FOR AGES 6+ so the whole family can play together and learn how women have changed the world

This exciting card game lets children discover the women from history behind objects we use every day - from GPS to Jenga - as well as the pioneers who changed lives through science and technology, the modern inventors revolutionising the way we do things today, and even the 20th-century chef who came up with the chocolate-chip cookie. With a booklet that details all the fascinating stories behind the inventions and their creators' lives, this family game will get you talking about women who changed the world as you play time and time again.

GLADYS WEST

BORN: 1930
NATIONALITY: US
INVENTION: GPS (GLOBAL POSITIONING SYSTEM)

A brilliant mathematician, Gladys came from a poor African American family and had to study hard to win a scholarship to college. She later worked for the US Naval Proving Ground as one of only four African American employees, and only the second Black woman. Part of her job was to use data from satellites to calculate the exact shape of the Earth. Her findings led to the development of GPS (the Global Positioning System), a way of navigation used widely today via mobile phones and satnavs.

RACHEL ZIMMERMAN

BORN: 1972
NATIONALITY: CANADIAN
INVENTION: BLISSYMBOL PRINTER

From an early age, Rachel loved science. At just 12 years old, she invented a computer program for Blissymbols – symbols used by people who have trouble speaking. The user points to the symbols on a touchpad, then a special printer prints them out as writing. Rachel came up with her program for a school science project, but it soon became famous around the world. She won awards for her invention, and went on to study physics and space technology at university. Today, she works for NASA in California.

Carbon City Zero: A Collaborative Board Game

It's time to stop competing and work together to create carbon zero cities: we're in this together so in this game either everyone wins, or everyone loses...

PLAY AND LEARN: learn about climate action as you play this new board game for all the family

SCREEN-FREE FUN for 2-4 players aged 8 and up

SOMETHING TO TREASURE: this is a quality product made to last, with bespoke illustration and stylish packaging (on FSC stocks)

Carbon City Zero is a collaborative climate action game in which players develop a sustainable city by greening transport, transforming industries, getting citizens on board and showing world leaders how it's done. Each player starts with an identical deck, buying additional cards from a shared marketplace to create a more sustainable city. Balancing the need to generate income with reducing carbon, you can follow numerous paths to victory, but collaboration is key. You'll need to bring together governments, industries and the public. And if you can't bring carbon levels to zero before it's too late, everybody loses. The stakes couldn't be higher.

Carroll's Alice in Wonderland.
It fascinated me the first time
I read it as a schoolboy.
Who said this?

Emperor Hirohito

Salvador Dali

Walt Disney

But Dali produced 12 paintings based on Alice in 1960.

Charade

*Alice tries the key she finds in a number of locks but it doesn't work - until at last she spots a curtain hanging across a door.
Pulling it back she sees a little door, and the key works in this. As the door opens she sees beyond 'The loveliest garden
you ever saw'.*

Why does the Mad Hatter think his watch is not working properly?

Because nobody has been watching it

Because it's perfectly rude

Because there's butter in it

But only the best butter, and some crumbs too.

Chamomile

Chamaemelum nobile (syn. Anthemis nobilis)
English chamomile, wild chamomile

Symbols: Energy in adversity, relaxation

Chamomile has been found in archaeological explorations of Neolithic sites, suggesting that its usefulness has been known since the earliest days of human existence. Pungent herb (Latin: anaesthetica) can be substituted as a less therapeutic version of chamomile.

Wild and garden harvest

Both species can be used interchangeably. Cut the flower heads off the stems one day when they are fully open and use them fresh... or dry them. It can be found in most well-tended ground, but take care to pick from clean environments.

In the kitchen and medicine cabinet

Chamomile flowers are really only used for chamomile tea, the bitterness of which can be sweetened with honey. It is relaxing to the mind but also soothing for digestion, so is ideal as the last cup of herbal tea for the day. Also, notably, steep the flowers in an evening bath - their mild blue essential oil (oil) are emollient and anti-inflammatory for dry skin conditions. Chamomile tea used as a hair rinse will lighten the hair color in blonde hair. It is said to ensure good luck and attract money - superstitious gamblers wash their hands with chamomile before playing.

Things To Do Outdoors - 100 Play Prompts: 100 creative ideas to keep little ones entertained all day long

With 100 activities to inspire and excite when you're out and about, there's everything from simple and silly things to distract kids for ten minutes to crafts and experiments that will keep them entertained all afternoon.

Embrace the outdoors and ...

Learn about nature with scavenger hunts, the match box challenge or snail racing.

Get creative with chalk paints, moon sand and wellie fashion.

Hunt for dinosaur eggs, take a penny hike or make a potion lab.

Things To Do Indoors - 100 Play Prompts: 100 creative ideas to keep little ones entertained all day long

With 100 activities to inspire and excite when you're stuck inside, there's everything from simple and silly things to distract kids for ten minutes to crafts and experiments that will keep them entertained all afternoon.

Embrace the indoors and ...

Get creative with slime, goop and bath bombs.

Channel your inner scientist with lava bottles, erupting volcanoes and magic drinks.

Make a time capsule, have a Yes day, or build a tape town.

'I'm bored' must be the most frightening words in a child's vocabulary, and how to keep kids entertained is something that keeps many of us awake at night.

100 Things to Do Outdoors is a collection of games, activities, prompts and projects to keep little and not-so-little ones focused, busy and happy. From simple and silly things to distract them for ten minutes to crafts and experiments to keep them entertained for an afternoon, there's a boredom buster for everyone.

Pick a play prompt strip to give you all the inspiration you need whether you're a parent, a grandparent, a childcare worker or simply the one in charge of a child for a day! Not every activity will suit your day - or their mood - so just turn the stick over or choose another one from the pot.

If you don't know how to make moon sand, chalk paints or giant bubbles, no problem. There's a handy booklet with all the instructions you'll need for all sorts of projects. Whilst there are plenty of ideas for solo play, there are plenty more things for you to join in with, as well as group activities that will work well for bigger families and parties.

The activities are written with children aged 3-8 years in mind but it's your call as to how much help, support and age-appropriate supervision they might need ... make whatever adjustments are necessary.

Have fun!

You're home alone with an entirely free day ahead of you.

Do you...

A Spend the day re-organizing your cupboards and doing the chores you don't usually have time for

B Do a bit of tidying and organizing but spend the rest of the day relaxing

C Sit back and relax - there's nothing better than a whole day to yourself to chill out

SELF

It's 1am and you are on the way home from an event that your partner took you to.

You didn't know many of the people there.

Do you...

A Feel invigorated by having met so many new people - you're already planning to meet up with some of them again

B Feel happy you went, but ready for some alone time now

C Feel drained - you've had your fill of new people for a while

RELATIONSHIPS

Your new roommate has a habit of leaving the bathroom floor wet.

You've almost slipped a few times. This has been happening for a couple of weeks.

Do you...

A Keep wiping the floor after they've finished - you feel too awkward about saying anything

B Plan to discuss it with them at some point when a conversation on cleaning comes up naturally

C Tell them that it bothers you the next time you see them

RELATIONSHIPS

You have organized a meeting to kick off a new project and get the team working on it feeling excited.

Do you...

A Take them through the larger vision tied to the project - you want to ignite big-picture thinking rather than getting into details

B Discuss the origin of the project and then give a brief overview of the key stages

C Briefly outline the aims of the project before getting into detail about the timeline, roles and deliverables

Get in touch with your deepest self through the process of shadow work in this vibrantly illustrated oracle deck and guidebook set. Shadow work—the exploration of the darker side of oneself and the world—is often misunderstood. It is not about hiding in the darkness, but instead about a rewarding process of self-transformation unlocked by understanding all facets of yourself. In The Oracle of Pluto artist Rose Ides and author Aubrey Houdeshell use Plutonian archetypes to guide the user through the process of shadow work. Whimsical illustrations that nod to shadow puppetry enhance the process of unearthing this other side of ourselves, allowing for potent transformations for seekers of all kinds.

This set includes:

- * 55 full-colour oracle cards. These vibrantly illustrated cards (3 X 5") depict images of hands projecting shadow puppets of archetypes like the Crow, the Tiger, and the Spider.
- * A 112-page paperback guidebook. This enclosed guide will help the user get in touch with their undiscovered self through the themes of self-awareness, shadow, transformation, empowerment, evolution and integration.
- * Magnetic closure case. This durable magnetic closure case is perfectly sized for travel or display, and holds the paperback book and cards securely in dedicated sleeves.

A gorgeously illustrated, complete deck of 78 tarot cards and accompanying guidebook for the user to fully colour in, blending the widespread and growing appeal of tarot with the continuing trends of customization and adult colouring and activity projects.

A complete deck of 78 tarot cards and an accompanying guidebook, gorgeously illustrated in rich, original line art that evokes the classic Rider-Waite designs, all ready for you to colour in, customize, and bring to life.

- A comprehensive, classic deck and guidebook: The 78 cards in this deck feature the Major and Minor Arcana in beautiful, simple black line art reminiscent of the classic Rider-Waite tarot deck illustrations, and the guidebook includes the meanings of each card and information on how to pull and read cards and spreads.

- Complete set: This set includes 78 colourable illustrated cards (3 x 5 inches), shrink wrapped and housed in a card box; an 112-page, colourable illustrated paperback book (3 x 5 inches); a full-colour folded poster insert of suggested colour palettes (6 x 10 inches); and a keepsake magnetic closure box (3-1/2 x 5-3/8 inches).

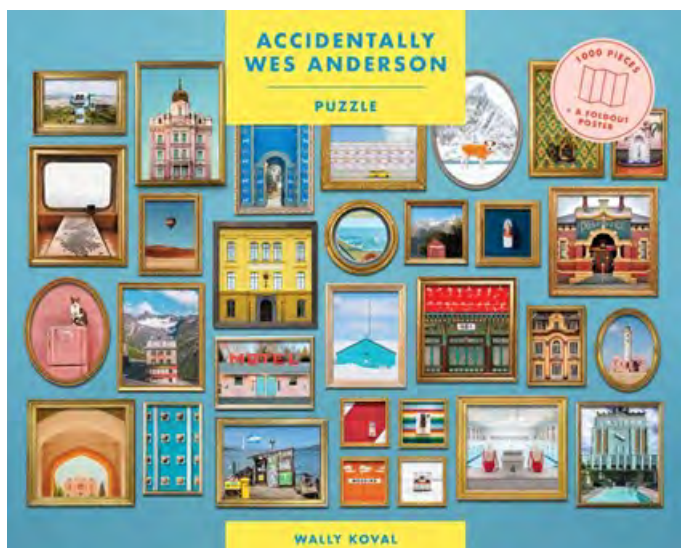

- Ideal format for colouring: The cards and guidebook are printed on thick, uncoated paper stock ideal for colouring with pencils, watercolour, pens, markers, or your medium of choice, and the guidebook contains information on colouring basics for beginners.

- Includes a primer on colour magic: Many magical practitioners believe in the magical properties and intentions of different parts of the colour spectrum, and the guidebook includes information on these meanings to guide the user's colour choices.

Accidentally Wes Anderson Jigsaw Puzzle

An irresistible 1000-piece puzzle keepsake for fans of the New York Times bestselling Accidentally Wes Anderson book and anyone who can't get enough of Wes Anderson's unique aesthetic.
