About the NIV

More than sixty years after the vision was cast – and more than 600 million copies later – the New International Version (NIV) is the most widely read modern English Bible translation in the world. That's because the NIV delivers the very best combination of accuracy and readability. Hodder & Stoughton has been publishing the NIV Bible in British English since the translation was created over forty years ago. We are committed to serving the church with the widest possible range of NIV Bibles at affordable prices. We hope you enjoy reading about these in more detail in this catalogue.

The NIV was always intended to be a translation which changes and develops in line with contemporary language usage and biblical scholarship. As you may know, the NIV was revised and updated in 2011 for the first time in 25 years. The majority of what has changed involves comparatively minor matters of vocabulary, sentence structure and punctuation. Other changes reflect advances in biblical scholarship over the last three decades. All these revisions aim to move the NIV from the English of 1984 to the English of the twenty-first century and are the decisions of the Committee on Bible Translation (CBT) – an independent and self-governing body comprised of renowned biblical scholars from across the evangelical spectrum, who meet annually to review the text. Further information about the translation and the work of the CBT can be found at www.biblica.com.

For children

A photograph of two children, a boy and a girl, lying on their stomachs on a dark wooden floor inside a white tent. The boy, on the left, is wearing a light grey long-sleeved shirt and is eating popcorn from a white bowl. The girl, on the right, has long dark curly hair tied in a bun and is wearing a dark blue tank top. She is pointing at a colorful illustration of a butterfly in an open Bible. The tent's interior is visible, with its white fabric walls and a small orange and blue pom-pom hanging from the top. The background shows a brick wall.

It is so important to start introducing the Bible to children at a young age. Our range of children's Bibles includes Christening gift Bibles for marking a baptism or dedication; Bibles for adults and children to read together, and Bibles for older children to begin to read and study for themselves.

NIV Pew Bibles

The NIV Pew Bibles are available in blue and burgundy hardback editions.

Inside both, the Scriptures are set out clearly and legibly in two columns, using a readable 9pt font which makes following along with the Bible reading very easy.

At the front you will find several pages of helpful information such as an alphabetical list of the books of the Bible, signposted passages for help and guidance and a list of well-known biblical characters and events. The maps on the endpapers show the changes in Holy Land topography from Abraham to Paul. Page numbers match those of the Lectern Bible and both the Larger Print Pew Bibles on p.42.

Larger Print Pew Bibles

In every congregation there will be members for whom the text in the standard-sized NIV pew Bibles is too small to be read comfortably. To meet this need, we have enlarged our pew editions to create the NIV Larger Print Hardback Bibles in blue and burgundy. Both of these are identical in design and contents to the existing pew Bibles, just with larger, 11pt text. The page numbers therefore also match those found in the standard pew editions.

To listen to

Listening to the Bible as an audiobook can be an enjoyable and beneficial way of absorbing Scripture, especially if you learn more by hearing than by reading. It can also help us to cover more of the Bible than we normally would through reading, and we can combine listening with other activities – such as driving the car, or washing up.

The Complete NIV Audio Bible

Ever since he became a Christian at the age of forty, it was Poirot actor David Suchet's dream to make an audio recording of the whole Bible. In between filming the final episodes of Poirot, David Suchet spent over 200 hours in the recording studio to create the very first full-length audio version of the NIV Bible spoken by a single British actor.

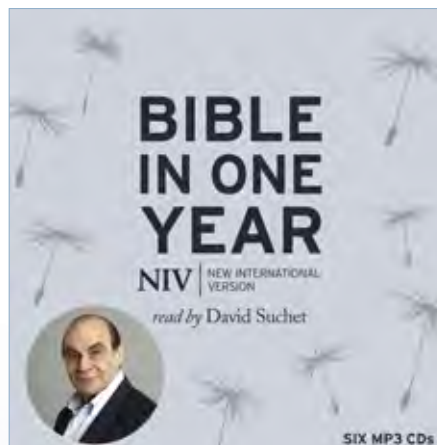

This recording, and the Bible in One Year version, are available on MP3 CD and as audio digital downloads. The MP3 CDs can be used on any device that displays the MP3 symbol. You can transfer the audio files for your personal use onto your computer, smartphone, MP3 player and other compatible devices.

THE INTERNATIONAL BIBLE SOCIETY

The NIV is owned by Biblica, a charity that provides accurate, contemporary Bible translations and formats so that more people around the world will have the opportunity to be transformed by Jesus Christ.

Since 1809, Biblica has translated the Bible into more than 100 languages and produced more than 650 million Scripture resources. The charity also offers programmes and resources to help engage people more deeply in Scripture for life application and transformation.

Royalties from all Hodder Faith's sales of the NIV Bible help Biblica in their work of translating and distributing Bibles around the world.

For bookshops

NIV Bible Stockist Scheme

At Hodder Faith we understand how complex buying a Bible can be, and the importance of a well-stocked range in aiding that decision. In order to support Christian bookshops in their mission to serve their customers, the NIV Bible Stockist Scheme can help ensure that your shop is the first and only stop when making an NIV Bible purchase.

Hodder Faith will provide a range of benefits to all bookshops that agree to become NIV Bible Stockists, including extra discount, exclusive Bible promotions, free point-of-sale material and more. In turn, NIV Stockists are expected to keep constant stock of a selected core list of Bibles plus a choice from the wider range, as well as displaying the NIV collection in your shop using the POS material supplied.
