And when Theo is thrown out of nursery for hitting other children, Pete and Maddie have to ask themselves: how far do they want this arrangement to go? THE OLD ENEMY

A Paul Samson Spy Thriller

HENRY PORTER

A heart-stopping international spy thriller starring ex-MI6 officer Paul Samson by the award-winning author of Firefly.

Ex-MI6 officer Paul Samson prefers to work privately these days. He has been tasked with guarding a young woman, Zoe Freemantle. He doesn't know who she is, or why she's important, but the money's good enough for him not to dig too deeply.

While on her tail, an attacker disguised as a homeless man tries to kill him, and Samson wishes he'd asked more questions. And when his former colleague, Robert Harland is found dead, the news comes with the threat that Samson's own life – and that of others he holds dear – is on the line.

Samson is sure he knows why there is a target on his back. What he doesn't know is who put it there – the Americans or the Russians?

Two things quickly become clear. One, he needs to find out more about Freemantle. And two, Robert Harland, ever the consummate spy, has one final, crucial part to play from beyond the grave.

Henry Porter has written several bestselling thrillers, including Brandenburg, A Spy's Life and Empire State. He is also the author of the Paul Samson spy thrillers: Firefly, which won the 2019 Wilbur Smith Adventure Writing Prize, and White Hot Silence.

THE POSTSCRIPT MURDERS

ELLY GRIFFITHS

The ultimate gripping mystery for winter nights, from the bestselling author of The Stranger Diaries and the Dr Ruth Galloway Mysteries.

PS: Thanks for the murders.

The death of a ninety-year-old woman with a heart condition should not be suspicious. DS Harbinder Kaur certainly sees nothing to concern her in carer Nataka's account of Peggy Smith's death.

But when Nataka reveals that Peggy lied about her heart condition and that she had been sure someone was following her . . .

And that Peggy Smith had been a 'murder consultant' who plotted deaths for authors, and knew more about murder than anyone has any right to . . .

And when clearing out Peggy's flat ends in Nataka being held at gunpoint by a masked figure . . .

Well then DS Harbinder Kaur thinks that maybe there is no such thing as an unsuspecting death after all.

PS: Trust no one.

From the sleepy seaside town of Shoreham, to the granite streets of Aberdeen and the shores of Lake Baikal, The Postscript Murders is a literary mystery for fans of Anthony Horowitz, Agatha Christie and anyone who's ever wondered just how authors think up such realistic crimes . . .

Elly Griffiths is the author of the bestselling Dr Ruth Galloway Mysteries, The Brighton Mysteries and top 10 paperback bestseller The Stranger Diaries. She lives near Brighton with her husband, an archaeologist, and their two grown-up children.

ONE LONG AND BEAUTIFUL SUMMER

DUNCAN HAMILTON

An elegiac work reflecting on the evolution of English cricket since 1945 and the dramatic changes as The Hundred approaches.

Following Neville Cardus's assertion that 'there can be no summer in this land without cricket', Hamilton plotted the games he would see in 2019 and write down reflectively on some of the cricket that blessed his own sight. It would be captured in the context of the coming season in case the imminent arrival of The Hundred made that impossible. He would write in the belief that after this season the game might never be quite the same again.

He visits Welbeck Colliery Cricket Club to see Nottinghamshire play Hampshire at the tiny ground of Sookholme, gifted to the club by a local philanthropist who takes money on the gate; his village team at Menston; the county ground at Hove; watches Ben Stokes's heroics at Headingley, marvels at Jofra Archer's gift of speed in a Second XI fixture for Sussex against Gloucestershire in front of 74 people and three well-behaved dogs; and realises when he reaches the final county match of the season at Taunton, 'How blessed I am to have been born here. How I never want to live anywhere else. How much I love cricket.'

One Long and Beautiful Summer is sports writing at its most accomplished and evocative, confirming Hamilton's reputation as the finest contemporary chronicler of the game.

Duncan Hamilton has won three William Hill Sports Book of the Year Prizes. He has also claimed two British Sports Book Awards and is the first writer to have won the Wisden Cricket Book of the Year on three occasions.

WHITETHROAT

DI Nicholas Lowry

JAMES HENRY

The third book in the DI Nicholas Lowry series, for fans of Peter James and Stuart Macbride.

Essex, November 1983.

In the garrison town of Colchester, the body of a nineteen-year-old Lance Corporal has been discovered on the local High Street: the result of what appears to be a bizarre, chivalrous duel. It seems he was the victim of a doomed army love triangle. As such, the military police are wishing to keep the matter confined within military ranks.

This is all just fine, as far as Colchester CID is concerned. They have enough on their plate as is: with DI Nick Lowry in a tailspin following the breakdown of his marriage, WPC Jane Gabriel exasperated by the male-favoured system, Detective Daniel Kenton relying on substance abuse to quieten his demons from his last case; and their boss, DCS Sparks, shortly to become a first-time father at 55.

However, it is not long before the blood from the duel runs into civilian police affairs, and the trail presents CID with a local rogues' gallery. A savvy entrepreneur. A wayward skinhead. A member of the landed gentry. And a shadowy Mauritian travel agent with a chilling reputation. Soon, they will discover, a real estate deal, a racist, and the town's Robin Hood pub hold the key to the killing...

James Henry is the pen name of James Gurbutt, who has written four prequels to R. D. Wingfield's popular Frost series. He works in publishing, and lives in Essex.

TRUE STORY

KATE REED PETTY

Inventive, genre-defying and daring, True Story is a novel like nothing you've ever read before.

'A mind-blowing page-turning un-put-downable heart-warming empathetic formally inventive horror suspense thriller, with a life-affirming and timely feminist message'

Elif Batuman

After a college party, two boys drive a girl home: drunk and passed out in the back seat. Rumours spread about what they did to her, but later they'll tell the police a different version of events. Alice will never remember what truly happened. Her fracture runs deep, hidden beneath cleverness and wry humour. Nick – a sensitive, misguided boy who stood by – will never forget.

That's just the beginning of this extraordinary journey into memory, fear and self-portrayal. Through university applications, a terrifying abusive relationship, a fateful reckoning with addiction and a final mind-bending twist, Alice and Nick will take on different roles to each other – some real, some invented – until finally, brought face to face once again, the secret of that night is revealed.

Startlingly relevant and enthralling in its brilliance, True Story is by turns a campus novel, psychological thriller, horror story and crime noir, each narrative frame stripping away the fictions we tell about women, men and the very nature of truth.

Kate Reed Petty lives in Baltimore, Maryland. Her fiction and essays have been published online by American Short Fiction, Los Angeles Review of Books Blog, and many others. Petty's short films have appeared on Narrative magazine and at the Maryland Film Festival.

THE STANDARDIZATION OF DEMORALIZATION PROCEDURES

JENNIFER HOFMANN

Darkly comic and hauntingly surreal, The Standardization of Demoralization Procedures examines obsession, paranoia and the dwindling career of a Stasi operative.

'An instant classic' Jaroslav Kalfar

Set in the final, turbulent days of the Cold War and evoking the dehumanizing forces that came to characterize communist East Germany, Hofmann's debut is an affecting, layered investigation of conscience and country under the strain of complex political allegiances. Hofmann's debut captures the fate of humanist fantasies under an extreme surveillance state.

AFTER THE SILENCE

LOUISE O'NEILL

A story whose twists and turns will unsettle, disturb and leave the reader devastated.

Nessa Crowley's murderer has been protected by silence for ten years.

Until a team of documentary makers decide to find out the truth.

On the day of Henry and Keelin Kinsella's wild party at their big house a violent storm engulfed the island of Inisrún, cutting it off from the mainland. When morning broke Nessa Crowley's lifeless body lay in the garden, her last breath silenced by the music and the thunder.

The killer couldn't have escaped Inisrún, but no one was charged with the murder. The mystery that surrounded the death of Nessa remained hidden. But the islanders knew who to blame for the crime that changed them forever.

Ten years later a documentary crew arrives, there to lift the lid off the Kinsella's carefully constructed lives, determined to find evidence that will prove Henry's guilt and Keelin's complicity in the murder of beautiful Nessa.

In this bold, brilliant, disturbing new novel Louise O'Neill shows that deadly secrets are devastating to those who hold them close.

Louise O'Neill is a feminist powerhouse whose novels have helped to start important conversations about body image and consent. Asking for It stayed in the Irish Top Ten fiction chart for over a year. Only Ever Yours won Newcomer of the Year at the Irish Book Awards.

LOVE ORANGE

NATASHA RANDALL

This first novel by the acclaimed translator is a comic cocktail, an exuberant skewering of contemporary anxieties and prejudices.

Jenny Tinkley lives to mother her two complicated sons and prop up her technology obsessive husband Hank, who has installed gadgets, cameras and voice recognition devices in their smart house. He tells her it's all designed to help her, but she is convinced their home is judging her- reminding her to load the laundry, buy milk, do better- and she becomes paranoid that she's being spied upon by the white goods. When she hears of an outreach opportunity at her church (where worshippers are encouraged to confess their sins via mobile phones), she feels that hand-writing letters to John, inmate 6587 at Flainton prison, will be an antidote to her isolation. And Hank needn't know.

Letter by letter John pinches Jenny awake from the marshmallow numbness of her life. Constantly under surveillance, their letters chart a secret rebellion, a bid for freedom. But Jenny is becoming curiously dependent on the sweet orange glue that seals John's envelopes and their lives begin to converge with toxic consequences.

Love Orange* throws open the blinds of American life, showing a family facing up to the modern age, from the ascendancy of technology, the predicaments of masculinity, the pathologising of children, the epidemic of opioid addiction and the tyranny of the WhatsApp Gods.

Natasha Randall's translations include Notes from an Underground by Dostoyevsky, A Hero of Our Time by Lermontov, and We by Zamyatin. Her articles and reviews have appeared in the TLS, LA Review and the NYT.

CHILDHOOD, BOYHOOD AND YOUTH (RIVERRUN EDITIONS)

LEO TOLSTOY

(with a preface by Andrew O'Hagan)

Translated by Louise and Aylmer Maude

'The beautiful illusion, when reading Tolstoy, is that one is looking directly at the world, as opposed to a depiction'

*Andrew O'Hagan from his preface to *Childhood, Boyhood and Youth

Tolstoy took the essence of his early years and made a pillow of it, a soft place to dream upon when reality was heavy, and he wrote fictions that are projections of fantasy as much as they are distillations of memory.

Leo Tolstoy (1828 - 1910) is best known for the novels War and Peace and Anna Karenina, often cited as pinnacles of realist fiction.

JOURNAL 1887-1910 (RIVERRUN EDITIONS)

JULES RENARD

(with an introduction by Julian Barnes)

Jules Renard was a French literary figure of the late nineteenth century, he had the soul of a rustic bourgeois but the ambition of a metropolitan.

Journal constitutes a profusion of entries, without stitching or pattern: mordant reflections on style, literature and theatre; portraits of family, friends and the Parisian literary scene; quasi-ethnographical observations on village life and notations of the natural world which are unlike anything except themselves.

Jules Renard (1864 - 1910) was a French author and member of the Académie Goncourt. He wrote plays, journalism and fiction, as well as his famous and well-loved Journal.

WILDEANA (RIVERRUN EDITIONS)

OSCAR WILDE

(selected and edited by Matthew Sturgis)

A compendium of unfamiliar contemporary accounts of Oscar Wilde, gathered from letters, diaries, memoirs and interviews.

Oscar Wilde was celebrated as master of the ingenious epigram, the provocative paradox, the witty aside, or the extravagant conceit. It remained a common trope that, however sparkling his writings might be, they were but pallid reflections of his verbal exuberance and wit. The items gathered here are new tesserae to add to the mosaic: some unfamiliar, others unexpected, they enrich and alter the picture of his life. Arranged chronologically, for the most part, with some thematic interludes, this book will build up a lucid picture of Wilde's life.

THESE ARE NOT GENTLE PEOPLE

Two murders. Forty suspects. The trial that broke a small South African town

ANDREW HARDING

Land. Race. Murder. Betrayal. The true story of a shocking case – by the BBC Africa Correspondent.

At dusk, on a warm evening in 2016, a group of forty men gathered in the corner of a dusty field on a farm outside Parys in the Free State. The events of the next two hours would come to haunt them all. They would rip families apart, prompt suicide attempts, breakdowns, divorce, bankruptcy, threats of violent revenge and acts of unforgivable treachery.

These Are Not Gentle People is the story of that night, and of what happened next. It's a murder story, a courtroom drama, a profound exploration of collective guilt and individual justice.

Award-winning foreign correspondent and author Andrew Harding traces the impact of one moment of collective barbarism on a fragile community – exploding lies, cover-ups, political meddling and betrayals, and revealing the inner lives of those involved with extraordinary clarity.

The book is also a mesmerising examination of a small town trying to cope with a trauma that threatens to tear it in two – as such, it is as much a journey into the heart of modern South Africa as it is a gripping tale of crime, punishment and redemption.

When a whole community is on trial, who pays the price?

Andrew Harding left London in 1991 and has lived abroad ever since. He has been a journalist with BBC News for 25 years, most recently based in Johannesburg. He is the author of The Mayor of Mogadishu: A Story of Chaos and Redemption in the Ruins of Somalia (2016).

Guillermo Arriaga is an author, screenwriter and director. His films include Amores Perros, 21 Grams, and Babel, and his novels have been translated into more than eighteen languages.

THE DAY MY GRANDFATHER WAS A HERO

PAULUS HOCHGATTERER

Translated by Jamie Bulloch

A beautifully observed novel about how individual acts of bravery can change the course of history.

Based around the unlikely friendship between a traumatised thirteen-year-old girl and a young Russian deserter in war-torn rural Austria, Paulus Hochgatterer's intensely atmospheric, resonant novel is a beautiful observation of small shifts from apathy in a community not directly affected by the war, but exhausted by it nonetheless; individual acts of moral bravery which have the power to change the course of history.

Paulus Hochgatterer is a writer and child psychiatrist. He is the author of several novels, including The Sweetness of Life and The Mattress House.

TO COOK A BEAR

MIKAEL NIEMI

Translated by Deborah Bragan-Turner

A riveting historical murder mystery set in Sweden's far north - to delight fans of The Name of the Rose.

It is the summer of 1852 in the Kengis village of Sweden's far north, and revivalist preacher Lars Levi Laestadius has taken in a young Sami boy, Jussi, who has fled from a cruel home plagued by abuse, starvation, and alcoholism.

Laestadius is an avid botanist, and with Jussi in tow, he sets out on long botanical treks to teach him not only about plants but also how to read, write and to love and fear God. For it is revivalist times, and thanks to Laestadius, impassioned faith spreads like wildfire among the locals. But while the preacher's powerful sermons grant salvation to farmers and workers, they also gain him enemies among local rulers, who see profits dwindle as people choose revival over alcohol.

One day a maid goes missing in the deep forest, and soon thereafter another disappears. One of them is found dead, the other badly wounded. The locals suspect a predatory bear is at large, but the preacher sees other clues that point to a far worse killer on the loose. With Jussi's help, Laestadius reinvents himself as something of a forensic expert, unaware of the evil that is closing in on him.

Mikael Niemi grew up in Pajala in the northernmost part of Sweden, where he still lives. His breakthrough novel was Popular Music From Vittula (2000), selling more than one million copies. It has been translated into more than thirty languages.

BEES AND THEIR KEEPERS

In religion, revolution and evolution

LOTTE MÖLLER

Translated by Frank Perry

A beautifully illustrated and compelling cultural history of bees for the beekeeper and general reader alike.

With deep knowledge and a sharp wit, Lotte Möller unfolds our understanding of bees and bee lore from antiquity to the present.

A beekeeper herself, she gives insight into the activity in the hive and describes the bees' natural order and habits. She explores the myths of the past, and how and when they were replaced by fact. For example, the heated discussions that broke out in the eighteenth century when it was discovered that the hive was ruled by a queen, not a king as had been the belief since Aristotle.

In her travels, Möller encounters a host of colourful characters, from a trigger-happy Californian beekeeper raging against both killer bees and bee politics, to the warring beekeepers on the island of Læso and Brother Adam of Buckfast Abbey, breeder of the Buckfast queen now popular throughout Europe and beyond.

Bees and Their Keepers is an enchanting and fascinating exploration of bees and their history alongside the lives of humans.

Lotte Möller is a Swedish writer and journalist, and author of a number of classics in cultural and garden literature, including a monograph on the lemon, which was shortlisted for the August Prize for Best Non-Fiction. Naturally, she is a beekeeper.

RADIO LIFE

DEREK B. MILLER

In this riveting political thriller a post-apocalyptic civilisation is locked in a fight which threatens to destroy the world . . . again.

When Lilly was Chief Engineer at The Commonwealth, nearly fifty years ago, the Central Archive wasn't yet the greatest repository of knowledge in the known world, protected by scribes copying every piece of found material and disseminating them by Archive Runners to hidden off-site locations for safe keeping. There was no Order of Silence creating and maintaining secret routes into the sand-covered towers of the Old World or the northern forests beyond Sea Glass Lake. The world was quiet, because Lilly hadn't yet found the Harrington Box.

But times change. Recently, the Keepers have started gathering, determined to burn the Central Archives to the ground, no matter the cost, possessed by fear that bringing back the ancient knowledge will destroy the world all over again. To prevent that, they will do anything.

Fourteen days ago the Keepers chased sixteen-year-old Archive Runner Elimisha into a forbidden Old World Tower and brought the entire thing down on her. Instead of dying, she slipped into an ancient bomb shelter and discovered a cache of food and fresh water, a two-way radio like the one Lilly's been working on for years . . . and something else. Something that calls itself 'the internet'.

Derek Miller grew up in New England and has worked all over the world for a variety of organisations, including the United Nations. He is now a full-time writer and lives in Norway.

WITCH BOTTLE

TOM FLETCHER

A deeply atmospheric literary horror novel about the nature of repressed guilt, grief and fear.

Daniel once had a baby brother, but he died, a long time ago now. And he had a wife and a daughter, but that didn't work out, so now he's alone. The easy monotony of his job as a milkman in the remote northwest of England demands nothing from him other than dealing with unreasonable customer demands and the vagaries of his enigmatic boss.

But things are changing. Daniel's started having nightmares, seeing things that can't possibly be there – like the naked, emaciated giant with a black bag over its head which is so real he swears he could touch it . . . if he dared.

It's not just at night bad things are happening, either, or just to him. Shaken and unnerved, he opens up to a local witch. She can't discern the origins of his haunting, but she can provide him with a protective ward – a witch-bottle – if, in return, he will deliver her products on his rounds.

But not everyone's happy to find people meddling with witch bottles. Things are about to get very unpleasant . . .

Witch Bottle* is literary horror at its finest, perfect for fans of Andrew Michael Hurley's The Loney and Starve Acre.

Tom Fletcher is a writer of horror and dark fantasy novels and short fiction. He lives in a remote village in Cumbria with his wife and family.

OLDER AND WIDER

A Survivor's Guide to the Menopause

JENNY ECLAIR

Hilarious, irreverent and refreshingly honest compendium of the menopause.

'If you're after an in-depth medical or psychological insight into the menopause, I'm afraid you've opened the wrong book – I'm not a doctor . . . However, I am a woman and I do know how it feels to be menopausal, so this book is written from experience and the heart and I hope it makes you laugh and feel better.'

From C for Carb-loading and G for Getting Your Shit Together to I for Invisibility and V for Vaginas, Jenny's whistle-stop tour of the menopause in all its glory will make you realise that it really isn't just you. Jenny will share the surprising lessons she has learnt along the way as well as her hard-won tips on the joy of cardigans, dealing with the empty nest (get a lodger) and keeping the lid on the pressure cooker of your temper (count to twenty, ten is never enough).

As Jenny says, 'I can't say that I've emerged like a beautiful butterfly from some hideous old menopausal chrysalis and it would be a lie to say that I've found the "old me" again. But what I have found is the "new me" – and you know what? I'm cool with that.'

Jenny Eclair is the Sunday Times top ten bestselling author of several novels including the Richard and Judy bestseller Moving. One of the UK's most popular writer/performers, she was the first woman to win the prestigious Perrier Award.

TO THE GREATEST HEIGHTS

VANESSA O'BRIEN

From laid-off Finance Director to record-breaking mountain climber, one woman's extraordinary journey up the world's most challenging and dangerous mountains.

When Vanessa O'Brien was made redundant in 2008 as part of the recession, she moved to Hong Kong with her husband for his career and resigned herself to being 'just the wife'. There she was, aged 46, bored, uninspired, unemployed. Was this going to be how she was going to live the rest of her life?

One night in the infamous Kee Club, over shots of tequila, a friend suggested O'Brien climb Everest, and that was the start of an epic journey she never looked back from as she climbed Everest, K2 and many other mountains.

This is her inspirational story. As O'Brien says, she couldn't explain to her readers how she got to the top of K2 at the age of 52 without being honest about what came before. In To the Greatest Heights, she reveals the trials and tribulations of her difficult childhood, and the result is a life-affirming book that shows how she achieved these climbs in spite of and because of her past.

To read To the Greatest Heights is to know that there is a path to overcoming the worst of what happens to us, a path that helps us reach the summit of our lives too, whatever our age.

Vanessa O'Brien is a British-American mountain climber, explorer and public speaker. As a result of her dual nationalities, she simultaneously became the first American woman and the first British woman to climb K2 in 2017. In 2018, she received Explorer of the Year from the Scientific Exploration Society for her efforts.

THE ORGAN THIEVES

The Shocking Story of the First Heart Transplant in America's Segregated South

CHIP JONES

The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks meets Get Out in this landmark investigation of racial inequality at the core of the heart transplant race.

In 1968, Bruce Tucker, a black man, went into Virginia's top research hospital with a head injury, only to have his heart stolen out of his body and put into the chest of a white businessman. Now, in The Organ Thieves, Pulitzer Prize-nominated journalist Chip Jones exposes the horrifying inequality surrounding Tucker's death and how he was used as a human guinea pig without his family's permission or knowledge. The circumstances surrounding his death reflect the long legacy of mistreating African-Americans that began more than a century before with cadaver harvesting and worse. It culminated in efforts to win the heart transplant race in the late 1960s.

Featuring years of research and fresh reporting, The Organ Thieves is a story that resonates now more than ever, when issues of race and healthcare are the stuff of headlines and horror stories.

Charles 'Chip' Jones has been reporting for nearly thirty years for the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Roanoke Times, Virginia Business, and others. As a reporter for the Roanoke Times, he was nominated for a Pulitzer Prize.

ASTON MARTIN

The Story of a British Icon

BEN COLLINS

The narrative history of a legend of British engineering, design and style – by the man who was The Stig.

Aston Martin's story is one of Survival, Ingenuity and Style. Beloved of speed freaks, engineers and spies – both real and imagined – the car with the double-o prefix has blazed a trail to become one of the world's best-loved machines.

Its first wickedly fast models were forged at a time when Ferrari's premises at Maranello was nothing but a ploughed field. This book celebrates the extraordinary characters who created a legend: from the visionary pioneers Martin and Bamford to modern-day genius Adrian Newey; from a glamorous web of pre- and post-war spies and racing drivers, to the achingly beautiful DB models beloved of Bond. This is the story of a triumph of innovation and design that has burned brightly for over a century, from the Roaring 20s to the 2020s.

How to Drive
[2014, Pan Macmillan]

The Man in the White Suit
[2010, Harper Collins]

Bestselling author, racer and stunt driver Ben Collins explores this magnificent machine from behind the wheel. Carving through country lanes in his father's V8 Vantage, driving Aston Martins in four James Bond movies and competing against them in the legendary Le Mans 24-hour race, this is a driver's story of the cars that never say die.

Bestselling author and former Top Gear Stig Ben Collins competed at the highest level in 24-hour endurance racing, has appeared on Jay Leno's Garage, and has been Daniel Craig's 'stunt double' driver in every 007 film since Quantum of Solace.
