LYING NUMBERS: HOW MATHS AND STATISTICS ARE TWISTED AND ABUSED by Hugh Barker

Popular Maths | Robinson | 288pp | May 2020 | Korea: EYA | Japan: EAJ

How figures are badly reported or deliberately misrepresented everywhere, from political arguments and business presentations to shopping offers.

Politicians, economists, scientists, journalists - all of them have been known to bend the truth and to twist the facts from time to time. But surely the numbers and statistics they rely on are cold, hard objective facts that tell the real story? Of course, the truth is much murkier than that. Figures can be misinterpreted, misunderstood, misconstrued and misused in hundreds of different ways. This book takes a look at the many ways that statistical information can be badly reported or deliberately abused in all walks of life, from political arguments, to business presentations, to more local concerns such as shopping offers and utility bills. LYING NUMBERS is a polemical guide to how numbers are used to mislead, which is intended to help the reader through the minefield of dubious stats and lying numbers.

Praise for Hugh Barker's Million Dollar Maths: Great fun. A clear, original and highly readable account of the curious relationship between mathematics and money – Professor Ian Stewart, author of Significant Figures; A lively crash course in the mathematics of gambling, investing, and managing. Hugh Barker makes deep ideas fun and profitable - William Poundstone, author of How to Predict the Unpredictable.

HUGH BARKER is a non-fiction author and editor; as the latter he has edited several successful popular maths books, including A Slice of Pi. He is the author of Million Dollar Maths (Atlantic Books, October 2018) and High-Tech Maths (Atlantic, 2019–20). He was accepted to study maths at Cambridge aged sixteen.

 THE 4 DAY WEEK: HOW THE FLEXIBLE WORK REVOLUTION CAN INCREASE PRODUCTIVITY, PROFITABILITY AND WELLBEING, AND CREATE A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE by Andrew Barnes with Stephanie Jones

Business | Piatkus | 240pp | January 2020 | Korea: Duran Kim | Japan: EAJ

In The 4 Day Week, entrepreneur and business innovator Andrew Barnes makes the case for the four-day week as the answer to many of the ills of the 21st-century global economy.

The world of work has seen a dramatic shift in recent times: the former security and benefits associated with permanent employment are being displaced by the less stable gig economy. Barnes explains the dangers of a focus on flexibility at the expense of hard-won worker protections, and argues that with the four-day week, we can have the best of all worlds: optimal productivity, work-life balance, worker benefits and, at long last, a solution to pervasive economic inequities such as the gender pay gap and lack of diversity in business and governance.

The 4 Day Week is a practical, how-to guide for business leaders and employees alike that is applicable to nearly every industry. Using qualitative and quantitative data from research gathered through the Perpetual Guardian trial and other sources by the University of Auckland and Auckland University of Technology, the book presents a step-by-step approach to preparing businesses for productivity-focused flexibility, from the necessary cultural conditions to the often complex legislative considerations.

ANDREW BARNES is the architect of the four-day week, having successfully trialled the idea at his own company, Perpetual Guardian. The story of that trial and its aftermath made global headlines and turned Andrew into the recognised authority on the future of work.

THE COMPLETE GUIDE TO CODEBREAKING AND SOLVING CRYPTOGRAMS by Elonka Dunin and Klaus Schmeh

Puzzle | Robinson | 304pp | August 2020

This book describes the most common encryption techniques along with methods to detect and break them.

The Zodiac Killer sent four encrypted messages to the police – one was solved, three were not. Beatrix Potter's diary and the Voynich Manuscript are two encrypted books, only one of which was deciphered. The breaking of the so-called Zimmerman Telegram in the First World War changed the course of history. Several encrypted telegrams sent by Abraham Lincoln during the Civil War are still unsolved. Tens of thousands of other encrypted messages – ranging from simple notes created by children to military messages from the Second World War – are known to exist. Breaking these cryptograms fascinates people all over the world. This book provides instruction on codebreaking techniques and is complemented with success stories and details of unsolved encryption mysteries.

ELONKA DUNIN is an American video game developer and cryptologist. Dan Brown named a character, Nola Kaye, in his novel The Lost Symbol after her. She is considered the leading Kryptos expert in the world and is a member of the NSA Cryptologic Museum Foundation's Board.

KLAUS SCHMEH is one of the world's leading experts on the history of encryption and the most published cryptology author in the world - twelve books about encryption technology (written in German), 150 articles, 20 scientific publications and 800 blog posts. He is a member of the editorial board of the scientific magazine, Cryptologia, and a frequent speaker at encryption conferences in Europe and the USA.

SAVING THE LAST RHINOS by Grant Fowlds and Graham Spence

THE LAST RHINOS tells the remarkable story of conservationist Grant Fowlds.

In the last nine years, over 6,100 rhinoceroses have been killed by poachers in South Africa, leaving fewer than 19,000 white rhinoceroses and 2,000 black rhinoceroses in the country. In 2016, the number of rhinos poached in South Africa stood at 1,054 (Department of Environmental Affairs). In 2017, 529 rhinos had been slaughtered by the end of July. In the last nine years, over 6,100 rhinos have been poached in South Africa leaving fewer than 19,000 white, and 2,000 black rhinos in the country. The situation is critical.

Grant Fowlds is a passionate conservationist who puts himself in the front line, on the ground, where it matters. He is deeply focused on highlighting the vast increase in rhino poaching, a scourge which has placed these mighty animals under serious threat of extinction. He is a partner of Rhino Art with the founder, philanthropic adventurer, Kingsley Holgate. Rhino Art -- 'Let the children's voices be heard' -- Project's aim is to gather the largest number of children's 'Art Voices' ever recorded, in support of Rhino Protection, and to use these 'Hearts and Minds' messages from the children of Africa as a worldwide call to action against rhino poaching. On a broader level he works closely with all of the biggest global and local conservation agencies, including WWF.

GRANT FOWLDS is a South African conservationist with a unique commitment to everything endangered. Grant's vision is to try to fill the shoes of the late elephant whisperer, Lawrence Anthony and his recent undercover filming of a tusk and horn auction in Vietnam demonstrates that he is on the right track.

GRAHAM SPENCE is a journalist and editor. Originally from South Africa, he lives in England. Together he and his brother-in-law, conservationist Lawrence Anthony, wrote The Elephant Whisperer, the story of the incredible relationship forged between one man and a herd of wild African elephants. Other books with Lawrence Anthony include Babylon's Ark: The Incredible Wartime Rescue of the Baghdad Zoo, and The Last Rhinos: The Powerful Story of One Man's Battle to Save a Species.

* NO FEAR GARDENING: HOW TO THINK LIKE A GARDENER by Charlie Hart

Gardening | Constable | 288pp | April 2020

Gardens are considered good for mind, body and soul. Pruning and planting and watering and weeding can help us to relax and focus and are a wonderful way to spend more time in the great outdoors. Yet just the thought of reaching for shears or a spade can strike fear into even the bravest of hearts, meaning we rarely make the most of our backyard Edens.

A reassuring, easy-to-use handbook, No Fear Gardening is aimed at all budding gardeners and anyone who might be missing out simply because they don't know how and where to start. Maybe you have been put off by the overwhelming number of species of plants and their baffling Latin names. Perhaps you're worried about never having had any formal training, or you might be purely looking for a new way to relax. Whatever the reason, this book will answer all your questions: from getting started and growing flowers and vegetables, to cultivating trees and hedges and landscaping your garden - Charlie has condensed a wealth of gardening know-how into easy-to-follow and practical tips.

ASTRONOMICAL: FROM QUARKS TO QUASARS: THE SCIENCE OF SPACE AT ITS STRANGEST by Tim James

Popular Science | Robinson | 288pp | Integrated b/w drawings | August 2020

From Quarks to Quasars: The Science of Space at its Strangest.

Tim James explains new and strange discoveries from astrophysics, astronomy and cosmology in a light-hearted manner with anecdotes and humour to make the science as accessible as possible. He explores high-concept science and theoretical physics in a straightforward way, accompanied by the quirky explanatory sketches that have become his trademark on his YouTube channel and in previous books.

Tim's emphasis is on space at its most unusual and extreme, but also a response to common Google searches on topics such as dark energy, dark matter, Hawking radiation and the Big Bang. He focuses on recent developments and discoveries from the past few years which will not have been covered by any current books on space. Astronomical is not a book about standard space topics such as the names of the planets, the history of astronomy, stargazing or how to use a telescope, as most space books are. It is a book about the weirdness of the cosmos. What sets Tim's book apart is that it focuses on extreme and eccentric stories and discoveries, with an emphasis on explaining the physics behind these in ways that are easy to understand.

TIM JAMES is a science teacher and populariser, YouTuber, blogger and Instagrammer. His YouTube videos have been viewed over 410,000 times and his website receives over 2,000 hits a week. He has regularly appeared on BBC Radio as a science consultant. Raised by missionaries in Nigeria, he fell in love with science at the age of fifteen and refuses to get over his infatuation. After graduating with a Master's degree in chemistry, specialising in computational quantum mechanics, he decided to get straight into the classroom. His first book, Elemental: How the Periodic Table Now Explains (Nearly) Everything was selected by the Daily Mail as one of the best books of 2018, his second, Fundamental: How quantum and particle physics explain absolutely everything (except gravity), will be published in August 2019. Option Publishers: Chinese Simplified (Beijing Xiron Books), German (Benevento), Polish (Proszynski Media), Portuguese in Brazil (Zahar), Turkish (Timas Yayinlari), US (Overlook Press).

THE CLIMATE IS CHANGING, WHY AREN'T WE? A PRACTICAL GUIDE TO HOW YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE by Daisy Kendrick

Climate change/sustainability | Piatkus | 288pp | June 2020

The only practical guide to tackle climate change on an individual level with global results, focusing on food, fashion, technology and more, by the founder of Ocean Generation.

This book is an open-minded tool to endorse environmentalism in a practical and realistic way. A climate change guidebook for millennials and Gen-Z, concerned for their future. This book is not here to convince young people climate change actually exists; we know that. This book will offer easy to understand insights into the structures that suffocate our future, while upholding a sense of optimism and collective faith. Through inspirational stories, shocking statistics and easy switches for readers to make in their everyday lives, this book will smash the 'frumpy' stigma around environmentalism to be a very sleek, fun, bold and cultural translation into the world of climate change.

After graduating Northeastern University in Boston and interning at the United Nations in New York for the Permanent Mission of Grenada, DAISY KENDRICK founded Ocean Generation (OG) to disrupt and innovate the standard charity model. Frustrated at the lack of awareness and action being taken by millennials and Gen Z to protect our climate and oceans, she created OG to utilise media and technology to inform, educate and change behaviour at a global scale. She is the youngest recipient of the 2018 Marie Claire Future Shaper award and was recognized as one of Britain's 50 most remarkable women by the Daily Mail.

WHERE THE EARTH MEETS THE SKY by James Kerr

Nature & Culture | Constable | 352pp | June 2020 | Korea: | Japan: TMA

The epic and elemental account of a seismic event - Mount Everest Avalanche, 25 April 2015 - that encompasses the portrait of a nation, the dynamics of disaster, and its impact on the people it envelops

At 11.56am on 25 April 2015, an earthquake triggered an avalanche that took out Everest Base Camp; twenty-two people perished on the worst day in the mountain's history. In Nepal, 9,000 people died and 22,000 were critically injured. Three million required humanitarian assistance. Nepal's infrastructure and economy collapsed. Two years after the disaster, Nepal struggles to recover. Meanwhile, the Gurkhas, who were central to the events of 2015, are back on the mountain and once more aiming for the top. Will they summit? Will disaster strike again?

WHERE THE EARTH MEETS THE SKY is the epic, elemental account of a seismic event - the days leading up to it, the moment it hits and its impact on those it envelops. An unsparing but inspiring chronicle, it shows what it takes to survive a hostile environment, to adapt and overcome. It transports us to the roof of the world, a place where more than sixty bodies lie where they fell; where the mountaineering ghosts of Irvine and Mallory still walk, and the legend of Sir Edmund Hillary lives on.

JAMES KERR is a bestselling author, award-winning creative director and brand consultant, and advises leading companies on brand identity, advertising, internal communications, and transformational culture change. He is the 300,000 copy bestselling author of THE ALPHABET OF THE HUMAN HEART and LEGACY, and a former captain of the Waihi School 'Under Six Stone' rugby team.

SOFT POWER: THE NEW GREAT GAME FOR GLOBAL DOMINANCE by Robert Winder

Politics & Culture | Little, Brown | 400pp | July 2020 | Korea: EYA | Japan: EAJ

Prisoners of Geography* meets The World is Flat in a ground-breaking new study

There's a new Great Game afoot, and it involves soft power. As national movements resurface across the world, unsettling the international balance, the old-fashioned 'sphere of influence' is making a comeback. Nation states are once again competing to win friends and influence people by selling themselves as alluring brands. In BLOODY FOREIGNERS and THE LAST WOLF, Robert Winder explored the way Britain was shaped first by migration, and then by hidden geographical factors. Now, in SOFT POWER he explores the way modern states are asserting themselves not through traditional realpolitik but through alternative means: business, language, culture, ideas, sport, education, music, even food - the texture and values of history and daily life. Moving from West to East, from America to Japan, the book will estimate the weight of soft power by exploring the varied ways in which it operates - from an American sheriff in Poland to an English garden in Ravello, a French vineyard in Australia, an Asian restaurant in Spain, a Chinese Friendship Hall in the Sudan. Soft power used to be thought of as merely the surface gloss on hard power - the velvet glove on the iron fist. But in the modern world of high-speed data flow and energetic migration, it now packs a decisive punch in its own right.

ROBERT WINDER was literary editor of The Independent for 5 years and deputy editor of Granta magazine. He is the author of three novels and four previous non-fiction titles, including THE LAST WOLF and the bestselling BLOODY FOREIGNERS.

WRAPPED IN BEAUTY

THE LITTLE BOOK OF HUMANISM

WRAPPED IN BEAUTY: WHY OUR CHRISTIAN CULTURAL HISTORY MATTERS by Blanche Girouard

Religion & Culture | Constable | 288pp | May 2021 | Korea: EYA | Japan:

WRAPPED IN BEAUTY provides readers with the religious framework they need to take pleasure in some of the greatest works of music, art and literature that Christianity has produced

You don't need an iota of faith to benefit from religious art and stories. Step inside the eighty-four-foot nave of Salisbury cathedral and you will feel your spirits soar. Attend a service of choral evensong in Magdalen College chapel and you will feel yourself transported. Read the biblical story of Peter's denial, hear it transposed into music by J.S. Bach and Peter's aria 'Erbarme Dich', and you will be as moved by it as you are moved by the most poignant scene in the best film or modern-day soap opera.

This is a heritage that belongs to, and can benefit, us all. Even the stories can help guide us. For Bible stories, writes Karen Armstrong, are to be counted among the world's great myths, pointing 'beyond history, to what is timeless in human existence'. That is why writers, artists and composers have drawn on them for centuries and still draw on them today. WRAPPED IN BEAUTY will reclaim Christian stories and culture for non-believers, providing readers with the knowledge to discover the great works Christianity has inspired, and seeing them as sources of pleasure and inspiration rather than curious relics of an ignorant past.

BLANCHE GIROUARD read Classics and Theology at Oxford and then, after working as a prison officer, barrister and youth worker, took a post as a teacher of Religious Studies at North London Collegiate. She has made features for BBC World Service and presented features on BBC Radio 4. She also interviews authors and writes occasional pieces for the Times, the Guardian and the Financial Times.

 BASIC BLOCKCHAIN: WHAT IT IS AND HOW IT WILL CHANGE THE WAY WE WORK AND LIVE by David Shrier

Culture | Robinson | 192pp | January 2020 | Approx. 10 b/w diagrams | Korea: KCC | Japan: Uni

A revolution is under way across the globe, yet very few people understand it. Basic Blockchain will explain everything you need to know to understand the technology that will soon disrupt and revolutionise everything from financial and health services to the property market and how we vote

Born of an obscure body of research on game theory developed at MIT, originally championed by child pornographers and drug dealers seeking to launder ill-gotten gains, accelerated by entrepreneurs seeking to improve financial access for the poor, funded by giant corporate interests attracted to the potential for billions of dollars of cost savings, blockchain heralds a new era of financial inclusion, legal inclusion for the dispossessed and lower prices for consumers. In short, it will enact radical change on our lives.

- The history of blockchain, its apocryphal progenitor Satoshi Nakamoto and the socioeconomic context of its origins in the 2008 financial crisis.
- How blockchain works, including the core technologies that drive it such as cryptographic hashes and network theory, all described in simple, understandable terms.
- The potential of blockchain, including its impact on our jobs, industry and society as a whole.

Blockchain is the new internet, and it will disrupt and transform the economy and society in the same way. Most people don't understand it (yet), but this accessible book, written by a global authority on blockchain, is the essential introduction to the next technological revolution.

Have you merged your collection with your other half's? (And do you write your name inside the cover, just in case?) Do you keep all the books you've read, or only the most cherished? (Is there such a thing as too many books?) Are you a Billy aficionado, or are we talking library ladders and bespoke Oak shelves? Bound to provoke (good-natured) debate between Bibliophiles, SHELF RESPECT is a charmingly illustrated book in defence of towering TBR piles and overflowing shelves... no matter how you choose to organise them.

HOW TO BE UNREASONABLY SUCCESSFUL

* 90 RULES FOR ENTREPRENEURS by Marnus Broodryk

Business | Robinson | 256pp | March 2020

Discover the secrets that distinguish successful entrepreneurs from those who fail and learn which rules to follow and which to break. Marnus Broodryk, one of South Africa's best-known young entrepreneurs, shares the lessons he wishes he'd been taught before he started out.

This is not just another one of those books about 'rules'; this book may be the defining factor that will turn your dream into reality. Many have succeeded at being an entrepreneur, but many, many more have failed. Which side would you rather be on? Sure, entrepreneurship is often about breaking the rules. But there are also a number of them that you should follow if you want to survive long enough to see what happens when you do. A business should be more than just a venture – it should be an adventure! The difference between a successful journey, rather than a wasted one, is knowing when to do what. That is what this book is about. Not science, but experience. The rules of hustle.

MARNUS BROODRYK was born and raised in the small town of Harrismith in the Free State, South Africa. Raised by a single mom, who could barely afford his school fees, his 'rags to riches' success story reads like a movie script. He started washing cars and cutting grass to pay for school himself, followed by 18-hour days to get through university. A short decade later and Marnus has built one of the most valued and successful accounting firms in South Africa and was the youngest investor ever to be on the international television show Shark Tank. Today, this 32-year-old entrepreneur is the founder and CEO of The Beancounter, an accounting firm that takes the stress out of accounting for small- and medium-sized businesses. Marnus is arguably one of the most well-known entrepreneurs in South Africa and has become a thought leader and advocate for small business owners.

GLADIUS

GLADIUS: LIFE IN ROMAN ARMY by Guy de la Bédoyère

Ancient History | Little, Brown | 400pp | November 2020

Titus Flaminius ... of Legion XIV Gemina, served as a soldier for 22 years, and now here I am. Read this and be more or less lucky in your lifetime. - Tombstone of a legionary, found at Wroxeter, Britain. Mid-1st century AD

GLADIUS takes the reader right into the heart of what it meant to be a part of the Roman army: through the words of Roman historians and those of the men themselves; through their religious dedications, tombstones, and even private letters and graffiti. GLADIUS throws open a window on how the men, their wives and their children lived, from bleak frontier garrisons to guarding the emperor in Rome, enjoying a ringside seat to history fighting the emperors' wars, mutinying over pay, marching in triumphs, throwing their weight around in city streets, and enjoying esteem in honourable retirement.

The Roman army reached its greatest extent and power in the age of the emperors, after developing in the last two centuries of the Republic. This is the main focus of GLADIUS. It was Augustus who formalized the Roman army and turned it into a permanent organization after his victory at Actium in 31 BC. It was the greatest fighting machine the ancient world produced. The Roman Empire depended on soldiers not just to win its wars, defend its frontiers and control the seas but also to act as the engine of the state. Roman legionaries and auxiliaries came from across the Roman world and beyond. They served as tax collectors, policemen, surveyors, civil engineers and, if they survived, in retirement as civic worthies, craftsmen and politicians. Some even rose to become emperors. GLADIUS takes the reader through all aspects of life in the Roman army from 31 BC to AD 337 (Augustus to Constantine) and goes way beyond the scope of soldiers and weapons.

GUY DE LA BÉDOYÈRE has written a large number of books on the Roman world over the last thirty years, including Domina: The Women Who Made Imperial Rome, Praetorian and The Real Lives of Roman Britain for Yale University Press. He is well known to a wider audience because of the fifteen years he participated in Channel 4's archaeology series Time Team. He has degrees from Durham, London and University College, and is a Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries. He has lectured in Britain and abroad, mainly Australia, and is an accredited lecturer of the Arts Society.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF PORTUGAL by Jeremy Black

History | Robinson | 256pp | April 2020

Black shows how Portugal had a global impact, but the world, too, had an impact on Portugal

This comprehensive study takes in the Stone Age and the Roman era, from AD 420 to the thirteenth century, Visigoths and Moors. Then, a look at medieval Portugal covers the development of Christian Portugal culminating with the expulsion of the Moors, with a focus on key sites. Portugal had enormous influence, particularly during the 'age of exploration' in the fifteenth century to 1580. In fact, Portugal was the first of the Atlantic empires, with territory in the Azores, Madeira, West Africa and Brazil, and it remained a major empire until the 1820s, even retaining an African empire until the 1970s, but its empire in Asia (Malacca, Macao, Goa and Timor) continued even longer – until the 1990. The nineteenth century brought turmoil in the form of a French invasion, the Peninsular War, Brazilian independence, successive revolutions, economic issues and the end of the monarchy. Republican Portugal brought further chaos in the early years of the twentieth century, then the dictatorship of Salazar and its end in the Carnation Revolution of 1974. Portugal's role in both world wars is examined, and its role in the world today.

JEREMY BLACK is one of the UK's most respected and prolific historians. He is Professor of History at Exeter University and a renowned expert on the history of war. His recent books include A BRIEF HISTORY OF ITALY and The World of James Bond, which offers a historian's perspective on the Bond novels and films. He appears regularly on TV and radio, including BBC Radio 4's In Our Time.

 A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE MEDITERRANEAN: FROM THE PHOENICIANS TO THE PRESENT DAY by Jeremy Black

History | Robinson | 320pp | July 2020

This concise and very readable history of the Mediterranean Sea, from the Phoenicians to the present day, is intended for a popular audience of holidaymakers, looking for something less weighty than a 600-plus-page historical tome, but something much more informative and authoritative than the sort of potted history to be found in a travel guide.

The Mediterranean welcomes tens of millions of tourists, both international and local, every year. Whether cruising or lounging on a beach, the sea itself is the focus for many tourists. This concise history will provide an account of the Mediterranean in which the experience of travel is foremost: for tourism, for trade, for war, for migration and for culture. It will cover everything from the Phoenicians to the modern tourist cruising in comfort. Throughout, there will be an emphasis on the sea and on the port cities – such as Athens, Barcelona, Naples and Palermo – visited by cruise liners. Black covers everything from the ancient world of the Phoenicians, Greeks and Romans, the age of galley warfare and the battle with Islamic forces at Lepanto, to Shakespeare's Mediterranean – A Comedy of Errors, Othello, The Tempest and The Merchant of Venice. He explores the Renaissance and the Baroque, the beginnings of English tourism, Nelson at the Battle of the Nile and the establishment of British power in Gibraltar, Minorca and Malta. He looks at the retreat of Islam as European powers take over in North Africa, the age of steam and the birth of the Pax Britannica as the British take over in Cyprus, Egypt and the Ionian Islands. Black considers the significance of the Suez Canal and the route to India; the Riviera; the Mediterranean as a theatre of war in the Second World War and the Cold War; oil and the Middle East; and, finally, the relatively recent history of cruising the Mediterranean.

 THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASSES: The Spectacular Life of Spectacles by Travis Elborough

History | Little, Brown | 256pp | March 2021

'Everything was made for a purpose; everything is necessary for the fulfilment of that purpose . Observe that noses have been made for spectacles ; therefore we have spectacles' from Voltaire's Candide

With the broad appeal of books by the likes of Mark Kurlansky, Billy Bryson and Simon Garfield Travis Elborough uses a single , life-changing object to tell a much bigger story. Using personal observation, memoir, reportage, science, social history and cultural criticism , the book moves chronologically through the story of spectacles The historical scope is wide, ranging from early theories about how the eye worked and theological and philosophical arguments about the limits of perception by Greek thinkers and Arab scholars, through to the ingeniousness of Italian glassmakers in the Medieval and Renaissance periods. There are appearances by the great and the good bespectacled men and women of yesteryear, running the gamut from the fictional Clark Kent in Superman to the authors Aldous Huxley, James Joyce, and Angela Carter, and including such actors and musicians such as Buddy Holly, Michael Caine, Dizzy Gillespie and John Lennon, and their lorgnettes, monocles, Pince-nez, horn-rims, tortoise-shell 'Oxfords' and Ray Ban aviator shades. Through the Looking Glasses is about vision and the need for humanity to see clearly and where the impulse to improve of our eyesight has led us. The society of the spectacle may finally be upon us . . . but how much of it do we really see? Acclaimed by the Guardian as 'one of the UK's finest pop culture historians.' Travis Elborough has been a writer, author and broadcaster for twenty years.

CASTAWAY: THE REMARKABLE TRUE STORY OF THE FRENCH CABIN BOY ABANDONED IN NINETEENTH CENTURY AUSTRALIA by Robert Macklin

History | Robinson | 336pp | November 2019 | Korea: | Japan: Uni

A true story of an almost unimaginable experience that has at its heart what it means to be human and that what unites us is far more significant than what divides us

This is the remarkable true story of a French cabin boy Narcisse Pelletier who, after disembarking from his ship the Saint-Paul with the rest of its crew in search of drinking water, found himself separated from his shipmates and in the end abandoned on the north coast of Queensland, Australia. Narcisse was adopted by an Aboriginal group who welcomed him as one of their own for seventeen years, during which time he had a family of his own. In 1875, though, he was kidnapped by the brig John Bell and was returned eventually to his family in Saint-Gilles, France, where he became a lighthouse keeper. Robert Macklin makes skilful use of Narcisse's own memoir Chez les sauvages along with new research to tell this extraordinary story.

ROBERT MACKLIN is well known as the author of Australian and military titles including Dark Paradise, Operation Milau and Warrior Elite. His most recent biography, Hamilton Hume, is an account of the life of one of Australia's first explorers.

ONE FINE DAY by Matthew Parker

History | Little, Brown | 400pp | 16pp b/w & colour | September 2021

The story of the greatest empire in world history at its absolute, hubristic zenith

29th September 1923. The British Empire was fourteen million square miles, just under a quarter of the globe's land area. 460 million people, a fifth of the world's population inhabited it. In ONE FINE DAY Matthew Parker examines this astonishing edifice in all its glory but with all of its ugly underbelly clearly visible, and with the seeds of its demise already sown. Readers will be able to inhabit the lives of people, rich and poor, male and female, coloniser and colonised, who are agents in this moment of apparent imperial super-glory. We learn what they ate, what they wore, their likes and dislikes, what they thought. This magisterial survey takes in trivial, personal events as well as momentous political and military ones. While there might be ground-breaking elections, military clashes and violent demonstrations, there are also marriages, suicides, strange disappearances, parties.

MATTHEW PARKER was born in El Salvador in 1970 to an expatriate family and while growing up lived in Britain, Norway and Barbados. He read English at Balliol College, Oxford and then worked in a number of roles in book publishing in London from salesman to commissioning editor.

SLAVE EMPIRE: How Slavery Made Modern Britain by Padraic X. Scanlan

History | Robinson | 304pp | October 2020

How Slavery Made Modern Britain. The British empire, in sentimental myth, was more free, more just and more fair than its rivals; if other empires left their old colonies backward basket cases when their power waned, the British empire left railways, print culture and democracy. The claim that the British empire was 'free' and that, for all of its flaws and missteps, it offered promised liberty to all its subjects has always been a lie – the British empire was built on slavery.

Slave Empire puts enslaved people at the centre of the global web of colonies, territories, outposts, commercial projects and institutions that made up the British empire. The book explores the world of British slavery in intimate, human detail. Each chapter takes readers to a particular moment and place important to the history of British slavery – from the Jamaican bivouac of Oliver Cromwell's New Model Army in 1655, to the secret meetings of enslaved revolutionaries in Barbados in 1816 – and builds outward, showing how slavery and the work of enslaved labourers were the sinews of the empire. With vivid original research and careful synthesis of innovative historical scholarship, Slave Empire shows that British freedom and British slavery were made together.

Dr PADRAIC X. SCANLAN is an historian of Britain and its relationship to the wider world, with a particular focus on histories of slavery, capitalism and emancipation from the early seventeenth to the mid-nineteenth centuries. His research centres on the practices and material history of the abolition of slavery and the slave trade, and the effects of abolition on the governance of Britain and the British empire. He is also broadly interested in the social and administrative histories of bureaucrats and bureaucracies, and in the history of everyday economic life.

 SLAVERY IN THE AMERICAS by James Walvin

History | Robinson | 512 pp | August 2021

A significant new work on slavery in the Americas as an agent of global change, the culmination of the life's work of respected historian of slavery James Walvin. It draws on the latest research to show the significance of the impact of slavery in the Americas on the entire world, from South America to China and from Scandinavia to Africa. Walvin also looks at the Americas as a whole rather than focusing more narrowly on North America.

Walvin explores the transformation of the world as a result of the global reach of the Atlantic slave system, from the Peruvian silver mined by slaves, which was so vital to the finances of imperial China, to the significance of Swedish iron, vital for shackles and firearms; also the development of regulated labour, bookkeeping and numerous other innovations. Walvin aims to shift the debate about slavery from its more narrowly focused interest on particular countries, to considering slavery as an agent of major global change. At one level – the stark demography of slavery – this is obvious enough: many millions of people of African descent now live in the Americas – their ancestors landed there, against their wishes, as slaves. Twelve million Africans were embarked; eleven million landed in the Americas. But that is merely the most striking of many global changes wrought by slavery.

JAMES WALVIN is the author of many books on slavery and modern social history. His book, Crossings, was published by Reaktion Books in 2013 and he is the author of How Sugar Corrupted the World: From Slavery to Obesity (Robinson, 2017) and Freedom: The Overthrow of the Slave Empires (Robinson, 2019). His first book, with Michael Craton, was a detailed study of a sugar plantation: A Jamaican Plantation, Worthy Park, 1670–1970 (Toronto, 1970). He became a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature in 2006, and in 2008 was awarded an OBE for services to scholarship. He has recently been granted the Los Angeles Times Distinguished Fellowship in the History and Culture of the Americas for 2019–2020 and will be living and working in Los Angeles for a year.

* THE SECRET HISTORY OF SOVIET RUSSIA'S POLICE STATE: CRUELTY, CO-OPERATION AND COMPROMISE, 1917-91 by Martyn Whittock

European History | Robinson | 288 pp | June 2020

Citizens of the West have, for the most part, been told a very simplified story of the repressive 'totalitarian' state that was the USSR. In fact, it was sustained by more than just policing and force. No amount of revisionist history can erase the reality of millions controlled, imprisoned and killed, but there was much more to the USSR's one-party state than this. Whittock tells a more complex story of the combination of cruelty, co-operation and compromise required to build and run a one-party state. Much of this is the story of the role played by the secret police in creating and sustaining such a form of government, but it is much more than simply a 'history of the secret police'. This is because the 'police state' which emerged (in which dissent, both real and imaginary, was undoubtedly policed, threatened and ruthlessly eliminated) was more than just the product of the arrests, interrogations, executions and imprisonments carried out by the secret police. The USSR was also made possible by a battle for hearts and minds which led millions of people to feel that they really had benefited from the system and had a stake in the new society.

MARTYN WHITTOCK graduated in Politics from Bristol University in 1980, where his degree special study was in the Development of the Soviet State. He taught history at secondary level for thirty-five years, teaching Soviet History at A-Level and writing an A-Level text book entitled Stalin's Russia and a GCSE textbook on Russia and the Soviet Union 1917-1941. He has acted as an historical consultant to the National Trust, the BBC and English Heritage and is the author or co-author of forty-eight books, including A Brief History of Life in the Middle Ages, A Brief History of the Third Reich and Norse Myths and Legends.

AFTERNOONS WITH THE BLINDS DRAWN by Brett Anderson

Memoir | Little, Brown | 288pp | October 2019 | Korea: | Japan: EAJ

The essential second volume of memoirs by Brett Anderson, which reveals the whole Suede story

In AFTERNOONS WITH THE BLINDS DRAWN, Anderson unflinchingly explores his relationship with addiction, his regrets surrounding the severed musical bond with fellow founding member and guitarist Bernard Butler, and demonstrates a clear-eyed perspective on his youthful persona: 'As a young man... I oscillated between morbid self-reflection and vainglorious narcissism' he writes. This honesty, sharply self-aware and articulate, makes AFTERNOON WITH THE BLINDS DRAWN a compelling autobiography, and a moving tribute to one of the most significant bands of the last quarter century, its impact on our musical landscape, its resilience, and its evolution.

Praise for COAL BLACK MORNINGS: A remarkable feat, utterly true. This decade's Heartbreaking Work of Staggering Genius - Douglas Coupland, author of Generation X; This memoir is a thought-provoking meditation on how our childhoods form the people we become, as well as a love letter to London [...] perfect - Evening Standard; Fascinating [...] gorgeously written. On more than one occasion it made me well up [...] most certainly not just for the fan club - The Guardian; elegantly written, gently reflective [...] COAL BLACK MORNINGS stands as a quietly wistful, ineffably romantic coming of age story, a beautiful little reminder of the magic that happens around the edges - The Sunday Times; COAL BLACK MORNINGS is a triumph [...] A bracingly honest work raised way above the celeb-book fray by Anderson's obvious talent for writing [...] What he says is revelatory, and delivered with writerly panache - as is the rest of this singular memoir, which sends you back to the music, suddenly aware of the wealth of experience that sparked its creation - Mojo.

FUNK IS ITS OWN REWARD: FROM RHYTHM & BLUES TO HIP HOP by Lloyd Bradley

The story of Funk is spectacular, silly, sexy, militant, profligate, pioneering, disciplined, improvisational, imaginative and never ever boring. A bit like the music itself

Second to Jazz, Funk is black America's most significant and recognizable cultural invention. It remains hugely popular in the UK and Europe, Australia and Japan. Like Jamaica's reggae it put a people's freedom of expression squarely into popular culture. Like reggae it accelerated an internally driven cultural modernisation. Like reggae it is inseparable from the environment and socio-political situations from which it came. And like reggae, Funk deserves to be explored, contextualised and celebrated in its own big book. FUNK IS ITS OWN REWARD will be Bass Culture for black music of the 1970s, telling its stories, its triumphs and excesses as an adventure in music and attitude. Like Easy Riders, Raging Bulls, it will be an intimate portrait of a moment in time that changed things forever.

LLOYD BRADLEY is the author of Sounds Like London: 100 Years of Black Music in the Capital, which was published last year to wide acclaim. It was a Radio 4 Book of the Week and a Financial Times, NME and Daily Telegraph Music Book of the Year. Bass Culture publishers: French (Editions Allia), German (Hannibal), Italy (Shake Edizioni), Japan (Shinko), Spain (Machado), US (Grove Atlantic).

UNTITLED MEMOIR by Baxter Dury

Memoirs | Corsiar | 288pp | August 2020

This memoir is a coming of age story like no other

When punk rock star Ian Dury disappeared to make films in the late eighties, he left his twelve year old son in the care of his roadie in a damp run down flat in Chiswick. But this was no ordinary rock and roll tour roadie; this was the Sulphate Strangler. The Strangler having taken a lot of LSD in the 60s was prone to depression, anger and hallucinations. He'd then gone on to gain notoriety in the 70s by working with Led Zeppelin – he undoubtedly presented a complex personality for a boy of twelve to grasp. Baxter's story is of these formative years and the extraordinary relationship that developed between the two, in a bohemia and time that we can all but imagine now.

Told in the uncompromising tone found in Dury's lyrics and filled with a brutal starkness that will draw comparisons to Viv Albertine's Clothes, Clothes, Clothes, Boys, Boys, Boys, this book will be one the most talked about publications of 2020.

The Guardian said of Baxter's last album, Prince of Tears, 'the songs are so good, the author's parentage scarcely seems to matter.' Dury said of the record himself 'The man singing and speaking it all is unreliable; he can't see the world properly. Its massively delusional, but because of that it's also emotionally true'. The period described in this book was the genesis of the talent we witness today.

Biography | Constable | 352pp | March 2020 | Korea: | Japan: EAJ

The authorised biography of The Who's John Entwistle

It is an unequivocal fact that in terms of rock bands, the Beatles, the Rolling Stones and the Who represent Year Zero; the beginning of all things, ground-breakers all. To that incontrovertible end, John Entwistle, the Who's beloved bassist, is also without question one of the thirteen most important and influential figures in the annals of rock. John Entwistle was a rock star in most everything that he was seen to do and of the grand old school - all swagger, joie de vivre and boundless consumption. With the full co-operation of the Entwistle family and the Who's long-term management, Trinifold, THE OX will shine a long overdue light on one of the greatest, and most impactful figures in rock history.

PAUL REES is a former award-winning Editor of the fabled British rock weekly Kerrang! and was Editor-in-Chief of Q magazine for ten years. * A NEW WAY OF LOOKING by Sarah Knight

Biography | Virago | 320pp | April 2021

This biography focuses on a closely-knit network of avant-garde artists, writers, designers and dancers who dominated the cultural landscape of twentieth-century Britain and beyond

At its centre, was Barbara Ker-Seymer (1905-1993), a pioneering photographer whose iconic images define this talented forward-looking generation. She disdained lucrative 'society' portraits in favour of modern, abstract images, and her portraiture broke with convention, emphasising light, angles and planes to convey the essence of her subjects. Her work was not only famous but widely admired among her peers, among them Man Ray. Paul Nash, artist and influential critic championed her work in print. She was the photographer of choice for the leading actors, artists, dancers, writers and intellectuals of her generation, who flocked to her studio, above Aspreys the Bond Street jewellers. Her sitters include Cyril Connolly, Evelyn Waugh, Margot Fonteyn, Jean Cocteau and Vita Sackville-West.

SARAH KNIGHTS'S first book, Bloomsbury's Outsider: A Life of David Garnett was published by Bloomsbury in 2015 to considerable critical acclaim. It was short-listed for the Slightly Foxed Best First Biography Prize (2015) and for the James Tait Black Prize for Biography (2016).

POST-MILITARY MENTAL HEALTH: A SELF-HELP GUIDE FOR VETERANS AND THEIR FAMILIES by Alan Barrett

Self-Help | Robinson | 288pp | 20 b/w integrated illustrations | September 2020

A new addition to the Overcoming series that provides mental health support for military veterans and their families, who may be experiencing depression, anxiety, PTSD, etc

This new title is aimed at the large market for military veterans, their families, and accredited therapists who may be less familiar with issues particular to this client group, whose mental health needs have been recognised as requiring more support than is routinely available. Psychological complications are very common for 'early service leavers' and for those deployed in combat roles.

There are in excess of 2000 charities and third sector organisations in the UK alone that offer support to this population. In addition to health services (for mental and physical health), and the voluntary sector, military veterans pose particular issues to the local authorities, social services, housing, drug and alcohol services, and the criminal justice system. Veterans often avoid treatment and support they would benefit from, due to various issues of stigma, shame and guilt.

DR ALAN BARRETT is a Consultant Clinical Psychologist and the Clinical Lead for the largest dedicated NHS psychological treatment service for military veterans in the UK. As an active member of the North West Armed Forces Network, Alan additionally represents the region at the National Military Veterans Mental Health Network and supports military veteran mental health as a member of the NW Psychological Professions Network Workforce Board. He is also currently a member of the Mental Health subgroup for the National Armed Forces Clinical reference group at NHS England. He intends to donate 100% of profits from this book back into PCFT's Military Veterans' Service to help more military veterans get the best help available.

FRIENDS by Robin Dunbar

Psychology | Little, Brown | 352pp | February 2021 | Korea: Danny Hong | Japan: EAJ

THE book on friends, our social lives and the meaning of friendship

Friends matter to us, and they matter more than we think. The single most surprising fact to emerge out of the medical literature over the last decade or so has been that the number and quality of the friendships we have has a bigger influence on our happiness, health and even mortality risk than anything else except giving up smoking.

Robin Dunbar is the world-renowned psychologist and author who famously discovered 'Dunbar's number': how our capacity for friendship is limited to around one hundred and fifty people. In FRIENDS, he looks at friendship in the round, at the way different types of friendship and family relationships intersect, or at the complex of psychological and behavioural mechanisms that underpin friendships and make them possible – and just how complicated the business of making and keeping friends actually is. Mixing insights from scientific research with first person experiences and culture, FRIENDS explores and integrates knowledge from disciplines ranging from psychology and anthropology to neuroscience and genetics in a single magical weave that allows us to peer into an incredible social world. Working at the coalface of the subject at both research and personal levels, Robin Dunbar has written the definitive book on how and why we are friends.

ROBIN DUNBAR is an evolutionary psychologist and former director of the Institute of Cognitive and Evolutionary Anthropology in the Department of Experimental Psychology at Oxford University. His acclaimed books include How Many Friends Does One Person Need? and Grooming, Gossip and the Evolution of Language, described by Malcolm Gladwell as "a marvellous work of popular science."

THE COMPASSIONATE MIND APPROACH TO DIFFICULT EMOTIONS by Chris Irons

Self-help | Robinson | 288pp | August 2019 | Korea: Duran Kim | Japan:

A new title in the COMPASSIONATE MIND APPROACH series helping you to deal with emotional problems and regulate your intense feelings and impulses

Emotions bring purpose, pleasure and meaning to our lives. However, for many people, they are synonymous with distress, pain and suffering. Anger and rage can wreck relationships and cause problems at work; anxiety can prevent us from socialising or engaging in things we would like to; sadness can feel overwhelming and never ending. These types of difficulties are often referred to as emotion regulation problems and can prevent us from developing stable and happy relationships, communicating our needs, and flourishing.

This practical self-help book based on Compassion Focused Therapy (CFT) will help you to take a new approach to managing difficult emotions. It outlines why we experience emotions, how they can be helpful but also how and why we can get in to struggles with them. It outlines the Compassionate Mind model and guides you through a series of exercises that will help you to develop your compassion mind and use this to develop more helpful emotion regulation strategies, and bring greater balance to your emotions.

DR CHRIS IRONS is a clinical psychologist, researcher, author and trainer. He is co-director of Balanced Minds (www.balancedminds.com), a London-based organisation providing compassion focused psychological interventions for individuals and organisations. AFTER... The Impact of Child Abuse by Libby Moore and Tony Husband

Self-Help | Robinson | 64pp | December 2019

I want to talk about the things that are happening to you... to us.

As a little girl, Libby Moore was sexually abused by someone she should have been able to trust. Sadly, her experience is not uncommon. Many vulnerable children find themselves trapped in similarly devastating situations.

Abuse leaves indelible marks; Libby lives with severe low self-esteem that has affected her relationships, career and choices into adulthood. She wishes that she could have supported and comforted her younger self, and explained that even when darkness seems all around light still exists. After... is Libby's way of reaching out and reconnecting with her younger self - and to all other survivors of child abuse.

Essential and heart-breaking, with powerful and expressive illustrations by acclaimed cartoonist Tony Husband, this is a compelling and universal personal story. It will comfort and inspire anyone who has suffered childhood violence and abuse, and act as a trusted, therapeutic resource. Full of sensitivity and understanding, it takes a clear-sighted look at how trauma can affect and shape us and explains how through self-compassion we can learn to embrace life and begin to live again.

* SURVIVING STROKE: THE STORY OF A NEUROLOGIST AND HIS FAMILY by Helen Kennerley & Udo Kischka

Health | Robinson | 192pp | 10 b/w illustrations/photos | May 2020 | Korea: KCC | Japan:

In October 2016, Udo Kischka suffered a severe stroke. A large intra-cerebral bleed, a bleed deep in the right side of his brain. He was not a typical stroke patient: Professor Kischka was a neurologist and specialist in stroke rehabilitation. Like all stroke patients, he embarked on a journey of recovery. In his case it was a re-education in his field of expertise. When he uttered the words, 'This is a life changing event' to his wife, Helen Kennerley, a few hours after the stroke, he had no idea just how life changing it would be or that there would be still be a good life to be had. Helen was a psychologist and CBT therapist who helped others and now had to help herself and her family, practising what she preached.

This accessible and relatable book provides insight and realistic hope about what might lie ahead following a stroke, as well as offering both practical and emotional support. Written by experts on both sides of the fence, this is a personal, honest and hopeful story of a family's survival after a life-changing stroke.

DR HELEN KENNERLEY is a consultant clinical psychologist and CBT therapist (NHS) and university tutor (University of Oxford), as well as a founding fellow of the Oxford Cognitive Therapy Centre. She is the author of Overcoming Anxiety (Robinson, 2014), Managing Anxiety (OUP, 1995), How to Beat Your Fears and Worries (Robinson, 2011), Overcoming Childhood Trauma (Robinson, 2000) and An Introduction to Coping with Childhood Trauma (Robinson, 2011), and co-author of An Introduction to CBT (SAGE, 2016). Professor Udo Kischka is a retired consultant neurologist in neurorehabilitation (NHS), an academic visitor (University of Oxford) and research visiting fellow (Oxford Brookes University). He is co-editor of The Handbook of Clinical Neuropsychology (OUP, 2010) and the co-author of Head Injury (OUP, 2009).

* HOW TO THINK by John Paul Minda

Popular Psychology | Robinson | 336 pp | April 2021 | Korea: Danny Hong | Japan:

This book will get you thinking about thinking. We understand more about the brain than ever before, and we also have more tools than ever before to help us think. This book will show you how your brain works, how your mind works, why we all make certain mistakes in thinking, and why that's not always a bad thing

In order to understand how people behave, you need to understand how people think. And if you want to understand how people think, you need to have a basic understanding of cognitive psychology, cognitive science and cognitive neuroscience. This book explains cognition and the links between the brain, the mind and behaviour in a clear and straightforward way. Through interesting case studies and research examples, Minda shows how the brain is involved in mental activity, how memory works, how language affects thought, how good (and bad) decisions are made, and why we make predictable errors in our thinking. With practical applications for everyday life, this is a book that helps us become better thinkers, better learners and better problem-solvers. In the current era of big data, algorithms and AI, Minda argues that knowing about how humans think—how you think—is more important than ever before.

JOHN PAUL MINDA is a professor of psychology at the University of Western Ontario, Canada. He has been studying the mind and brain for over 20 years and has written extensively on the topic of how people think. He is the author of the textbook The Psychology of Thinking.

AGAINST THE GRAIN: THE PSYCHOLOGY OF REBELLIOUSNESS by Mark McDermott

Popular psychology | Robinson | 288pp | 10 illustrations | May 2021 | Korea: EYA | Japan:

We are we built to oppose and rebel. Why?

In the past few years, we have seen the 'protest vote' leading to surprising results in elections, and we have also seen a great resurgence in organised marches, resisting a new administration or a referendum decision. But rebelliousness is not just about those high-profile acts of resistance - the psychology of rebelliousness is central to understanding everyday life. From moment to moment we choose to accept or oppose the requirements of those around us, whether those imperatives come from loved ones, colleagues, bosses, agents of authority or those we may serve. The feeling of wanting to oppose a perceived requirement pervades the human condition.

This book looks at the role of rebelliousness as it develops through childhood and adolescence, in relationships, within and between social groups, in the service of civil disobedience, protest and social change, in mental and physical health and across cultures.

Professor MARK MCDERMOTT is a lecturer in health psychology at the University of East London, teaching on mental health and leading the PhD programme. In the 1980s, he developed a questionnaire measure of rebelliousness, and has maintained a research interest in rebelliousness within the context of reversal theory, a theory of motivation, emotion, and personality. He was involved in the BBC's recreation of the Stanford Prison Experiment and also co-wrote the bestselling European adaptation of Philip Zimbardo's Psychology textbook.

* HOW TO LIVE TO 100: ONE WOMAN'S QUEST FOR A LONGER, HEALTHIER LIFE by Ariane Sherine

Health | Robinson | 272pp | October 2020

When newspapers give daily contradictory advice on how to live longer, and on what foods will either help you or kill you, how do we know who to trust and what we genuinely should do? Comedian Ariane Sherine is on a quest to find out the truth, and with the help of Public Health Consultant David Conrad, she looks at the evidence for everything from drinking green tea to having regular sex

As our life expectancy increases, the question of how to live to a ripe old age in a state of good physical health has become more pertinent than ever before. Government websites, media articles, TV shows, books and self-appointed gurus feed us a seemingly endless diet of advice and instruction on what to do, what not to do and which new scientific discovery could save us from an early death or spending our old age in festering in poor health. How to Live to 100 cuts through the jargon and contradictory messages in a humorous, easily digestible style, providing simple evidence-based advice and information. In 100 bite-size chapters, the authors draw exclusively on the hard science, covering the key determinants of a long and healthy life as well as potential causes of early death, and address the latest hot topics in the field. Many chapters also include contributions from celebrities giving their own endorsements or condemnations of certain lifestyle choices. Talk Yourself Better has been a #1 bestseller in several Amazon categories, and featured contributions from David Baddiel, Dolly Alderton, Charlier Brooker and Stephen Fry amongst others.

ARIANE SHERINE is a comedy writer and journalist. She edited the bestselling The Atheist's Guide to Christmas and wrote Talk Yourself Better. DAVID CONRAD is a Consultant in Public Health and has co-edited four previous books on health interventions and protection.

THE ACT OF LIVING: WHAT THE GREAT PSYCHOLOGISTS CAN TEACH US ABOUT FINDING FULFILMENT by Frank Tallis

Psychology | Little, Brown | 352pp | June 2020

Science, technology and western liberal democracy have all had a dramatic impact on our quality of life. Compared to previous generations, we have unprecedented access to information, increased personal freedom, more material comforts, more possessions, and greater life expectancy. Yet, a very significant number of people are depressed, anxious, or complain of being unfulfilled. Mental health statistics have never been worse.

The goals of psychotherapy are not so very different from the goals of everyday life. People want to be happy and optimise outcomes. Within the context of the clinic, this is best achieved by focusing on, and eventually removing, symptoms; however, the models developed by psychotherapists have a far broader range of application. Freud used psychoanalysis primarily to treat his patients, but he also used it to explain aspects of civilisation, society, art, literature and the supernatural. As such, the theories and ideas that have arisen out of psychotherapy represent something of an undervalued resource. They are highly instructive and can illuminate many subjects - among them, the question of how to live. It is remarkable how the models of mind and behaviour arising from the practice of psychotherapy have had such little cultural impact. Shelves sag with self-help books, but most of these relate to specific problems and they do not address the broader challenges of the human condition. Yet, implicit in every model of mind are recommendations for life.

The Act of Living treats psychotherapy as a single, cohesive philosophical tradition. It synthesises the thinking of the principal figures in the history of psychotherapy (e.g. Freud, Jung, Adler, Frankl, Rogers, Fromm, Ellis and Laing) with a view to providing the reader with an accessible and practical guide to optimal living. Option Publishers: Bulgarian (CoLibri), Dutch (Atlas Contact), German (btb Verlag), Korean (ACROSS Publishing Co.), Lithuanian (Vaga), Portuguese (Lua de Papel), Portuguese in Brazil (Faro), Russian (AST), Serbian (Vulkan), Slovakian (Inaque), Spanish (Principal de los Livros), Turkish (Hep Kitap)

 THE LASTING CONNECTION: DEVELOPING LOVE AND COMPASSION FOR YOURSELF AND YOUR PARTNER by Michaela Thomas

Self-help | Robinson | 272 pp | Nov 2020

Have you ever said the words ‘what is wrong with you?’ to your partner? Do you struggle against feelings of anger, fear or upset, wishing it away? Do you beat yourself up or blame yourself or your partner when things go wrong? Are you scared of being left, rejected, criticised or all alone? Do you find it hard to tolerate the bad parts of your relationship, the ‘worse’ in ‘for better, for worse’? Do you find that you miss the good bits you used to have?

You’re not alone - we all struggle in our relationships, and in our lives. This book explains why we act in ways which we may regret in relationships, how we can make sense of them by developing compassion for ourselves and our partners, so we can connect on a deeper level. Using Compassionate Mind Training, we can become sensitive to our own suffering and that of our partner’s, so we can help alleviate it.

The book will include information based on what we know about the science and art of love; neuroscience about connection and how our brains work; the physiology behind the mind and body connection relevant to couples (e.g. touch and closeness), and about changing behavioural habits sustainably. The Lasting Connection builds on the bestselling successes The Compassionate Mind (over 120,000 copies sold) and The Compassionate Mind Workbook (over 10,000 copies sold), which have sold rights in many territories.

Be Extraordinary

BE EXTRAORDINARY: 7 KEY SKILLS TO TRANSFORM YOUR LIFE by Jennifer Wild

Popular Psychology | Robinson | 304pp | January 2020 | Korea: EYA | Japan: Uni

Combines real-life stories of overcoming adversity/trauma with practical lessons on how to be resilient and achieve extraordinary things in your own life

Some people can get over anything. Doctors diagnose them with a rare form of cancer and they recover. People are viciously attacked and blinded yet pull through to start a successful business improving other people’s lives. We feel inspired knowing how other people achieve success in circumstances more challenging than our own. Their stories feed our curiosity about the transformational journeys of other people’s lives.

Yet we are often left wondering how they did it and how we could achieve success in our own lives. Knowing how people in difficult circumstances change from ordinary to extraordinary gives us the knowledge to transform our own lives without first suffering trauma. Linking science to achievable transformation, BE EXTRAORDINARY is the result of years of experience working with people who do and do not bounce back from adversity. Dr Wild gives inspiring real-life examples of how ordinary people have come through astonishing adversity, and what the seven processes are.

DR JENNIFER WILD is a consultant clinical psychologist and senior research fellow based at the University of Oxford. She is an international expert in how to overcome posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD), the crippling stress reaction that afflicts soldiers and other survivors of horrific events, such as mining disasters, car crashes, and the sudden death of loved ones. She has worked with hundreds of people over the last 20 years to overcome PTSD to create a life that matches their dreams rather than their fears. In her 20 years of practice, she has noticed something remarkable.

* HOW TO TELL DEPRESSION TO PISS OFF: 40 WAYS TO GET YOUR LIFE BACK by

James Withey

Health | Robinson | 224pp | May 2020

An accessible, comforting and practical book for anyone experiencing depression, by an author who has first-hand experience, both personal and professional, of the illness.

Depression is a git. Truly it is. It is an illness that constantly tries to take you down, belittles you, criticise you, blame you, that gives you unbearable pain, destroys your motivation, concentration, gives you sleepless nights, anger, memory loss and has the capacity to kill you. In short, it needs to be given a darn good seeing to. I'm being polite, it needs a good beating and a wedgie at the very least. This book gives you 40 ways to get to a better place with this shitty illness. Unfortunately, we can't always get it to go away completely, but these tips will help you prioritise YOU and not the illness. The advice is born out of my many years working professionally with people with depression and my own discovery of what works when trying to manage depression, which I still live with. I have been on both sides and know how destructive this illness is, but also how resilient we can be. Depression hasn't beaten me because I keep throwing everything I can at it. Yes, it's exhausting but it means that you'll get moments in your life that are wonderful, and those moments are worth every ounce of effort.

You don't need to read this book in order; instead dip in and out when you can. Make marks on the book, write comments in the margin, circle words and phrases that resonate with you. It's fine not to like, agree with or try all the ways; you don't need to do them all. Pick the ones that appeal and give them a go. Then give them another go. Depression is a pernicious bugger, so you have to keep trying. Imagine it as bind weed trying to strangle a plant, you have to keep hacking away to keep it at bay. Keep going. You're doing great.

JAMES WITHEY is the founder of The Recovery Letters project which publishes online letters from people recovering from depression. He is the co-editor of the bestselling book The Recovery Letters: Addressed to People Experiencing Depression. James trained as a person-centred counsellor and worked in addiction, homelessness and mental health services for fifteen years. He lives with depression and writes and speaks about mental health.

HOW TO RAISE A TECH GENIUS

* THE BABY FEEDING BOOK: YOUR ESSENTIAL GUIDE TO BREASTFEEDING, BOTTLE-FEEDING AND GIVING SOLID FOODS TO YOUR BABY WITH CONFIDENCE by Vanessa Christie

Parenting | Piatkus | 320pp | February 2020

From breastfeeding and bottle-feeding to weaning, this is the only book you will need to feed your baby with confidence, and without judgement, in the first year

THE BABY FEEDING BOOK is a unique, fascinating and holistic expert guide into the world of feeding babies and becoming a parent. Central to the non-judgemental and undogmatic delivery of this book is the focus on the importance of the experiences of individual parents, alongside the health and wellbeing of their babies, standing it apart from any other book in this genre. Packed full of bite-size text (to aid those bleary eyes), ground-breaking practical tips, informative illustrations and true stories from parents, this book smashes through the myriad of myths and conflicting advice to cover everything a new parent should know, in order to help them make their own informed decisions and feed 'successfully', according to their own goals. Vanessa covers everything from preparation, being mindful of marketing strategies, 'hypno-boobing', emotional wellbeing, involving partners as well as the practical side of feeding, such as how do you sterilise? Do I have mastitis or a plugged duct? How do I top-up so my baby sleeps longer? How do I store milk? When should I give my baby peanuts? And so much more.

VANESSA CHRISTIE (MSc, MN, IBCLC, RHV, RNC, CIMI) is an International Board-Certified Lactation Consultant, Birth & Peri-natal Trauma Practitioner, Health Visitor, Children's Nurse, Infant Massage Instructor and a mother of two. She has worked alongside over 10,000 new families over the past 20 years. She is a Breastfeeding and Early Parenting Expert Speaker for both The Baby Show and Mumsnet and writes for publications and websites including The Huffington Post, OK, Mother & Baby, Families and Baby London, amongst others.

* WILL I EVER PEE ALONE AGAIN by Emma Conway

Motherhood | Sphere | 128pp | March 2020

100 uplifting poems on motherhood, from much-loved YouTuber and Instagrammer Brummy Mummy of 2 - the perfect gift for any mums in your life.

There's a pyjama-clad woman from Brum,
She's a mostly-happy (sometimes-snappy) mum,
She's written some verse
- it's a little perverse - and she hopes you find it side-splitting-ly fun!

In her first book, happy-go-lucky YouTuber and Instagrammer Emma Conway explores motherhood in all its glory through the medium of hilarious and uplifting poetry. A mum to two young humans aged 7 and 9, she revisits the days of no sleep, potty training and toddler tantrums; dives deep into first days of school, sibling bickering and watching your babies grow into little people; and writes frankly about life after having kids, embracing the mum bod and giving zero sods.

Emma Conway is a blogger from Birmingham, England. The winner of Blog of the Year at the Mum and Dad Blogger Awards in 2016, she has since amassed over 90,000 Instagram followers and over 65,000 YouTube subscribers.

THE ZEN MAMA by Sarah Ivens

Parenting | Piatkus | 240pp | 10 b/w illustrations | April 2020 | Korea: | Japan: EAJ

THE ZEN MAMA is a guide to letting go of parenting expectations and fears to raise courageous, confident kids through free-range parenting

It outlines a way of life to create a chilled parent and a chilled child. THE ZEN MAMA philosophy is that mother and child complement each other in adventures and experiences, always putting safety first but without getting caught up in the anxieties, drama, impossible expectations and mental baggage that too often comes along with modern parenting in this social media and judgemental age. Learning to become a Zen Mama will help you grow and nurture a Zen Kid - a child who isn't afraid to be different, who can stand up for himself or his friends, and can travel the world and experiment with new things without being overwhelmed with self-doubt or being scared. Full of facts, actionable advice and practical tips, this book will be about combining the heart and the head with what works for you and your family, not comparing yourselves to others or meeting a societal standard. THE ZEN MAMA will support and nurture the mother's journey like a wise and sympathetic friend and offers ideas and experience rather than judgement.

SARAH IVENS is the Editor of OK! Magazine in New York. She has also written for Marie Claire, Tatler, Woman's Journal, Daily Mail, The Mail on Sunday, News of the World and GQ. She is the author of the bestselling MODERN GIRL'S GUIDE TO GETTING HITCHED.

 THE STARTING SCHOOL BOOK by Sarah Ockwell-Smith

Parenting | Piatkus | 240pp | March 2020

There are so many issues surrounding starting school that parents struggle with ranging from selecting the best school for their child (and knowing the right things to look for and questions to ask), preparing their child emotionally and practically for starting, knowing what must-haves to buy (and what not to buy!), navigating school settling-in procedures, coping with behaviour regressions at home, friendship issues, anxiety, tricky behaviour at school, school refusal and homework. Despite these many concerns, there is little advice available for parents in this position. Most 'starting school' books are aimed at the children themselves. Parents are left to turn to internet discussion forums and social media to ask their many questions. The Starting School Book fills this gap.

SARAH OCKWELL-SMITH is the mother of four children. She has a BSc in Psychology and worked for several years in Pharmaceutical Research and Development. Following the birth of her first child, Sarah re-trained as a Paediatric Homeopath, Antenatal Teacher and Birth and Postnatal Doula. She has also undertaken training in Baby Massage, Hypnotherapy and Psychotherapy. Sarah specialises in gentle parenting methods and is co-founder of the GentleParenting website (www.gentleparenting.co.uk). Sarah writes a parenting blog (www.sarahockwell-smith.com) which is read by 3 million parents per year, and is the author of BabyCalm, ToddlerCalm, The Gentle Sleep Book, The Gentle Parenting Book and The Gentle Discipline Book. She frequently writes for magazines and newspapers and is often called upon as a parenting expert for national television and radio.

* DRINKOLOGY: THE SCIENCE OF WHAT WE DRINK AND WHAT IT DOES TO US, FROM MILKS TO MARTINIS by Alexis Willett

Food & Drink | Robinson | 320pp | 20-30 b/w diagrams | October 2019 | Korea: Duran Kim | Japan :

A concise, scientific digest of many of the world's most popular drinks

Do you really know what you are drinking? We all consume many drinks every day, often without thinking. Perhaps we're just thirsty, perhaps we need something to wake us up, perhaps we need something to relax us at the end of the day. But have you ever stopped to wonder what exactly is in that chai latte you're guzzling or just what those added electrolytes in your bottled water are supposed to do? Whether you want to discover the true benefits of fermented drinks, find out if sulphites in wine really cause headaches, or are just sick of the pseudoscience behind the marketing of what we consume, DRINKOLOGY is for you. It offers an easy-to-read guide that may be downed in one go or savoured over time. DRINKOLOGY will distil the scientific evidence and consult the experts to see if we can finally get to the bottom of many enduring questions, such as:

- Is a regular glass of wine good for our health or not?
- What's the difference between spring water and mineral water?
- Are the health benefits of green tea really that great?
- What's the secret to the perfect cup of tea?

DR ALEXIS WILLETT is a science communicator who aims to make science accessible to all. She has a PhD in biomedical science from the University of Cambridge, where she studied at the Medical Research Council's Human Nutrition Research unit. She has lectured on human physiology and published on a wide range of health subjects. She spends much of her time turning cutting-edge research and health policy jargon into something meaningful for the public, patients, doctors and policy makers. She is often called upon to help influence decision makers, from governments to funding bodies, across the UK and Europe. In her spare time, Alexis drinks a lot of rooibos tea. Her first book, HOW MUCH BRAIN DO WE REALLY NEED?, with Jennifer Barnett, was published by Robinson in December 2017.
