365 WAYS TO HAVE A GOOD DAY

IAN SANDERS

John Murray Learning

November 2021

Editor: Iain Campbell

Length: 272

US & Translation rights available

About the Author:

Ian Sanders is on a mission to get people firing on all cylinders about their work - how and where they do it, what they need to do to get creative, how to be more energised, how to do the work that matters. Ian's passionate and fresh approach in all he does - workshops, presentations, storytelling and one-to-one walking coaching sessions - sparks change and inspires leaders, organisations, teams and individuals. He lives by the coast in Leigh-on-Sea.

A full year's worth of daily tips, insights, inspiration, habits, tools, and behaviour changes to help you seize the day and figure out what success means for you. Your best life is closer than you think when you take it one day at a time.

HOW ARE THE NEXT TWELVE MONTHS LOOKING FOR YOU? PRETTY MUCH THE SAME AS LAST YEAR? OR ARE YOU READY FOR BETTER?

365 WAYS TO HAVE A GOOD DAY is a full year's worth of daily inspiration, tools, habits, actions, and rituals that will help you live your best life. You'll discover surprising insights from psychologists, business leaders, entrepreneurs and designers. You'll explore the benefits of Feierabends and Laughies, have your eyes opened by a dance psychologist, and find out why one senior executive's tattooed fingers help him make the right career choices. You'll learn habit-forming strategies, pick up helpful hacks, and uncover tips for lasting change - all brought to life through real examples and thought-provoking stories that will get you looking at life differently.

You'll meet a cast of characters from around the world who know all about creating success, from the founder of a billion-dollar mindfulness company in California to the Hollywood screenwriter who takes up to eight showers a day to fuel his ideas, and from the Harvard Business School professor who discovered more joy at work by wearing red trainers to the man who every Friday for five years set up a table in central NYC to give advice to strangers, including a gang member on the run.

365 WAYS TO HAVE A GOOD DAY focuses on the small stuff you can do every day to make life better. Because when you get the little things right, the big things follow. Things like figuring out where you're going, hitting reset, designing the life you want, breaking through limiting beliefs, and creating success on your own terms. And when you find what works for you, you can do more of it, making you more productive, more fulfilled, and much happier.

IT'S TIME TO SEIZE THE DAY. ALL 365 OF THEM.

ANXIETY: PRACTICAL ABOUT PANIC

JOSHUA FLETCHER

John Murray Learning

April 2021

Editor: Jonathan Shipley

Length: 160

US & Translation rights available

Stop waiting for things to change and get practical about dealing with panic and anxious thoughts.

Do you suffer from anxiety and panic? So did Joshua Fletcher, the author of the self-published bestseller ANXIETY: PANICKING ABOUT PANIC - but he treated his own condition successfully, went back to school, became a counsellor and emerged as one of the country's leading experts.

ANXIETY: PRACTICAL ABOUT PANIC is a complete, easy to read and hugely practical book about anxiety from someone who knows how to recover and live your life to the full - and will show you how. Concentrating on the actions that you can take to alleviate and overcome your worries, this book is all about you and what you need to do to improve your life.

BUT ARE YOU ALIVE?

DR ELOISE SKINNER

Discover your path to a varied and meaningful life, and feel truly alive.

Anyone's who's been back into a huge supermarket after a year of lockdown and found themselves momentarily paralysed by the scale of the shop and the impossibility of choosing between so many things, or who sits scrolling through Netflix unable to find anything they're prepared to commit to watching, will recognise the truth that choice can be overwhelming. In times of uncertainty and fatigue, making a decision can be really hard. It's even harder when the stakes are higher. How do we work out just what exactly we want to do with our lives?

This feeling of indecision has become a prominent feature of contemporary life. Today, the average job tenure has fallen to 4.5 years, and it's estimated that workers will have around 10-15 jobs in their lifetime. And our personal lives are more diverse, too. We're encouraged to define the life we want to live; to choose our hobbies and 'side-hustles'; to pick careers aligned with our values. In some respects, we're freer than ever to become the authors of our own existence.

All this choice, paradoxically, often leaves us unsettled. With so many things to do and tasks to achieve and options to pick, we can end up feeling unanchored. What are we supposed to do with our lives? What if we pick the wrong path? And will the work we do eat up every moment of our time?

In this book Eloise Skinner shows that it's possible for each of us to take all the scattered elements of our existence, each so crucial for our sense of who we are, and blend them together to create a life that's integrated, completely unique, and filled with meaning. In short - a life that's lived fully.

About the author:

Eloise Skinner is a lawyer, author, therapist and dancer who devotes her life to helping people find meaning, purpose and direction.

HOW TO LIVE AN AWESOME LIFE

BEN COOMBER

It's time to go big - this book will help you visualise your life at its most awesome and show you exactly how to get there. BIG change is possible!

Small incremental changes are well and good, but do you really have the time to make minute adjustments to your life, working slowly towards a way of living that could be months or years into the future? Living a life of passion, purpose and connection on your own terms is the key to happiness and too many people wait too long before taking bold, direct action.

If your own life isn't inspiring you - not enough time, energy or opportunity - this book is designed as the kickstart you need. It will show that you can try all your like to make more money, sleep better, eat healthier and think more clearly, but if the core foundations of your journey aren't in alignment with your true motivations, change will prove illusive. To succeed at anything you need the right mindset, then the right tools and plan, and then the resilience to see that plan through to create the life you want. No more excuses - this book will change the way you think, to change the way you feel.

How long are you going to wait to live the life you truly want?

Too many of us are existing on autopilot, sleepwalking through life with no purpose and neglecting our dreams.

But what if it didn't have to be that way?

What if it could be different? What if you could be different? What if you remembered that you have the power to make every single day count? How would it feel to design a life that you truly want, and know how to make it happen?

This book is here to show you that positive thinking is just the beginning. From there you'll start to demand more of yourself and for yourself.

You'll ask big questions and start attracting BIG successes. You'll learn how to take control, gain a new and healthier perspective and see that life is for the making and the taking.

You only live once. So let's live on purpose.

Our one-leader-at-a-time past has given way to a present reality where everyone has the potential to lead in every aspect of life. We all have at our fingertips the tools of change that were once available to just a few - and The shift from one-leader-at-a-time to everyone-leading-in-every-moment has created a changemaker effect on society. Change is no longer linear and faster, it's explosive and omnidirectional.

THE CHANGEMAKER PLAYBOOK will show you how to thrive in every aspect of today's transformed societal landscape.

A tutorial on the principles of empathy-based ethics and co-creative teamwork, THE CHANGEMAKER PLAYBOOK is as much a leadership handbook as it is a guide to personal achievement. Based on the author's discoveries about leading in change from front-edge thinkers - business and social entrepreneurs, educators, media thought leaders and youth changemakers - who distinguish themselves by putting their bold ideas and entrepreneurial capacities to work for the good of all, readers can apply the principles in this book to every aspect of their lives.

This book is less about getting ahead and more about getting along - because in the world we have entered, this is the central principle underlying the new success formula.

About the Author:

Henry F. De Sio, Jr. will make an outstanding spokesperson for THE CHANGEMAKER PLAYBOOK. He has been a commentator and keynote speaker on individual and organizational achievement. LISTEN. DECIDE. ACT

ANDREW ST GEORGE & SHARON CURRY

Nicholas Brealey

April 2022

Editor: Jonathan Shipley

Length: 320

US & Translation rights available

Learn how to make right decisions in all manner or situations, using a technique which will never let you down.

We have to make decisions all the time. Our lives are full of them, from the work we choose to the amount we save for retirement, to when, where and how we replenish our energy through socializing and play. How well we make them depends on developing, practising and mastering a consistent and reliable approach.

Reaching and keeping senior positions at work depend on our ability to make good decisions all the time: more interesting and more responsible work carries the rights to make more and wider-reaching decisions. The higher up any organization, the more difficult and more influential the decisions that are made.

But were any of us taught at school, college or work how to make better decisions?

This book, by Sharon Curry and Andrew St George, provides a very simple system for making good decisions, tried and tested in a wide variety of workplaces, and under extreme conditions with clients from military to health to commercial to consultancies to international governments. The process derives from the Royal Marines and military planning, fully extended and adapted to match the challenges of everyday lives. The process is underwritten by sound psychological principles - used right, it will never let you down.

About the Authors:

Andrew St George has an academic background (Cambridge, Harvard, Oxford) and a doctorate in Linguistics and Conversation Theory. He has held faculty positions at Harvard, Oxford, Columbia and is currently Associate Fellow at the Said Business School, Oxford. He works with the Royal Navy, the Army and the NHS, advises McKinsey & Co on Agility, and is a trained coach (Marshall Goldsmith) and Facilitator of Transformation (Aberkyn/McKinsey).

Sharon Curry is Partner and Executive Leadership Coach at the Trusted Executive Foundation, an Executive Coach, Innovation Expert and former Naval Officer. She coaches and facilitates leadership thinking in leading military, educational and commercial organisations globally including the NHS Leadership Academy, the Royal Navy, SAID Business School (UAE), Pfizer and Toyota.

Yodomo enables designer makers to share their skills and create additional revenue streams for their businesses. She is an advocate of the power and benefits of making with our hands.

She is listed as a Top 10 British Council UK Creative Entrepreneur on the Guardian Professional Club 100 list. She is on the Creative Economy British Council Pool of Experts.

The definitive guide to starting your dream business, for creative entrepreneurs.

Making a Living has been carefully crafted to support anyone looking for practical, hands-on advice and inspiring stories to motivate them to make their dream business into a reality.

Inspiring stories from bakers to florists, basket weavers to artists, bee-keepers to brewers, will bring bags of real world advice and inspiration for those wanting to take their first steps into this new artisanal economy.

With more time at home than ever before, the restorative distraction of crafts and making has seen a mainstream resurgence. So too has the desire to 'make a living' from creating handmade products to sell, or to sell our creative skills.

This new wave of at-home entrepreneurs are using Facebook and Instagram to promote their businesses, Etsy and Not on the High Street to sell their crafts and Paypal and Shopify to manage their payments. Technology-led businesses are transforming the way in which offline maker businesses are operating - and business is booming.

From the founder of Yodomo, the online learning platform for arts and crafts, and with chapters on market research, valuing and pricing your work, branding, marketing and sales, as well as accounting fundamentals and legal considerations, this is a step-by-step guide to getting your idea off the ground, either as a side hustle or as your next major career move.

Editor: Holly Bennion

Length: 160

US & Translation rights available

Finance for non-financial managers - succeed with just four numbers.

Finance doesn't have to be complicated. This book shows you how to make better, faster, financially sound business decisions using just four numbers.

Effective financial management is at the heart of every successful business but it can seem impenetrable to the non-financial manager; littered with spreadsheets, inexplicable charts and intricate formulae, all washed down with swathes of unintelligible jargon. In reality, successful financial management is all about the management of just these four figures.

Knowing what these four figures are, how they relate to each other and most importantly, how they can be managed, is the key to financial success. This is what David Meckin calls 'the 4 figure trick'. Almost every major business failure can be pinned down to the ineffective management of at least one of these critical figures.

Focusing on just four figures not only makes the world of financial management more accessible to the non-financial manager, it also greatly simplifies the decision-making process. Full of step-by-step guides, examples and illustrations, The 4 Figure Trick reveals a variety of practical managerial strategies that can significantly enhance the financial performance of any business.

About the Author:

David Meckin is managing director of Insight Financial Consulting and has over 20 years' commercial experience, including as finance director of a multinational. He is a qualified accountant, a Member of the Chartered Management Institute, and a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Bankers. He regularly delivers workshops and presents at conferences internationally, and his clients include FTSE-100 companies and household names worldwide.

THE 80/20 PRINCIPLE

RICHARD KOCH

Nicholas Brealey / April 2017

Editor: Iain Campbell

Length: 432

About the Author:

Richard Koch is a highly successful author, investor and entrepreneur, having made large returns from businesses as diverse as hotels, restaurants, personal organisers and consulting. A former partner at consulting firm Bain & Co, and co-founder of The LEK Partnership, the fastest growing and most profitable 'strategy boutique' of the 1980s, Richard now lives the 80/20 way between Gibraltar, Spain, Portugal and South Africa.

Millions of highly effective people have become more successful by understanding the simple fact that 80% of your results come from 20% of your efforts. All you have to do is identify the 20 percent that leads to 80 percent. The 80/20 Principle shows you how.

Richard Koch's million-copy-selling global bestseller is now completely revised and updated, and more powerful and essential than ever. He reveals how the principle works and shows how to use it in a systematic and practical way to vastly increase your effectiveness, and improve your career.

The unspoken corollary to the 80/20 principle is that little of what you spend your time on actually counts. But by concentrating on those things that do, you can unlock the enormous potential of the magic 20 percent. Discover how to identify the few methods that will lead to great results, and use them alone. Avoid hard work. Don't push water uphill. Be very selective in what you do. Have a great life.

80/20 is the essential tool for anyone who wants to succeed.

Be more effective with less effort by learning how to leverage the 80/20 principle.

The 10th Anniversary Edition of the Leadership Classic

The surprisingly common sense approach to leading a global company, based on a theoretical framework first used by the nineteenth-century Prussian Army.

For over a decade the approach known as 'mission command' has been taught at the leading HULT Ashridge International Business School and has been applied in transforming businesses as diverse as pharmaceuticals and F1 racing.

What do you want me to do? This question is the enduring management issue, a perennial problem that Stephen Bungay shows has an old solution that is counter-intuitive and yet highly practical. The Art of Action is a thought-provoking and fresh look at how managers can turn planning into execution, and execution into results.

Drawing on his experience as a consultant, senior manager and a highly respected military historian, Stephen Bungay takes a close look at the army which built its agility on the initiative of its highly empowered junior officers, to show business leaders how they can build more effective, productive organizations.

About the Author:

Stephen Bungay is a Director of the Ashridge Strategic Management Centre in London and teaches on several executive programmes at Ashridge Executive Education. After completing his studies at Oxford and the University of Tübingen, he worked in the London and Munich offices of The Boston Consulting Group for 17 years and now works as an independent consultant and teacher and is a sought-after conference speaker. The approach described in The Art of Action has been adopted by a wide range of his clients ranging from mid-cap digital technology companies to major global corporates. An acclaimed military historian, Stephen has published two books in that field, The Most Dangerous Enemy: A History of the Battle of Britain and Alamein, both with Aurum Press, and is a frequent contributor to television programmes, having appeared on Channel 4, Channel 5, BBC2, BBC4, and a range of satellite and cable channels around the world.

THE COURAGE TO ADVANCE

BONNIE HAGEMANN, LISA PENT AND THE MEMBERS OF THE WOMENEXECS ON BOARDS

Nicholas Brealey

December 2021

Editor: Holly Bennion

Length: 224

Getting to the top in Business is never straightforward, especially as a woman.

This powerful collection of stories reveals how the world's leading women in business have overcome some of life's biggest challenges to reach the top of their professions. This is a book written for every current and aspiring leader, revealing the things that leaders rarely talk about; the behind the scenes struggles.

The women in these stories are powerful, internationally diverse and have impressive leadership accomplishments. They were brought together through one unifying experience: they have all completed the Harvard Business School Women on Boards program, a course that has turned into a movement. Today there are over 130 members of the WomenExecs on Boards network, from 17 countries. This is the network where organisations go to find educated, prepared, qualified and diverse women for corporate board seats.

After reading this book you will be inspired to lead and make a difference for others whether it's running a company or leading a division, team, project, community event or your family and home. You will discover that you already have all you need to succeed when it gets hard, to never give up, and how to keep going through life's difficult and sometimes terrible challenges. These women want you to know that you are not alone, and that you can lean on the strength of those who have gone before you, keep leading and keep getting back up again.

About the Authors:

Bonnie Hagemann is a visionary leadership expert and the CEO of Executive Development Associates, a boutique consulting firm specialising in top-of-the-range executive development. She is called on as a subject matter expert for the media, including Forbes, Fast Company, The Wall Street Journal and CNN.

Lisa Pent is a financially literate FTSE 100 senior executive fluent in the worlds of Business Development, Finance, Governance, Strategy, Transformation, Innovation, and Product Lifecycle Management. Lisa sits on the board of the Wall Street Women's Alliance and was in the inaugural Class of Harvard Business School's Executive Education - Women on Boards: Succeeding as a Corporate Director programme.

WomenExecs on Boards is a global network of Women Prepared for Board Service at Harvard Business School with over 190 members from 23 countries. THE PROMISE OF GIANTS

JOHN AMAECHI OBE

Nicholas Brealey

July 2021

Editor: Holly Bennion

Length: 240

US & Translation rights available

"THE MOST UNLIKELY OF PEOPLE, IN THE MOST IMPROBABLE OF CIRCUMSTANCES, CAN BECOME EXTRAORDINARY."

From socio-political chaos and workplace disruption to the climate change crisis, we have never needed people with the skill and will to collaborate to create a better world more than now. We need people who are willing to fill the leadership void. People who will embrace the influence they have. People who believe in improving society and workplace culture - not only because it makes life better, but because it is proven to yield positive results. We need more leaders.

The Promises of Giants is a challenge to anyone who aspires to make a difference in their environment. Over fourteen promises, it seamlessly intertwines personal anecdotes and workplace and social observation with the latest research, to provide practical, proven tips and strategies to empower you to maximize your own potential and inspire others. It is not a self-help book. It is a how-to guide for winning, rooted in the belief that the most unlikely of people, in the most improbable of circumstances, can become extraordinary.

John Amaechi well understands the responsibilities and potential that come with being a giant. The Promises of Giants is the product of a life-time spent observing and studying effective leadership - from accompanying his mother's visits to her dying patients to competing at the highest levels of professional sport, through two decades of management consulting with multinational corporations. These experiences have shown that everyone has the ability to act decisively to influence the world in a positive way. Everyone is a giant to someone.

About the Author:

John Amaechi OBE is a respected organisational psychologist, New York Times best-selling author, sought after public speaker, executive coach and Founder of APS Intelligence Ltd. He is a non-executive director of a of a FTSE 250 food company and £2.4bn healthcare organisation in addition to being a board advisor for several FTSE100 organisations in the financial, legal and professional services, technology, publishing, engineering and retail sectors. John has been recognised as one of HR's most influential thinkers by HR Magazine. John is the first Briton to have a career in the NBA.

AVOIDING ANXIETY IN AUTISTIC ADULTS

LUKE BEARDON

Sheldon Press

December 2021

Editor: Victoria Roddam

Length: 144

US & Translation rights available

Are you an autistic adult? Do you love, live or work with an autistic adult? The incredible insights and practical strategies in this book will diminish your stress and anxiety if you are autistic, and will help your autistic loved one or colleague live well, flourish and thrive if you can improve and adjust their environment if you aren't.

One of the biggest challenges if you are an autistic adult (or suspect you might be) is navigating the situations which to the predominantly neuro-typical population might appear completely benign but which cause you huge stress, anxiety and worry.

At work, at university, in social situations, in friendships, relationships, in shops, in unfamiliar environments - there are a wealth of things that can make you feel overwhelmed if the world is full of things that you feel nobody else notices but which cause you huge distress.

Dr Luke Beardon has put together an optimistic, upbeat and readable guide that will be essential reading not just for any autistic adult, but for anyone who loves, lives with or works with an autistic person. Emphasising that autism is not behaviour, but at the same time acknowledging that there are risks of increased anxiety specific to autism, this practical book gives clear strategies that the autistic person can adopt to minimise their anxiety and live comfortably in a world full of what may seem to be noise and chaos.

At the same time, Avoiding Anxiety in Autistic Adults this book gives clear guidelines and mission statements to those who live or work with autistic people that they, too, can implement to accommodate needs that are different to their own, taking a radical new step towards a genuinely inclusive world in which autistic people don't just survive, but in which they thrive.

About the Author:

Dr Luke Beardon is Senior Lecturer in Autism at Sheffield Hallam University. He has published widely on autism and is renowned and respected for his uniquely inclusive, celebratory approach to helping autistic people thrive in a neuro-typical world. He works with government authorities to develop services and model best practice, in addition to being part of a research team, and has spoken at many national and international conferences on a variety of autism-related topics. He has won several awards for his work, including the National Autistic Society's Autism Professionals Award for achievement in 2016, and has won the Autism Hero Awards in two categories, including for Lifetime Achievement.

HOW TO HEAL YOUR INNER CHILD

Chinese Simplified (China Machine Press)

A recovery and growth handbook for anyone who feels empty - but doesn't know why.

Ten questions to ask yourself, right now:

- * Do you have a sense that something is wrong, but you don't know what it is?
- * Do you have a feeling that you are hollow inside, that you are empty or have a void within?
- * Do you react badly to rejection?
- * Do you often feel sad, unhappy or down for no obvious reason?
- * Would you describe yourself as highly sensitive?
- * Do you have problems with relationships and intimacy?
- * Do you engage in addictive behaviour - alcohol, drugs, gambling, shopping, food, sex, work, exercise?
- * Do you have low self-esteem or self-worth - are you not 'good enough'?
- * Do you have a sense of being numb to your feelings?
- * Do you rarely experience true joy and happiness?

If you have answered 'yes' to most of these questions, there is a strong chance you have experienced emotional neglect or trauma as a child. An emotionally neglected child may struggle to form strong and secure attachments as an adult. They may feel hollow or empty, worthless (or overly important), judge themselves harshly and struggle with addictive tendencies - drinking, eating or exercising too much, for example. If this describes you, Heal Your Inner Child will change your life and give you back the love, compassion and authenticity you needed as a child, and deserve as an adult.

Fomer heavy drinker turned sobriety coach Simon Chapple is - like you - a survivor of childhood trauma. His unique brand of straight-talking, practical yet reflective and relatable advice has helped thousands of people quit drinking, and he can help you now to move on from childhood emotional neglect to a place of happiness free from past trauma. How to Heal Your Inner Child is a stepped and safe approach to confronting your past, with space for reflective and supportive strategies that will help you to foster self-compassion and break free from the destructive behaviours that have blighted your life. Clinically endorsed and verified by a psychotherapist, this deeply personal, unflinchingly honest exploration is designed to unlock your own epiphany and support you as you journey to a happier, less troubled and more authentic self.

LIVING WITH TINNITUS AND HYPERACUSIS

DR LAWRENCE MCKENNA, PROFESSOR DAVID BAGULEY & DR DON MCFERRAN

Sheldon Press

September 2021

Editor: Victoria Roddam

Length: 160

US & Translation rights available

All the latest insight, research and practical advice on how to manage this distressing condition and the associated disorders of hyperacusis and misophonia.

Tinnitus can be a difficult and distressing condition to manage, and many people with tinnitus are currently left to fend for themselves.

Misophonia is an increasingly recognized, and equally distressing, condition which is likewise often overlooked by the medical profession, despite the acute anxiety it generates in those experiencing it.

However, prospects for recovery have never been better, based on recent advances in psychology, auditory neuroscience and medicine. Because tinnitus, hyperacusis and misophonia present very differently and idiosyncratically from individual to individual, self-help techniques can often be effective in minimizing the distress caused by these disorders, which can range from lack of sleep and irritability, to loss of concentration and confidence.

The latest edition of Living with Tinnitus and Hyperacusis looks at strategies for living with tinnitus, hyperacusis and misophonia, and includes a complete programme for recovery. It features the latest research from the fields of psychology, neuroscience and medicine to offer a full overview of the causes, impact, and most effective treatments available. It has practical advice on relaxation and sound therapy as well as insights into relieving the stress of auditory conditions.

About the Authors:

Laurence McKenna has worked as a clinical psychologist at the Royal National Throat Nose & Ear Hospital for the past 27 years. He is head of the team of psychologists working in the Adult Audiological Medicine Department treating patients with tinnitus and other audiovestibular disorders. David Baguley is Director of Audiology at Cambridge University Hospitals, UK. David's clinical and research interests focus on tinnitus, with the aim of understanding this symptom and designing novel and innovative interventions. Don McFerran is a consultant ear, nose and throat surgeon. He has worked as an ENT surgeon since 1983 and has a specific interest in tinnitus.

OVERCOMING PROCRASTINATION

If 'putting off until tomorrow the things you could do today' is disrupting your life and impacting your success and happiness, you need to buy and read this book - NOW.

Procrastinating, putting things off, delaying and obstructing progress - do these sound familiar to you?

They are all patterns of destructive or obstructive behaviour in a pressured world where progress is measured by results. Overcoming Procrastination, updated and modernized for 2021, demonstrates that change can only occur when we have a better understanding of our own emotions and motivations. It uses proven therapeutic techniques that centre around finding strategies for developing potential, and unlocking the door to a more effective and enriched life.

About the Author:

Windy Dryden is one of the leading practitioners and trainers in the UK in the Cognitive Behaviour Therapy (CBT) tradition of psychotherapy. He is best known for his work in Rational-Emotive Cognitive Behaviour Therapy (RECBT), a leading CBT approach. He has been working in the field of counselling and psychotherapy since 1975 and was one of the first people in Britain to be trained in CBT.

He has published over 200 books and has trained therapists all over the world, in as diverse places as the UK, the USA, South Africa, Turkey and Israel.

He is Emeritus Professor of Psychotherapeutic Studies at Goldsmiths University of London.

Ground-breaking and game-changing, Smashing Stereotypes gives parents a series of actionable, practical, easy to implement strategies to fight gender stereotypes and help your child become a positive agent for change.

- In 2013, Disney released its most egalitarian film to date - but 59% of all the lines in Frozen are spoken by male characters.
- 57% of children's books published annually have central male characters; just 31% have central female characters.

Raising your child beyond the limitations placed on them by gender is, let's face it, an uphill battle. If you don't know where to start, or how to start, you will find inspiration, insight and plenty of practical strategies in Smashing Stereotypes. From navigating the gendered constructs that dominate children's films, television and media generally, to choosing appropriate and stimulating toys beyond the binary divide, this accessible and relatable book will make the whole process much less daunting.

Based on interviews with, and research by, some of the best thought-leaders from the fields of psychology, neuroscience and education, the insights in this book will not only open the eyes of any parent or caregiver, they will inspire you to help your child to look at the world in a critical, creative and empowered way. Free from the restraints of the stereotypes that surround gender, your child has the opportunity to reach their true potential - and this is the book that you need to launch them on that journey.

About the Author:

Virginia Mendez is a mother of two and the co-founder of www.thefeministshop.com. She is the author of two books for children on gender, and consent. As a children's author, she has spoken to over 2000 school children, promoting critical thinking and inviting them to understand what is behind their already-formed ideas about things being for boys and things being for girls. MOVE BETTER, FEEL BETTER - TREATING ARTHRITIS THE NATURAL WAY

Hundreds of thousands of people with arthritis have been helped by the Margaret Hills Clinic and by Margaret's bestselling books, Treating Arthritis: The Drug Free Way and The Treating Arthritis Diet Book. This companion title, completely updated with new exercises, routines and the latest insights into arthritis and joint function, offers a full program to help restore mobility and flexibility for those who are struggling with pain or discomfort.

Embracing the simple principles that make the Margaret Hills drug-free protocol so effective, this book will give stepped and manageable exercises that work to improve fitness and function in anyone experiencing inflammation or pain. You don't need to be fit, athletic or flexible to derive benefits from this book, no special equipment is necessary, and you can commit as little (or as much) time as fits your routine. Used in conjunction with the diet and lifestyle management from the companion titles above, you can significantly improve not only your physical condition but also your mental and emotional wellbeing.

About the Author:

The late Margaret Hills, SRN, trained at St Stephen's Hospital, London. She developed osteoarthritis and rheumatoid arthritis as a young woman, but went on to finish her nurse's training, marry, have eight children and pursue a long career as an industrial nurse. She developed her own method of natural treatment for arthritis, clearing all her symptoms and subsequently opened her Clinic in the early 1980s by public demand. Many thousands of people worldwide contacted her for advice on how to alleviate their symptoms of arthritis.

Christine Horner, ECNP, is a Nutritional Medicine practitioner and, having gained valuable experience working alongside Margaret for many years, was able to continue the work of the Clinic on her mother's retirement. Her constant research for safe ways to overcome the debilitating pain her patients are suffering has led her to adding photobiomodulation using coherent cold laser light, and adaptive electrotherapy, InterX, Scenar and Cosmodic, to help improve tissue repair, reduce inflammation and restore the body's homeostasis so as to regain health and mobility as quickly as possible.

UNDERSTANDING HOARDING

JO COOKE

If you are living with, are close to, or are yourself someone who is hoarding, you'll know that the disorder goes far deeper than most people realise, affecting the whole family and presenting huge challenges to the physical, mental, emotional and even financial wellbeing of anyone involved.

Jo Cooke is Director of one of the UK's leading support services for people affected by hoarding and clutter, and has written this sensitive and empathetic book to help anyone experiencing hoarding difficulties. She gives insight into Hoarding Disorder - explaining what it is and, importantly, what it isn't - and what may trigger hoarding. There are strategies for how to assess the scale of situation and lay the groundwork to address it, and insights into who can help and how they can do it.

An 8 step-plan gives practical steps to tackle the hoarding, supported by suggestions for what to do with the 'stuff', and advice on safeguarding - as well as techniques to support the hoarder as they attempt to stay clutter-free. There is space in the book for individuals and their own stories of hoarding, giving an empowering voice to people affected by the condition, and replacing the morbid curiosity that often accompanies it.

With plenty of information on resources and therapies that can help, this is a warm and hugely practical guide that can only help anyone affected in any way by hoarding.

About the Author:

Jo Cooke is director of Hoarding Disorders UK and an accredited member of the Association of Professional Declutterers and Organisers (APDO). Her previous career included working for various charities and the Civil Service.
