 2019, Lauren went on a year-long fast fashion ban. She volunteers in a charity shop once a week (to get first dibs on all the best clothes). She is on Twitter and Instagram as @laurenbravo.

MIND THE GAP Dr. Karen Gurney

A book that turns everything you thought you knew about female sexuality on its head, with practical advice on how to bulletproof your sex life

Did you know that there is an orgasm gap of around 30% between heterosexual couples when they have sex? In Mind The Gap, Dr Karen Gurney, a clinical psychologist and certified psychosexologist, explains how to change that, and bulletproof your sex life, for life.

In this book, you will learn that nearly everything that you've been led to believe about female sexuality isn't actually true. And that, despite popular wisdom, it is possible to have a happy and mutually satisfying sex life long term.

Exploring the mismatch between ideas about sex in our society and what the science tells us, Mind The Gap also explains how this disconnect lies at the root of many of our sexual problems, especially desire. Combining science with case studies, practical exercises and tips, this is a book for anyone who wants to better understand the mechanics of desire and how to achieve more sexual satisfaction.

About the Author:

Dr Karen Gurney is a highly specialised clinical psychologist and certified psychosexologist, and is a recognised national expert in the theory and practice of therapy around all aspects of sexual wellbeing and function. She is currently Lead Psychosexual Therapist at 56 Dean Street (Chelsea and Westminster Hospital NHS Foundation Trust), as well as Director of The Havelock Clinic, an independent sexual problems service based on Harley Street and in The City of London. Dr Gurney has written for and been featured in publications such as Marie Claire, Cosmopolitan and Refinery29.

PRAJÑĀ: Ayurvedic Rituals for Happiness Mira Manek

Beautifully simple age-old rituals for modern-day living that will enhance your wellbeing and bring you happiness.

Prajña is the Sanskrit word for wisdom, and this book brings the ancient wisdom of Ayurveda into your life by guiding you through easy to follow practices for every day and every occasion. Rituals are a way of getting back to yourself and making space for what is really important.

The rituals in this book offer inspiration from the moment you wake up and need the energy and positive mindset to help you start the morning, to night-time practices that allow you to wind down, relax and get the most benefit from the healing power of sleep.

Ayurveda is one of the world's oldest healing systems, rooted in the principle of a mind-body-spirit connection that is more relevant than ever to our busy modern lives. This book extracts the essence of this Indian philosophy and provides a wealth of timeless rituals, from breathing exercises to recipes, to effect positive change in your life.

About the Author:

Mira Manek was born and raised in London, where she grew up in a family strongly rooted in its Indian heritage. She grew up speaking Gujarati and learned Sanskrit at school. This, in conjunction with attending Ram Kathas (nine-day spiritual events) from a young age all over India, inspired Mira's passion for Indian philosophy and spirituality, and Ayurveda in particular. Her first book, Saffron Soul, is a cookbook inspired by the vegetarian food of the Gujarat region. Mira runs a café at Triyoga Soho, Chai by Mira, and hosts events and retreats around the UK and the rest of the world.

THE WOLF - Leo Carew

Leo Carew's debut novel The Wolf, the first book in the Under the Northern Sky Series, is a masterpiece in epic historical fantasy - a new voice to rival David Gemmell or George RR Martin.

A great war has come to the land under the Northern Sky.

Beyond the Black River, among the forests and mountains of the north, lives an ancient race of people. Their lives are measured in centuries, not decades; they revel in wilderness and resilience, and they scorn wealth and comfort. By contrast, those in the south live in the moment, their lives more fleeting. They crave wealth and power, their ambition is limitless, and their cunning unmatched.

When the armies of the south flood across the Black River, the fragile peace between the two races is shattered. On a lightning-struck battlefield, the two sides will fight - for their people, for their land, for their very survival. Two sides. One victor.

THE SPIDER - Leo Carew

After the enormous success of epic fantasy The Wolf comes The Spider, Book Two in Leo Carew's Under the Northern Sky series.

A battle has been won, but the war still wages on.

Roper, the Black Lord of the northern people, may have vanquished the Suthern army at the Battle of Harstathur. But the greatest threat to his people lies in the hands of more shadowy forces. In the south, the disgraced Bellamus bides his time. Learning that the young Lord Roper is planning to invade the southern lands, Bellamus conspires with his Queen to unleash a weapon so deadly it could wipe out Roper's people altogether.

And at a time when Roper needs his friends more than ever, treachery from within puts the lives of those he loves in mortal danger . . .

DO NOT FEED THE BEAR

Rachel Elliott

A life-affirming, warm and compelling novel of love and letting go.

Sydney is a cartoonist and freerunner. She's never been able to stay still, always feels that life is teetering on the edge, and she's never come to terms with the event that ripped her family apart when she was ten years old. And so, on a birthday that she doesn't want to celebrate, she returns alone to St Ives to face up to her guilt and grief. This trip turns out to be more life-changing than expected – not only for herself, but for her family and some of the locals.

Do Not Feed the Bear is a book about people taking time to find themselves - a lifetime, in some cases, a chance meeting, in others. It's a book about healing, about who you trust and who you know, and a life-affirming book about love, and letting things go.

THE SIX LOVES OF BILLY BINNS

Richard Lumsden

If you were looking back over a hundred years of your life, what would you change? A wonderfully quirky, honest and heartfelt debut novel.

The Six Loves of Billy Binns is a deeply moving and honest debut set in London against the backdrop of the changing 20th century.

At 117 years old, Billy Binns is the oldest man in Europe and he knows his time is almost up. But Billy has a final wish: he wants to remember what love feels like one last time. As he looks back at the relationships that have shaped his flawed life - and the events that shaped the century - he recalls a life full of hope, mistakes, heartbreak and, above all, love.

THE SOMETHING GIRL (Frogmorton Farm 2)

Jodi Taylor

The Nothing Girl has grown up. It's life as usual at Frogmorton Farm - which is to say that events have passed the merely eccentric and are now galloping headlong towards the completely bizarre.

Once again Jenny struggles to stay afloat in the stormy seas of matrimony with her husband, Russell Checkland, together with an unlikely mix of Patagonian Attack Chickens, Jack the Sad Donkey and Mrs Crisp's mysterious boyfriend.

So nothing much is new ... except for the mysterious figure dogging Jenny's steps and who, if she didn't know better, she would swear was her sinister cousin Christopher, last seen being hurled from the house by her wayward husband. He couldn't possibly be stupid enough to come back and try again ... could he?

THE HOUSEMAID'S DAUGHTER Barbara Mutch

A South African The Help, The Housemaid's Daughter is a startling and thought-provoking debut novel which intricately portrays the drama, dynamics and heartbreak of two women against the backdrop of a beautiful yet divided land.

Cathleen leaves her home in Ireland in 1919 to travel to South Africa and marry the fiance she has not seen for five years. Isolated and estranged in a harsh landscape, she finds solace in her diary and in her housemaid's daughter, Ada. When Ada is compromised and finds she is expecting a mixed-race child, she flees her home. Scorned within her own community, Ada is forced to carve a life for herself, her child, and her music. But Cathleen still believes in Ada, and risks the constraints of apartheid to search for her and persuade her to return. Beyond the cruelty, there is love, hope - and redemption.

THE UNLIKELY HEROICS OF SAM HOLLOWAY

Rhys Thomas

Sam Holloway has survived the worst that life can throw at you. But he's not really living. His meticulous routines keep everything nice and safe - with just one exception...

Three nights a week, Sam dons his superhero costume and patrols the streets. It makes him feel invincible - but his unlikely heroics are getting him into some sticky, and increasingly dangerous, situations.

Then a girl comes into his life, and his ordered world is thrown into chaos ... and now Sam needs to decide whether he can be brave enough to finally take off the mask.

Both hilarious and heart-warming, this is a story about love, loneliness, grief, and the life-changing power of kindness.

AGATHA CHRISTIE - Laura Thompson

It has been 100 years since Agatha Christie wrote her first novel and created the formidable Hercule Poirot.

Agatha Christie's life is as much of a mystery as her spectacular novels. But now, with unique access to previously unpublished papers, Laura Thompson brings us a perceptive and stylish biography of Agatha Christie as a phenomenon, a writer and a woman.

In this biography, Laura Thompson describes the Edwardian world in which she grew up, explores the relationships she had, including those with her two husbands and daughter, and investigates the mysteries still surrounding Christie's life - including her 1926 disappearance.

Agatha Christie is a mystery and writing about her is a detection job in itself. But, with access to all of Christie's letters, papers and writing notebooks, as well as interviews with her grandson, daughter, son-in-law and their living relations, Thompson is able to unravel not only the detailed workings of Christie's detective fiction, but the truth behind her private life as well.
